DISCUSS SLAIN GIRL IMBECILE

State Asserts Blazer Woman Possessed Soul

normal?" the Prosecuting Attorney asked.

"Seemingly so," was the reply.

"What were his actions?"

"What did he say when you asked what had happened?"

"He couldn't talk."

"Did you ask him later?"

"Yes, and he said he didn't know what happened."

"So Dr. Blazer was normal previous to the time of the crime?"

"Well, he did little queer things that we didn't think anything of."

"Anything in particular on the day Hazel was killed?"

"Yes, he tood a meat chopper and threw it into the wash tub despite my admonitions not to do so."

NOTES PRESENTED

When Dr. H. H. Aldredge, the Englewood physician who was called to attend Blazer after the crime was discovered, took the stand, the State introduced in evidence two notes, found in the Blazer home.

One read.

"Dear daughter: I am very weary and afraid—afraid of being taken suddenly and leaving Hazel. I know my blood pressure is very high. I made up my mind a great number of years ago I would not leave her behind. She is a burden notwithstanding our love for her. I have never been even partially reconciled to your mother being taken away.

"With great love,

"Dad."

The other said in part:

"Do not pay an undertaker more than $100 for casket and his services for the two of us. Either have the ashes interred or scatter them on a windy day.

"Dad."

Dr. Aldridge testified that Dr. Blazer was in a stupor when he arrived to attend him. He said he thought Dr. Blazer had swallowed poison, and gave him an antidote.

THROAT SLASHED

The witness testified that he was called back later to the Blazer home at 2 o'clock the following morning. He said he found Blazer lying in the bathtub with his throat slashed.

"Did you do it?" he asked Blazer, the witness said.

Blazer replied "yes," Aldredge testified.

"He seemed in a stupor throughout," Dr. Aldredge said, "and refused to let me wrap the wound, which, however, was not serious."

Dr. Aldredge completed his testimony as court recessed for the day.

Prosecutor Stone announced that experts to testify as to the sanitay of Dr. Blazer will take the stand as first witnesses tomorrow. Following them will come Mrs. Frances Bishop, daughter of the defendant, he said.

Lewis Der Mowry, chief of defense counsel, did not make a statement to the jury, saying that he will reserve his opening remarks until the State has rested its case.

LOS ANGELES MAN FACES THEFT CHARGE

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

HANFORD, Nov. 6.—Fred Shearer of Los Angeles is accused of stripping parts from the Stratford school bus left standing on the highway, and is out on bonds awaiting hearing. L. J. Switzer, the bus driver, ran out of gas and walked to the Irigary ranch, less than half a mile away to replenish. On his return to the car with two men from the ranch, Switzer states he found Shearer, who had driven up in a small coupe, stripping the bus of parts. When the men came up, Shearer dropped everything, got into his car and fled at fifty-five miles an hour. The pursuers obtained his license number, when Shearer stopped, pulled a gun on them, so they state, and dared them to come and get him. Constable Roy Martin suspected the man was in the oil fields west of Stratford and arrested Shearer at the Associated Oil rig in the Kettleman Hills.

DELIVERY OF FRENCH TAX PLAN WAITS

Painleve Continues Study of Text, But Little Change in Proposals Expected

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

PARIS, Nov. 6.—M. Painleve, French premier and Minister of Finance, did not hand his financial plan for restoring the position of the French treasury to M. Herriot, president of the chamber of deputies, and make known its contents to the newspapers tonight as he had intended. Instead he decided to make a further study of its text.

An official of the Ministry of Finance said tonight that there would be no fundamental changes in the plan as already outlined. Preliminary information is that the plan calls for a sinking fund to be derived through a 40 per cent increase in the taxes on all securities and a small increase in the tax on incomes.

M. Painleve is declared to be hopeful of raising between sixty and sixty-five billion francs in fifteen years by this means.

The finance ministry official said the premier is desirous that the finance committees of the Senate and Chamber should have an adequate opportunity to study the measure before its text is made known to the general public.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PARIS, Nov. 6. — The Chamber of Deputies this evening fixed Monday afternoon for the opening of the critical debate on Premier Painleve's financial program, which is expected to decide the fate of the present government. Deputy Malvy, president of the Chamber Finance Commission, announced that Premier Painleve submitted his fiscal proposals this evening for the commission's examination before their presentation to the Chamber. The financial debate will occupy most of the Chamber's attention next week.

The franc held quite steady on the Paris Bourse today, although it closed a few points lower to the dollar and the pound than yesterday. The official closing was 25.06 to a dollar and 121.05 to the pound.

ly received than the happily chosen words of J. M. Elliott, chairman of the First National Bank of Los Angeles and dean of California bankers. Mr. Elliott regularly makes the pilgrimage to the Arizona convention and is a familiar figure to the bankers of this State.

Both Thomas Armstrong, Jr., president of the National Bank of Arizona, Phoenix, and C. J. Walters, president of the Arizona Bankers' Association, spoke of the mutuality of interests between the bankers of California and Arizona. The former, in his address of welcome to the delegates and visitors, referred to the natural economic ties that bind the two States together, while the latter mentioned especially the formation of agricultural credit organizations in which California and Arizona capital is combined.

The program in the afternoon session was devoted to the discussion of agriculture, mining and wool. Ralph S. Hawkins, agronomist, University of Arizona, spoke on "The Agriculture Situation;" Charles F. Wills, publisher of The Mining Journal, on "The Mining Industry," and A. A. Johns, president, Arizona Wool Growers, on "The Situation in the Wool Industry."

STUDENT TAKEN AS BANDIT

Dapper Youth in Quest of Thrill, Held With Two Companions, Confesses Hold-ups

Charles Delpsch, 20 years of age, a bespectacled youth from the University of Minnesota, late yesterday afternoon finally found the thrill which he had sought at the point of a gun. But he may have to pay a rather heavy price, detectives says.

The youth came here from Minnesota several months ago. He had found study monotonous and work more so. Money he did not need, apparently, detectives said, but he ached with his whole being for a real thrill.

With Al Spencer, 24 years of age, according to confessions obtained from both, he set out to create a crime wave. They decided the best way to find the thrill was to hold up stores in the downtown district while the streets were choked with pedestrian and vehicular traffic.

GOT NO THRILL

Their plan worked successfully, but the thrill wasn't forthcoming. They robbed a haberdasher in the heart of the business district while hundreds of people were passing the store, but Delpsch's heart beat no faster and his interest did not mount.

They decided to try again late yesterday afternoon. This time they picked the haberdashery store of M. Mirich at 630 West Sixth street. They entered as usual, both gripping revolvers, and took $39 from the cash register.

Then they walked out and lost themselves in the crowd. But they became separated. A few minutes later Delpsch strolled nonchalantly in front of the store looking for his companion. He was recognized, and there and then got his thrill.

TAKEN AFTER CHASE

A wild chase through the pedestrian-clogged streets followed. It ended at a parking station near Seventh and Hope streets, where Delpsch was cornered by Traffic Officer E. G. Brown and arrested.

"Well, I've finally got my thrill," Delpsch confessed to the City Jail. "I'm glad you got me, though. If you hadn't I'd still want to be thrilled and I might have killed someone."

Spencer was arrested a short time later and also made a full confession, the detectives said.

Delpsch later told police he had a second confederate who had taken part in several of the hold-ups which he had engineered. On information given them, Lieutenants Ryan, Finn and O'Connor took in custody Jack Perryman, 19, near Sixth and Main streets. Perryman confessed to the hold-ups as quickly as did Delpsch and Spencer.

LIST OF HOLD-UPS

The hold-ups admitted by the trio are, according to the police, as follows:

October 27. Grand avenue Toggery, 808 South Grand avenue, E. Sharpe, proprietor; $34 taken.

October 30. Tony Abdnour, haberdasher, 215½ South Spring street. In this hold-up Delpsch's gun was taken away from him by Abdnour, the bandits escaping without obtaining any money.

STRIKERS GET RISE, MADE WAR MINISTER

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

VIENNA, Nov. 6.—The strike of 7000 Vienna bakers, which began four days ago, was ended today by the granting of a 5 per cent increase in the men's wages. The increase is to be added to the price of bread. A 20 per cent wage increase had been asked.

FLEET TRIP BENEFITED SCIENTISTS

Tests of Sea Temperature Made on Cruise Said to be Aid in Oceanography

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 6.—The recent cruise and maneuvers of the United States Fleet in Pacific waters did much more than contribute to the science of naval warfare and to cement the friendship of Americans with Australia and New Zealand, it developed today at a conference of oceanographers and meteorologists at the Scripps Institution of Oceanography at La Jolla.

Dr. G. F. McEwen, physical oceanographer of the institution, said that before the Pacific cruise, tests of water temperature between San Francisco and Australia made available by merchant ships averaged one test for every six miles, but now facts are available on thirty-two tests a mile for that route. The fleet, he said, made more than 2300 tests on its cruise. From these observations Dr. McEwen said he hopes to be able to compute the velocity of surface drift, an important factor in meteorological studies.

Fog on the Pacific Coast cannot be predicted with any degree of certainty, said Dean Blake, meteorologist of the San Diego Weather Bureau. He said, however, that with the co-operation of the naval air service, important advances are soon to be expected in that field of prediction.

Maj. E. H. Bowie of the San Francisco Weather Bureau said the nemesis of the California weatherman is a large area, some hundreds of miles offshore from San Francisco and Seattle, where high barometric pressure prevails. This area changes position and shape so fast that it upsets many carefully made calculations.

The conference will end tomorrow.

Clara Phillips's Aide in Escape Seeks Damages

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

ROCHESTER (Minn.) Nov. 6.—M. D. Halloran, Rochester attorney, announced today he has been retained by Jesse Carson, kidnaper of Clara Phillips, hammar murderess, from the Los Angeles jail, to institute suit against Fawcett Publications of Minneapolis to recover more than $3,000,000 for asserted infringement of certain copyrights he holds.

According to Halloran, Carson, who is here recovering from an operation, sold Fawcett Publications the story of his adventurers in the Phillips case. The story was to have been published exactly as he submitted it, he said, but when it appeared it had been rewritten, he charges, to such an extent that it made him appear in an unfavorable light.

It was to be published, he said, under the title of "The Escape and Capture of Clara Phillips," but it appeared under the title of "How I Stole Clara Phillips from Jail."

OPEN-SHOP AIM IS MADE CLEAR

Fair Play Purpose Told by Conference Speakers

State Vocational Training Commissioner Ricciardi were the speakers. F. M. White, president of the San Diego association, presided.

C. A. Fults, manager of the Los Angeles Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association, invited the conferees to be guests of the Los Angeles organization at a luncheon in the Biltmore Monday noon, and many of them indicated that they will accept the invitation.

"America suffers an urgent need for skilled men in nonprofessional callings," Commissioner Ricciardi said in addressing the diners. "Immigration control has cut down the supply and we must train men for greater production in trades and crafts.

"More than 50 per cent of those who enter high school in California drop out before beginning the third year of high school work. It is to the training of these that we are devoting our attention. It is not altogether a school problem. It is a community problem to train them for industry, trades and crafts."

Commissioner Ricciardi told of the work being done in Los Angeles by the Frank Wiggins Trade School, a part of the public-school system, along this line. Employers, tradesmen and material men co-operate in this institution, he explained.

PROPAGANDA HIT

Mr. Rees said in his address that advocates of the open shop should be on the alert against what he said were efforts of labor union representatives to create an atmosphere favorable to it in the public schools. He advised careful scrutiny of text-books for propaganda intended to create class consciousness.

"The public school," Rees said, "is the sanctuary of American ideals and should be protected."

"In this conflict over the open or closed shop," Mr. Boynton said, "the question is whether the American business man is going to give as much weight to American principles and ideals as he is going to give to the American dollar."

He advocated that business men take more interest in politics or at least be alert to realize the activities of unions in politics.

Business men and industrial leaders were called upon by many of the speakers at the conference to consider the principle of the open shop when tempted by immediate profits to weaken in their support of it.

"As American citizens," William H. Barry of the Los Angeles Master Printers' Association said, "it is up to us to consider the principle of this thing and give it support. Immediate profit may overshadow it for a time but in the long run a condition is effected which we see today in the deplorable labor situations in England and Australia."

"Individual enterprise has made this country what it is," Jess N. Vollmer of the Employers' Printing Association of Chicago said, "and when we stifle individual enterprise by collectivism we stifle our country."

One employer reporting conditions in the metal trades gave instances of employers not being able to employ or discharge an employee without permission from the business agent of the union where closed-shop methods were dominant. He said a change from closed to open-shop conduct of business often has increased production as high as 100 per cent without working employees unreasonably. Building contractors particularly complained of being distressed by closed-shop conditions.

TELLS ESSENTIALS

"High wages, competent craftsmen and high profits go hand in hand," H. Kilig Hathaway, consulting engineer for the San Francisco Industrial Association, told the conferees. He advocated application of scientific management and improvement of working conditions as essentials to success in conduct of an open shop.

"It is the purpose of education to provide future citizens with the right point of view," H. C. Johnson, superintendent of San Diego city schools, said in a short speech in the conference. He was speaking of the need for understanding between employers and employees. Much the same idea was stressed by Commissioner Riccardi, who said: "It is not enough for us to turn out efficient craftsmen; we must turn out craftsmen with a co-operative spirit."

"A workman procuring a job from an employers' association employment bureau," Paul Eliel, secretary of the San Francisco Industrial Association, said, "should get more than a job. He should know that the organization stands behind him as good treatment and support as the union employee has."

Eliel's statement was made while reading a report of the conference employment bureau committee which demanded the fairest of treatment and good wages for persons so employed.

COURT RECOMMENDED

Some of the mid-western speakers at the conference recommended Federal courts instead of State courts wherever possible, if it becomes necessary to carry any labor dispute to a court of law. One speaker put it this way:

"Federal judges are on the bench for life and are independent; State judges sometimes are inclined to keep in mind their chances for re-election."

Another speaker declared that occasionally a union after effecting a closed-shop condition will form an affiliation with the employer to stifle competition and its beneficial results.

"One of the jobs of the open-shop movement," Vollmer said, "is to make the public understand how much the consuming public has to pay annually to support labor unions."

He said the tax so levied by the organizations directly and indirectly on the public is as great as that required to run the government of the United States.

Telegrams professing interest in the meeting were received by the conference from St. Paul, Denver, Joplin, Shreveport, Beaumont and Dallas.

Juarez Paper Issues Special Edition on All Souls' Day

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

JUAREZ (Mex.) Nov. 6. An opportunity to read one's own obituary is given the residents of Juarez once each year on All Souls' Day. A special edition of a local paper is issued each year called The Skulls and it contains elaborately written obituaries of all the prominent citizens, including the Mayor, alderman, Chief of Police and business men. These are sold on the streets by newsboys and are in great demand.

The issue this year contained, among the death notices of other prominent citizens, that of Senor Jose Cuervo, one of the most popular Mexican residents, that being the name of a popular brand of tequila sold here.

GOVERNOR WILLING TO HEAR FACTS

Expresses Readiness to Review Chisholm Parole; Board Head Ouster Rumor

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 6.—Gov. Richardson has expressed a willingness to review the parole of Dr. L. C. Chisholm, whose release from Folsom penitentiary after having served thirteen years of a life sentence for murder, was one of the causes of the controversy that has involved members of the prison board in a maelstrom of rumor.

Coincident with word of the Governor's attitude in this instance, there came today more rumors, one being that George A. Van Smith, president of the board, will be requested to resign immediately upon his return to San Francisco from a trip begun just as the storm started by the parole of Chisholm and Everett Hutchings (Big Hutch) was gaining its greatest volume.

The resignation rumor originated in Sacramento, and went so far as to say that unless the resignation is forthcoming voluntarily, it will be forced.

The Governor's willingness to review the Chisholm parole was made in a letter to Dist.-Atty. Hoyle of Sonoma county, where Chisholm was convicted.

Lack of Water Threatens City With Disaster

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

VANCOUVER (B. C.) Nov. 6.—Stave Lake power plant of the British Columbia Electric Company, which serves this city with all its electric light and power, is shut down. The one steam plant is straining to carry the load. Officials are much alarmed and state that unless rain falls very soon factories will be forced to close down and lights must be curtailed.

Not enough rain to swell the streams has fallen here since last April and there is no sign of a weather change now. The street cars here have been operating under a light power load for several days.

ARMED YOUTHS HELD AS HOLD-UP SUSPECTS

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

STOCKTON, Nov. 6.—Herbert Lester and Charles Henderson, two heavily armed youths who were arrested yesterday in Modesto, are believed by Stockton police to be the pair who held up and robbed two Stockton men here Sunday night. After robbing the local men, the bandits forced them into a car and took them to a point six miles from the city before permitting them to leave the car. Fred Sackett, groceryman and George Diffendorfer, newspaper man, were the local victims.

SCRIBE GETS WARRANT FOR SHERIFF'S ARREST

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

YUBA CITY, Nov. 6.—A warrant for the arrest of Sheriff Manford on a charge of battery as the result of his asserted attack upon Otis Sweetman, reporter for the Marysville Democrat, when the latter refused to leave the Sheriff's office yesterday, was sworn to today before Justice Tucker by Sweetman. The warrant was issued late this afternoon, after Manford is said to have failed to keep a promise to publicly apologize for attacking the reporter.

RAMMER OF S-51 CALLS FOR SUCCOR

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

LEWES, (Del.) Nov. 6.—The coastwise steamship City of Rome broadcast an S.O.S. today that she sprung a leak through plates damaged when the steel bow sent thirty-four men in the doomed submarine S-51 to their death. Water was reported pouring into the hold.

Divers raced from here and a tug was sent from New York to succor the crippled vessel, anchored off the Delaware breakwaters, inside the Delaware capes.

Additional men are needed urgently to man the pumps, wireless Capt. Diehl. Food and provisions for the fifteen passengers and crew also are low. The special boats racing to the side of the vessel are carrying rations.

Divers will go over the side of the steamship in an effort to discover whether the vessel can limp into Boston on her own power. The tug when it reaches the ship's anchorage will help back out the hold with motor pumps.

Temporary repairs had been made to the steel hull following the crash with the S-51 off Block Island and the ship's engineers reported the damage had been repaired. Nevertheless some of the passengers declined to make the return trip to Savannah, which was accomplished with safety.

Grand Jury in Amador Urges War on Crime

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

STOCKTON, Nov. 6.—A general clean-up of bootlegging and red-light establishments in Amador county was urged in a resolution adopted by the Amador grand jury. At the same time, sixteen true bills were returned against various persons, for misdemeanors, maintaining nuisances and for unlawful possession of liquor.

The jury recommends that the District Attorney make an effort to suppress crime which "is now so patently flagrant" in the county. It further recommends that abatement proceedings be instituted against any place in the county, where a second conviction is had for violation of the Wright Act. The jury also advocates additional assistance for the District Attorney in the clean-up campaign.

Dunn Gets Data on Disposal of City's Garbage

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 6.—A. W. L. Dunn, commissioner of the Los Angeles Board of Public Works, and former San Francisco newspaper man, visited City Engineer M. M. O'Shaughnessy today to get data on various proposals before the city in recent years on garbage disposition. The Southern California official stated that the great growth in population of Los Angeles had created a serious problem in disposal of refuse and garbage that must shortly.

O'Shaughnessy, on his recent trip to Europe, made a study of the garbage problem in the larger cities and accumulated considerable data, which he placed at the service of the Los Angeles commissioner. The local engineer expressed the opinion that city engineering departments of the large cities of the United States should get together and work out a standard set of specifications for incinerators and other features of the disposal process.

INDIAN SAID TO HAVE CONFESSED SLAYING

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

STOCKTON, Nov. 6. — Charles Plummer, half-breed Indian, yesterday confessed to the slaying of J. C. Nattress near Sonora Sunday night. Plummer said Nattress and he had been drinking and quarreled. Nattress, said Plummer, fired two shots at him before he secured the rifle from him. Plummer said he then turned the rifle on Nattress and fired. The bullet struck Nattress in the left leg. The shooting occurred in the Plummer cabin on the Kurzi ranch at Bald Mountain. Plummer and Kurzi took him to the hospital at Sonora in the morning, where he died from loss of blood.

EFFECT OF NEW TAX SCHEDULES SHOWN

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—The effect of the proposed new tax schedules approved by the House Ways and Means committee is shown in the following table prepared by Joseph ... Coy, government actuary. ... ures are based on the income of a married man with two dependents:

Gross Income	Present Tax	Proposed Tax
$ 2,500	$ 1.10	$ 0.00
3,000	11.00	5.00
4,000	33.00	20.00
5,000	55.00	35.00

9,000	165.00	125.00
10,000	192.50	147.50

This takes into consideration increased exemptions as well as reduced rates.

It is impossible to estimate the reduction on incomes of more than $10,000 until the new surtax rates have been prepared.

NEARS END OF RECORD AIR TRIP

Commander Francesco de Pinedo

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NAPLES (Italy) Nov. 6.—A lone eagle swooped down on this city today in the person of Commander Francesco De Pinedo, Italian aviator, who is on his last lap of a solitary flight from Rome to Japan and return. Both aviator and plane were in splendid condition and the last leg of the unique flight will be undertaken at once.

The Italian airman declared that he had practically no trouble since he left Italy on the trip, and is enthusiastic as to the possibilities of the plane as a passenger carrier on long flights.

FIVE TO BE HANGED AT VANCOUVER

Three Convicted of Murder of Schoner Captain, Son; Others Also Slayers

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

VANCOUVER (B. C.) Nov. 6.—Four men will be hanged here as the sun rises on January 14, 1926, and another will die on January 16, should their appeals be lost. All have been tried and sentenced by an Assize Court recently.

Harry Sowash, Charles Morris and a third man named Baker will go to the gallows for the murder of Capt. W. G. Gillis and his son on the schooner Beryl G late in 1924.

Charles Edward (Sonny) White will be hanged for the murder of Frank Rosso, North Vancouver storekeeper, three months ago. Robbery was the motive in all of the cases. Sowash, Morris and Baker were after the cargo of liquor on Capt. Gillis's boat while White wanted the days receipts from Rosso's store.

Harold Bernsen, recently tried, convicted and sentenced on a charge of murder, is to be the fifth man to meet the hangman. He is asserted to have stabbed a sleeping shipmate to death in the forecastle of the Isthmian Line freighter Crofton Hall at 2 o'clock in the morning.

AGED SAN ANTONIANS OBSERVE BIRTHDAYS

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) Nov. 6.—Two local residents, a man and a woman, both active in spite of nearly a hundred years of life, observed the passing of their birthdays recently. Light Townsend, who lives with his daughter, Mrs. Jess Gonzales, left his ninety-third milestone behind. While Mrs. Anna M. Bennett rounded her ninety-seventh year. Mrs. Bennett came to San Antonio more than half a century ago. Townsend is believed to be the only living white man who was born in Texas while the State was still under the rule of Mexico. He fought Indians on the frontier of Texas and served in the Civil War.

REPRESENTATIVE HURT IN HIGHWAY ACCIDENT

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—En route to Chicago to attend the convention of the Anti-Saloon League, Representative Ralph Updike of Georgia, his brother Edward, Ned A. Russell and Thomas Bledsoe, all of Indianapolis, early today were seriously injured in an automobile accident near Covington, Ind. The victims were removed to a hospital in Danville, Ill. The extent of their injuries has not been determined, but it was said two members of the party are in a critical condition.

APPLE PICKING CHALLENGE

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WELLS (Me.) Nov. 6.—Chesley Lord of this strip of great open places challenges the world—to an apple-picking contest. He means picking apples off apple trees whenever the challenger wants to take him on and for whatever prize he wants to put up. Recently in eight hours he picked eighty-one bushels of apples. That amounts to twenty-seven barrels. The next day he went in and picked twenty-three barrelfuls more.

DEATH PARTS HERMITS IN RIVER SHACK

Hoosier Octogenarian's Passing Leaves Son, 60, Alone and Heartbroken

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PETERSBURG (Ind.) Nov. 6.—Steve Watkins, 86 years of age, the hermit of Chews Pond, died at his hermitage shack eight miles east of here, along White River, yesterday. Returning from the Civil War, Watkins was never satisfied to live indoors, and when his wife died he and his son John disappeared in the woods and for months nothing would be heard from the men.

In the summertime they slept under trees, and when it rained would sleep in an old hollow sycamore tree. In winter they built a dugout and would spend the winter hovering around an old log fire, leaving their rendezvous only long enough to go to some near-by town for provisions.

Watkins drew a pension and on pension day he would always appear at the Algiers postoffice for his pension check. For many years he would trust no banks, but recently deposited $700 in an Otwell bank. Neither father nor son was shaved, and wore long beards, and strangers who came upon them reported to officers having seen two wild men at large.

Watkins was brought to the morgue here and when he was washed and shaved his son John did not recognize him.

Farmers took a bed to the Watkins camp recently, but the father threw the bed away and continued sleeping on the ground. The son is heartbroken. He is almost 60 years of age and looked almost as old as his father.

ONE-FOURTH OF GIRLS IN WELLESLEY SMOKE

MAJORITY FAIL TO FEEL ANY RESTRICTION BECAUSE OF PRESENT BAN

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BOSTON, Nov. 6.—Smokers are in the minority among the students of Wellesley College according to a "smokers' questionnaire" which shows that 25 per cent of the girls smoke, in spite of the rule against it.

Three questions were presented to the students. They were: Do you smoke?

Do you feel restricted by the present rules of no smoking?

Do you feel that your parents would approve a more lenient rule?

The returned ballots showed that practically the entire student body is interested in the problem and took part in the voting.

"Do you smoke?" apparently was considered the most important of the three questions, on which the college head sought light. On that question, 1280 replied. The count was 352 "yes," 928 "no."

On the second question, whether the "No Smoking" ban at Wellesley was any handicap to the girls who enjoy a leisurely puff, 380 of the students answered they believed it was, 894 said "no."

On the third question, 1180 of the students replied. This was the smallest answer of the three. Of the number, 470 stated "yes," believing their parents would approve a more lenient rule; while 710 stated, "no."

TURNS THIEF TO SETTLE DEBTS

Business Man Facing Prison Elects Hold-up Course

First Attempt at Robbery Results in Failure

Escapes With $10,000 Only to be Captured Later

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

DAYTON (O.) Nov. 6.—Faced with a term in prison either way he turned, Elliott Gabler, 20 years of age, president of the Gem City Engineering Company, today attempted to emulate another Dayton business man and fight his way out of financial difficulties by a bank robbery.

In a daylight downtown robbery of H. J. Kloos, manager of a branch bank in East Dayton, he obtained possession for four hours of $10,000 in currency of small denomination.

Gabler, in a confession, said he first noticed Kloos in the bank a month ago, obtained his automobile license number, followed him and then observed his actions and routes. A week ago he attempted the robbery when he cut the feed line in Kloos's automobile, but there was sufficient gasoline in the vacuum tank to get the bank manager back to his branch.

Today Gabler made the work sure. He disconnected the feed line, while Kloos's automobile stood in front of the bank at the city's chief street intersection, placed a rag in the vacuum tank and left just enough fuel to take Kloos out of the congested district. Gabler drove up when Kloos's automobile stalled seven squares from the bank, ordered the manager into his own car, and drove to the city limits, where he ejected the banker and threatened his life if he attempted to follow.

Kloos disregarded the threat, however, and fired a volley of shots, none of which took effect.

Within an hour after the robbery Gabler was in custody. The money was found in a sack buried under a pile of cans in a garage near Gabler's place of business.

"I had to go to prison anyway," he said, "and it was just a question which one. Federal officers were pressing me for a $1000 fine and $2000 income tax payment. I thought I could get away with this and pay them off."

The case closely parallels that of the "phantom bandit," Fred Nickol, president of a manufacturing concern, who staged a daylight robbery of another branch bank and escaped with $22,800, but was captured a week later and also confessed. Nickol is serving a ten-year prison sentence.

Handwriting to be Sampled in Poison Pen Hunt

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BELOIT (Wis.) Nov. 6.—Every person in the Maple Lawn district of Turtle township, more than 1... years of age, will be required to give a sample of penmanship Monday night at the most novel meeting ever conducted in the little white schoolhouse there, which has been the center of mysterious "poison-pen" plots for the last four years.

Determined to trace down the author of anonymous missives that threatened burning of farm buildings and crops, the school board of which F. J. Hennicke is president, has summoned all residents of the district to the extraordinary meeting at which the penmanship test will be taken.

Army to Send West for New Douglas Plane

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—Lieut. Earl S. Hoag, Army Air Service, will leave here tomorrow in an airplane for San Diego to bring back to Bolling Field one of the new Douglas observation planes assigned to the Washington field. The new plane is one of seventy-five being built for the Air Service by Donald Douglas of Santa Monica, Cal., who received the contract after five years of competitive tests. The machine is fitted with a Liberty motor and in an official test did better than 140 miles an hour.

HIKERS SEE SPECTACLE FROM RIM OF CRATER

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WAILUKU (Hawaii) Nov. 6.—Hikers who recently returned from a trip to the crater of Haleakala brought back reports of seeing the famous Brocken spectacle two days in succession. The phenomenon is considered a rare one, and the fact that it was seen twice in a short period of time adds to the story's interest. While standing on the rim of the crater the hikers saw their own images surrounded by brilliant colors, reflected in gigantic proportions in the cloud banks. The Hawaiian crater is one of the few places in the world where the spectacle occurs.

REWARD OFFERED FOR PERSON WHO CUT WIRE

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

YUMA (Ariz.) Nov. 6.—A reward of $500 has been offered for apprehension of the individual who cut the high-tension wire of the Southern Sierras Power Company by means of a bullet. The cutting was done in the sand hills, about fifteen miles from this city, which was left without current for several hours.

CANADA TO OBSERVE ARMISTICE DAY SILENCE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

OTTAWA (Ont.) Nov. 6. — The Canadian government by an order in council has invited the people of Canada to observe two minutes of silence at 11 a.m. Armistice day, in honor of Canada's dead in the World War.

ASK CHANGE OF COUNTIES IN ARIZONA

Dick Wick Hall and Others Urge Annexation to Either Maricopa or Yavapai

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SALOME (Ariz.) Nov. 6.—Citizens of Northern Yuma county, led by Dick Wick Hall, are urging a division of the county, with annexation of the northern strip to either Yavapai or Maricopa counties. It is declared that while large tax returns came from the Arizona and California branch of the Santa Fe system and from the towns and mines along its course, no return is received from the county.

Mr. Hall asserts that Yuma and the southern section of the county refuse to maintain the Ehrenberg-Blythe-Mecca highway or the Parker highway simply in order that traffic shall be thrown to the route through Yuma. He states that three days are required for a trip to the county seat, while a trip may be made in a day to and from Prescott, county seat of Yavapai county.

Prescott is interested, as its business interests have expressed preference for the Blythe route into California, declared more direct and even better than that by way of Needles.

Moslem World Conferees Will Pick New Caliph

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

LONDON, Nov. 6.—It is learned reliably that an agreement has been reached between the factions representing virtually the entire Moslem world to conduct a conference and elect a new Caliph. The place and date of the conference will be settled later.

Initiative in the movement was taken by the Indian Moslems, who recently sent delegations throughout the Moslem sphere of influence, visiting Egypt, Angora, Palestine, Persia and Afghanistan. Turkey alone is lukewarm to the project, stipulating that it will not adhere unles the caliphate is elected and governed on democratic principles.

REMODEL PACKING PLANT

DINUBA, Nov. 6.—The F. H. Wilson packing house, recently leased by the Shepherd Fruit Company, is being remodeled and prepared with modern machinery in preparation for the citrus pack, which is expected to start next week. This house is located on the Southern Pacific right of way in Dinuba. H. L. Griggs is the local manager. About twenty women are expected to be employed by the house this season.

PORTLAND GETS TRAFFIC ADVICE

Los Angeles Expert Offers Working Plan

Urges Special Commission to Study Problem

Check by Boy Scouts Also Suggested

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PORTLAND (Or.) Nov. 6.—Portland sas gone to Los Angeles for help. Recommendations that if followed will, in the opinion of R. T. Dorsey, traffic engineer of Los Angeles, thoroughly clarify the muddled traffic atmosphere of Portland have been submitted to Capt. Frank Ervin of the police traffic bureau by Dorsey. There are seven of them. They are:

(1.) Formation of a traffic commission, including representatives of each civic organization, public utility and newspaper, to work with five highly qualified engineers for the purpose of outlining projects, schedules and standardized code.

(2.) Check of downtown streets on Mondays, Tuesdays and Saturdays by Boy Scouts, four to an intersection, that traffic volume on various streets may be thoroughly checked.

(3.) Completely to sever the traffic department from all other police divisions and to place it under the charge of a traffic director who shall be the chief executive.

(4.) Creation of a traffic fines fund, to be used principally for educational, safety-first work, signs, markers an dother devices to reduce to a minimum traffic deaths and accidents.

(5.) Creation of a major highway system, outside the principal business section, with connecting by-pass highways.

(6.) Absolute enforcement of the various parking ordinances, with changes contemplated.

(7.) The ornamental illumination of all main arteries leading into the city.

Dorsey's first recommendation he considers the most important. At present, he says, numerous organizations and individuals are working at cross purposes in attempting to analyze and clarify the traffic problem, whereas one group, working in conjunction with experienced engineers, can do far more, he believes.

The traffic check by Boy Scouts, he thinks, is necessary before any intelligent attempt can be made to regulate traffic.

The traffic division of the police bureau should be entirely severed from all other bureaus, because, more than any other, it needs specialised men, he said. Members of the relief, instead of having to accumulate knowledge of all forms of police duty, would concentrate on traffic problems, thereby giving it more intelligent attention.

The by-pass major highway system outside the business district would save a considerable portion of the congestion during the peak hours of travel, he believes.

His observations at present, he said, were that the factory worker traverses the business district enroute to his home, where this could be eliminated by the by-pass highway system of taking him directly from the factory to his home.

All two-line parking should be restricted, he thinks, with the possibility that all downtown parking should be eliminated from 4:30 to 5:30 p.m.

The old Federal Building, he suggested, might be purchased by the city and torn down, providing a park and underground parking space. The park blocks, too, may be used for this later, he said.

Large Cargoes of Silk Coming in Near Future

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

VANCOUVER (B. C.) Nov. 6.—For the next seven months transpacific liners will experience a heavy movement of silk from Japan, according to a report of the Silk Association of Japan received here.

It is estimated by this association that approximately 350,000 bales of silk, valued at approximately $340,000,000, will be shipped to the United States during the season ending next May via the Canadian Pacific, American Oriental Mail Line, N.Y.K., O.S.K., and T.K.K., lines.

It is expected that the monthly consumption in the United States this year will amount to 40,000 bales, an increase over the 26,700 bales of last season, which ended in June.

CONSERVATION CHIEF INVITED TO PARLEY

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

OKLAHOMA CITY (Okla.) Nov. 6.—Chairman F. E. Blake of the Oklahoma Conservation Commission has been invited to attend a conference at Tucumcari, N. M., for discussion of a plan for damming the Canadian River above Tucumcari for water conservation and irrigation purposes and for prevention of floods. The meeting will be attended by A. S. Stinnett of Amarillo, a conservation commissioner of Texas; J. A. Dykes of Tucumcari, who occupies a like position in New Mexico, and other representative men interested in the movement. It is expected the conference will be called by Gov. A. T. Hannett of New Mexico. A recent tri-State flood control and irrigation conference was conducted in Amarillo, following which officials of Oklahoma, Texas and New Mexico made surveys of principal streams that cross these States.

AUTO-DEATH TRIAL ON IN STOCKTON COURT

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

STOCKTON, Nov. 6. — Trial of J. E. Beeth, Santa Fe ticket agent, who was arrested on a charge of manslaughter following the death of Mrs. Kate Oliver, began yesterday in the local Superior Court. The District Attorney is basing his prosecution on the evidence that Beeth was intoxicated at the time his automobile struck down Mrs. Oliver. Beeth's attorneys assert that their client was drugged by two strangers he had met shortly before the accident.

RAISED TO PEERAGE FOR NOTABLE WORK

Sir George Lloyd

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

LONDON, Nov. 6.—Within an hour of his departure for Cairo to take over the post of British High Commissioner for Egypt, recently vacated by Field Marshal Viscount Allenby, Sir George Lloyd was elevated to the peerage by King George.

Sir George is an engineer and the specific service for which he received the royal honor was the harnessing of the raging waters of the River Indus at Sukkur, India, with a barrier known as Lloyd dam. The dam is the largest in the world, and with its system of canals, covering a lineal area of 7000 miles, it is the greatest construction work ever attempted.

Bridge Adapted to Temperature by Thermopile

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 6.—The Delaware bridge has a huge "thermopile."

It's not exactly a thermopile but the idea is the same. A thermopile is an instrument which registers slight changes of temperature by means of sensitive metal plates which contract or expand with atmospheric conditions. An engineer explained:

"At the two main towers, beneath the portal arches, forming a four-foot section the width of the bridge, are a series of dove-tailing steel plates. They form a mesh, but are not connected. When the bridge contracts the plates slide apart like laced finger tips. When the span expands they slip together. Somewhere along the bridge floor there must be such a flexible point or this contracting and expansion would quickly crack and crumble it. The stiffening truss' expansion is taken care of by a double cradle at the junction with the towers."

FINDS FARMERS FROWN ON BASIC LAW PARLEY

OKLAHOMA DEMOCRAT FEARS REPETITION OF ILLINOIS'S EXPERIENCE

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

OKLAHOMA CITY (Okla.) Nov. 6.—A casual survey of a few farmers of Kingfisher county reveals that a large percentage of rural persons in that part of the State is opposed to the holding of a constitutional convention, says George L. Bowman of Kingfisher, former Democratic national committeeman. "I am opposed to such a convention," says Mr. Bowman, "for I am pretty well pleased with the constitution we have and would fear a result here as Illinois had. That State, with a constitution made in the first half of the last century, spent $3,000,000 recently in the making of a new one and the new one was overwhelmingly defeated."

Among other representative men here recently who said they opposed a constitutional convention were Representative Dave Stovall of Hugo and Senator Thomas Waldrip of Shawnee. Senator W. C. Lewis of Duncan declared himself unqualifiedly for the convention.

MERCHANTS ASKED TO RECONSIDER ACTION

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

STOCKTON, Nov. 6.—The Stockton Lions' Club has given unanimous passage to a resolution calling upon the Stockton Merchants' Association to reconsider a recent action in which the merchants agreed to close their doors for only a few hours on Armistice Day. Stockton is planning a great celebration of Armistice Day this year and will in addition dedicate its new $700,000 Memorial Auditorium on that day.

FARMERS ASK FOR BRIDGE

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

YUMA (Ariz.) Nov. 6.—Farmers, cattlemen and miners north of the Gila River announce they are tired of being marooned at every rise of the stream. They have demanded of the County Supervisors construction of a bridge, stating that the hauling of $300,000 worth of agricultural produce annually is dependent upon the caprices of the river.

CANADIANS REAP GAINS ON SPUDS

United States Shortage Boon to Dominion Growers

Handsome Profits Realized Despite Tariff Rate

Consumers Now at Mercy of Speculators

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—Prices for potatoes have advanced so sensationally and rapidly that they are now arriving fro mCanada in carload lots, duty paid. This means the profit is sufficient for the Canadian grower to pay the tariff of 50 cents a 100 pounds and still clean up handsomely on his crop.

Quotations yesterday ranged from $4 to $4.75 a 100 pounds. The retail buyer, confining his order to pecks and half pecks, pays a price much higher. California points are paying $6 per hundredweight. Freezing conditions in Idaho and Washington, which furnish the great bulk of potatoes used in the West, cut down the crop, and were followed by heavy snow, which prevents gathering what is left of the crop.

The Middle West looks to Wisconsin and Minnesota for the bulk of its potato supply. Minnesota, which in the corresponding week of 1924 shipped 2240 carloads, has sent out but 700 cars this week.

Wisconsin, on the other hand, seems to be in for a burst of prosperity. Potato growers in that State say their crop this year is slightly under normal, and the price already is 300 per cent above normal for this season of the year.

SPECULATORS PROFIT

A jump from $1.25 to $2.50 a bushel has caused anguish among potato farmers who disposed of their crop at the lower figure. Farseeing speculaters, who knew the crop was short, now have these supplies in storage an dare in position to command their own prices. Eastern buyers who are crowding the markets here admit there is an actual shortage of 1,250,000 bushels, and they are ready, cash in hand, to take all they can get at present prices. A survey shows the warehouses in Wisconsin are stocked and locked, and will not be opened until the price climbs still higher.

In the territory of which Oconto, Atigo and Rhineland are leading cities, growers report the yield averaging 300 bushels to the acre. This territory is the best potato soil in the State. Farmers who are disposed to sell find eager buyers at $1.60 to $4 a hundredweight.

Men who have studied the situation say lack of suitable transportation will run prices to a record peak. Unable to charter refrigerator cars, commission men must use ordinary freight cars, and the heavy loss through freezing will still further shorten the available supply. In the last week one buyer reported a loss of 1000 bushels by freezing in transit.

SHORT CROP

It is said by buyers that the New York crop was almost a complete failure, due to wet weather and heavy frosts. Colorado, usually a source of supply, is said to have barely enough potatoes for its own use. The South grew a fair crop, but needs it all for home consumption, although it has plenty of sweet potatoes to sell.

Reports that New York and Chicago buyers are attempting to corner the available supply are denounced as silly by men acquainted with the situation. At the prevailing prices and the actual known shortage, such an effort would be financial suicide, according to commission men.

Shipments from the chief potato-producing States have decreased at the rate of 1000 carloads per week. Last week the shipments decreased 1300 cars, making it evident that the farms are fairly well cleaned of surplus stocks, and the public must hereafter deal with speculators who have the bulk of the supply in storage warehouses.

Silver Fox Farm Now in Hands of Two Receivers

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BANGOR (Me.) Nov. 6.—Temporary receivers have been named for Frank H. Gordon, Inc., the concern headed by a local dentist, which in the last two years is reported to have sold more than $3,000,000 worth of silver black foxes to about 5000 investors.

Artemus Weatherbee of Lincoln, County Attorney of Penobscot county, and P. H. Gillin, a prominent lawyer of this city, are the men named by Justice Charles J. Dunn. The receivers were named as a result of a petition for receivership for the corporation filed by Dr. Gordon, founder and manager of the organization.

The receivership proceedings follow the filing of suits in Supreme Court here by investors who sought and finally obtained an injunction restraining Dr. Gordon and his organization from disposing of silver black foxes purchased by them to the contract value of $31,500. The plaintiffs in these suits were New York and New Jersey investors. Dr. Gordon and his agents had offered contracts in his silver black fox farm plan to investors all over the country and a majority of his investors were said to be New England people.

FARMERS ADVISED TO DELAY SELLING COTTON

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

AUSTIN (Tex.) Nov. 6. — Both George B. Terrell, State Commissioner of Agriculture, and John T. Orr, president and general manager of the Texas Farm Bureau Cotton Association, are urging cotton producers to cease marketing their crop for the time being, as a possible means of bringing about an improvement in the price. Orr says: "If ever cotton farmers were faced with a situation that required orderly marketing of their crop, it is now. Last season the cotton operatives handled 1,100,000 bales, which was merchandised in an orderly manner, and it has not been denied that withholding such a volume of the produce from a glutted market kept the price several cents a pound higher than it would have been had this cotton been dumped."

MONOXIDE POISONING PREVENTED

Frenchman's Invention Renders Deadly Fumes From Autos Harmless

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PARIS, Nov. 6.—An invention hailed as the most important in modern times for preserving the health of the great masses of people living in big cities has been perfected by Eugene Royer, engineer and inventor of Lyons. M. Royer has produced a muffler for attachment to motor vehicles which consumes all smoke and transforms intoxicating carbon monoxide gas which escapes from motors into nonpoisonous carbon dioxide.

Prominent health experts of Europe and America recently proclaimed that life in the big cities was shortened by slow poisoning from the fumes of automobile engines. The Paris authorities estimate that more than 100,000,000 liters of carbon monoxide gas, which is inevitable in the combustion of gasoline, circulate daily in Paris at a low level, where it is breathed by the people on the streets. Dr. Yandell Henderson, Yale University psychologist, pointed out the grave danger of slow poisoning of the populations by automobile gas.

Tests of M. Royer's invention at Delahaye factory in Paris were completely satisfactory, turning the escaping gas into harmless carbon dioxide. Inquiries about the new apparatus have been received from New York, Chicago and the Chief of Police in Berlin. The Paris officials have ordered all autos in the city street-cleaning department equipped with the Royer muffler, which may become obligatory on all cars here.

SHIP SEIZED AT HARBOR IN DOMINION

Belgian Vessel Believed to Have Discharged Rum Off California Coast

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

VICTORIA (B. C.) Nov. 6.—The Belgian steamer Gertrude, which left Antwerp February 21, last, with a cargo of liquor consigned ostensibly for Vancouver, but which was apparently discharged to rum-runners off the coast of Sooke Harbor on the west coast of California, dropped anchor off Vancouver Island yesterday, unable to make port for want of fuel. The vessel has been seized by customs officers for investigation.

It is understood here the vessel has no clearance papers and is in the same predicament as the famous liquor ship Ardensa. The Gertrude, it is asserted, was to have changed her port of registry at Vancouver and joined the Pacific Coast rum-running fleet, filling in a gap caused by seizure of the Quadra.

The Norwegian motorship Lillehorn, which left Antwerp about the same time as the Gertrude, is still reported missing, but is expected to turn up, when she will join the Pacific Coast rum-running fleet, replacing the Coal Harbor, now under customs surveillance in San Francisco.

Liquor stores for transshipment ostensibly to Mexico are steadily increasing at the government docks here. The Canadian Freighter which docked from the United Kingdom last night brought in nearly 100,000 cases of liquor while other C.O.M.M. ships en route here from the United Kingdom are also bringing in large shipments of whisky, rum, gin, rye and several varieties of liquors for transshipment to Southern California for the Christmas season.

MORE PARKS IN STATE OPPOSED

Wool Growers Hear Leader Assail Expansion

Curtailment of Grazing Land Feared as Result

California Declared Second in Number of Sheep

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 6.—The live-stock interests of California should present a united opposition to any movement to increase the State's national-park area and thus limit available summer grazing lands, President A. T. Spencer of the California Wool Growers' Association told some 250 delegates assembled here today for the eighteenth annual convention of the association. The convention will end tomorrow, concluding with adoption of resolutions and election of officers.

President Spencer argued that 967,700 acres already set aside in this State for national parks and monuments and unavailable for stock grazing, comprises sufficient park area for all purposes and that the proposal of national-park officials to increase that area by about 80 per cent is unnecessary and would work a great hardship on live-stock growers and indirectly upon the State as a whole.

Reviewing national conditions, Mr. Spencer said that California ranks second in number among the States of the Union and fifth in the quantity of wool produced, with close to 5,000,000 sheep. Western sheepmen, he said, have prospered during the past year with the exception of some of the southwestern growers. He said the campaign to eradicate the foot-and-mouth disease among deer and other wild animals has shown gratifying results.

Charles G. Poole, head of the department of predatory animal control, reviewed the work of his department and stressed the need for more funds to expand the work.

WYOMING EARL OFF TO BRITAIN

Rancher Legislator Who Got English Title Sails Just for Winter Visit

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SHERIDAN (Wyo.) Nov. 6.—Oliver Henry Wallop, Wyoming pioneer and legislator, left Sheridan today for Chicago on the first lap of his journey to England, where he will spend the winter as the Earl of Portsmouth.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallop intend to sail either from New York or Montreal within the next month, and will spend a large share of their time abroad at the family manor in Devonshire. They will also visit their son, Gerald Vernon Wallop, who is now Viscount Lymington.

Mr. Wallop became the eighth Earl of Portsmouth and the ninety-ninth ranking earl under the Prince of Wales this summer upon the death in London of his elder brother, John Fellowes Wallop, the seventh earl.

Mr. Wallop will not relinquish his American citizenship, but will return in the spring to his ranch in the mountain foothills near Big Horn, Wyo., he announced.

German Business Envoys Greeted at Trade Confab

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PARIS, Nov. 6.—Germany took another important step forward into the family of nations today when the German delegates for the first time since before the war were warmly welcomed to the nineteenth session of the council of the International Chamber of Commerce here.

Walter Leaf, international chamber president and chairman of Westminster Bank, London, officially greeted the German delegates, headed by Frans von Mendelssohn. Leaf declared the presence of the German representatives was an eloquent symbol of the will to peace wherein lies the foundation for the renaissance of Europe.

In his annual address Leaf denounced the world's politicians for "hampering international trade with all means within their power," and condemned the high tariff walls erected in many countries, "which not only destroy international trade, but hurt the country itself."

Lodi Marshal Continues His Clean-up Drive

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

STOCKTON, Nov. 6.—Continuing a general clean-up of bootlegging and gambling houses in Lodi, F. Christeson, city marshal, directed further raids against two asserted gambling houses and four bootlegging places.

Since the first of the week, Christeson has made raids netting the city $2200 in fines. On one occasion he arrested 131 men at one time and they paid $1086 in fines the next day. This same place was raided again and 130 arrested.

INDIAN PARTIES UNITE IN NATIONALIST BLOCK

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

LONDON, Nov. 6.—Well-informed circles detect the beginning of a movement among the various Indian Nationalist parties to unite as allies in a Nationalist bloc, which would present a united front on matters strictly of a national character. A league called the "Allied Nationalists," already has been formed in Malabar, embracing all parties.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

HONOLULU, Nov. 6.—Type-setters in Honolulu are reported to be in a bad humor.

Following the receipt of the news that the assistant secretary of labor had found Leleusszuleuszesszes Wilihiminizzisstelzzitelzzi of Folsom, Cal., to be an undesirable alien, there comes the news of the birth of a Hawaiian baby in one of the districts of Honolulu, whose parents saw fit to name Ruth Kepilihaleokehuonalii Mika Hopeni Hoomanawanui.

SANTA CRUZ CHOSEN FOR SCIOT MEET

Convention Bids of Oakland and Eureka Lose Out After Bitter Battle

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

STOCKTON, Nov. 6.—Santa Cruz was chosen today as the 1926 convention city for the Masonic order of Sciots. There is no Sciot pyramid in that city, but the Watsonville pyramid sponsored the fight for Santa Cruz. Next year's meeting-place was selected after a bitter fight on the convention floor this morning in which Santa Cruz, Eureka and Oakland were contestants. The convention will be held November 6, 7 and 8.

Supreme officers elected are as follows: Pharaoh, H. B. Maynard, Alameda; Mohib, James M. Lynch, Long Beach; Armesses, Ross Pool, Santa Rosa; Pastophori, Ernest Dort, San Diego; Scribe, Karl Eber, San Francisco; Chancellor, W. W. Thompson, San Francisco.

Ernest Dort was the only new officer elected. All officers ranking above him automatically were elected to rank one step higher. Ray W. Baker of Fresno became a Past Pharaoh.

During the afternoon business session decision was made to levy a per capita tax of 10 cents on each member for the extension of the Sciot order to other States. Another assessment of $1 per member was made for the establishment of a home for anemic and convalescent children. A committee of eleven Sciots was appointed by Pharaoh Ray Baker to devise ways and means of selecting a site and preparing plans. A site in the Santa Cruz Mountains has been offered the order.

The annual Sciot session will be concluded here tomorrow night amid festivity. A parade of horribles was held tonight in addition to four dances and a midnight follies. Tomorrow will almost be wholly devoted to merrymaking and entertainment.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

STOCKTON, Nov. 6. — Six San Bernardino Sciots, members of the drill team from that city, arrived here for the Sciots' convention yesterday with many body bruises and a badly damaged automobile. Near Bakersfield the driver of their car swerved it to one side to avoid a collision with a milk truck and caused the car to land in a ditch. J. H. Burger, Howard Hunt, Charles Rheim, James Palmer, William Inman and James McKeever were in the car.

Denial by Depew Follows Divorce Suit in Chicago

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—Chauncey M. Depew is made defendant in a divorce action brought in the Superior Court here by his wife, Mrs. Jane E. Depew. Publication of the suit immediately caused a stir, and it was learned that the Chauncey M. Depew mentioned resides in Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

Chauncey M. Depew, chairman of the board of directors of the New York Central lines, said he is not the person indicated and that it is no relative of his.

Attorney A. T. Richardson, who filed the bill, says he does not know the identity of the defendant. He says the Depews were married in New York January 1, 1919, and that Depew deserted his wife in 1921. The attorney says he does not know the address of Mrs. Depew, who is 35 years of age.

FORMER BANKER TO BE TRIED IN PIMA COUNTY

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

TUCSON (Ariz.) Nov. 6.—On change of venue from Maricopa county, Phil K. Lewis is to be tried in the Pima County Superior Court on a charge of forgery of applications for State farm loans. He has been brought to the County Jail here for arraignment from the State penitentiary at Florence, where he is under a five-year sentence for embezzlement of $3000 from interests connected with the Central Bank of Phoenix, of which he was president. A large number of cases against him were dismissed by the County Attorney of Maricopa county, leaving only two for trial.

SQUIRRELS ARE WILD

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

THREE RIVERS, Nov. 6.—Evidently gray squirrels of Sequoia National Park do not wish to change their address to "Yosemite." Rangers at Atwell's mill above here are finding it most strenuous work trying to capture the little animals, which have been requested to restock Yosemite National Park. An epidemic in that region two years ago killed the gray squirrels. The tiny creatures are proving most alert and hard to capture.

GIFT REGARDED LOAN BY GERMAN STUDENTS

PAYMENTS TO GO TO TRUST FUND TO MEET EMERGENCIES IN EDUCATION

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—Dr. Reinhold Schairer, director of the German Students Co-operative Association, announces that the students of Germany have decided to consider as a loan the gift of $400,000 contributed to Germany in 1921-1923 by the students of the United States and other lands. Payment of the loan will be made in the form of contributions to the International Student Trust Fund. The fund will be used to meet emergencies in education in all parts of the world.

The gift of $400,000 was made under the auspices of the European Student Relief at a time when the economic distress of Germany threatened to make the continuance of university education impossible. A federation of students representing all the 90,000 members of the forty-eight German universities organized the German Students Co-operative Association in 1921 to provide the means whereby a student with inadequate financial resources could earn an education.

The International Student Trust Fund, to which payments on the gift of $400,000 will be made, is administered by the International Student Service, which has its headquarters in Geneva. The fund is the only one of its kind in the world. First payment has already been made by the students of Germany. In the future an annual contribution will be made, increasing as conditions in that country improve.

CHILD KICKED BY HORSE

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

STOCKTON, Nov. 6.—Joseph Goulart, 5 years of age of Manteca, knew much of horses, he thought, from the kindly nursery rhymes which had been read to him. The other afternoon he ventured into a field to play with a horse pastured therein and instead of finding the horse friendly the animal reared and kicked the child in the head. The lad was later found in an unconscious condition by neighbors. He suffered laceration of the head and a possible fracture of the skull.

The city of Guatemala is to be modernized, and plans for paving the streets and installing water and sewage systems are being made.

HIDDEN TEETH IN DRY LAW SHOWN

Volstead Pleads for Action Against Purchasers

Use of Severe Penalties in Enforcement Urged

Alcohol Plants Held Source of Illicit Liquor

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

CHICAGO, Nov. 6. — There are teeth in the Volstead Act, little used or not at all, but which would make prohibition enforcement far more effective, Andrew J. Volstead, former Congressman and father of the prohibition law, told the Anti-Saloon League's crisis convention tonight. He recently returned to public life as legal adviser of the prohibition director for Minnesota.

It is not generally known, Mr. Volstead said, but the purchaser of illicit liquor is subject to ninety days' imprisonment and for a second offense not to exceed two years.

"It would have a salutary effect," he went on, "to prosecute some of these purchasers so that the country might know some of the so-called 'good people' are simply in the bootleg class. This provision is contained in Section 29 of Title 2 of the Prohibition Act.

LIQUOR SOURCE TOLD

"Section 23 of Title 11 of the act provides that in issuing permits for warehouses or plants for industrial use of alcohol the acts authorized may be specifically designated and limited.

"This is a power that has been very sparingly used, and still is one that seems to me might be very effective. It was the subject of a very bitter contest in Congress.

"It was believed that it would give the government the right to adopt almost any means to prevent liquor and other alcoholic preparations from being sold for beverage purposes. To enforce this provision, it might be provided in the permit that if the purchaser diverted any article containing alcohol to illegal use the permit might be canceled.

"Since the Coast Guard has been increased the bootlegger has turned to denatured alcohol and I am credibly informed that not less than 90 per cent of the liquor in the illicit trade is redistilled alcohol.

OLD LAWS IN EFFECT

"The section above referred to also provides that the government may require an applicant for a permit to establish a warehouse or plant using alcohol to show the need for the kind of a plant he has in prospect. This is a section that the trade has fought very bitterly.

"In drafting the Prohibition Act a section was inserted to preserve the laws then in existence. A dilatory attorney in the prosecution of persons operating illegal stills should, in suitable cases, avail himself of those laws as they carry much heavier penalties than the national Prohibition Act.

"No pains should be spared to secure penalties that are sufficiently drastic so as to make it unprofitable to continue in the illegal business. slt is idle to attempt restraint simply by imposing a fine. That is nothing but a license and the judge who imposes it is little better than the bootlegger. A record should be kept of all convictions so that we might impose penalties for second offenses.

"If a few of the aliens who are persistent violators were sent back home, those who remain here would have considerable respect for our laws.

FOR CIVIL SERVICE

"The good effect of the act is apparent on every hand, but it can be made more effective and more beneficient. Public sentiment is growing stronger and the path of the offender is more and more difficult."

A prediction that legislation soon would be passed in answer to the cry "take prohibition enforcement out of politics" putting the prohibition officials under civil service, was made tonight by Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel of the Anti-Saloon League.

"We are going to back up those faithful officers of the law," said Mr. Wheeler. "We are building a public opinion that will eventually make a man as ashamed to speak of his bootlegger as of his horse thief.

"The Anti-Saloon League has the machinery to finish this job, to hold the law and enforce it. We have sent out billions of pages of literature since this fight began.

"The wets cannot pass any kind of bill that will weaken that law. We're going to take enforcement out of politics by passing the civil service bill and have Federal agents under civil service."

An appeal for help in the world temperance movement was made by Benjamin H. Simpson, Canadian secretary of the World League Against Alcohol, and W. D. Bayley of the lower house of the Manitoba Parliament, Canadian delegates at the convention.

PROPOSED GLOBE TOUR ENDS IN COUNTY JAIL

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

YUMA (Ariz.) Nov. 6.—Gerald Davisson, 16 years of age, of 620 East Twenty-third street, Los Angeles, has ended his proposed tour of the world in a small motor car, and is spending tonight in Yuma County Jail, while local authorities await word from his father, Ray Davisson, a tile setter, as to what to do with the lad, who was picked up here roaming the streets last night. With James Hall of Los Angeles, another lad who left home without advising his parents, young Davisson arrived here Wednesday, he says. He had $7 left from his share of $65 received by sale here of their car.

WED BY PROXY TO EVADE LAWS

[P. & A. Photo]

Mrs. Edward S. Winfield

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

TRENTON (N. J.) Nov. 6.—To circumvent the red tape of immigration laws existing in Chile, Miss Mildred Finesberg of Trenton was recently married by proxy to a man 5000 miles away. The groom is Edward S. Winfield, an American engineer employed in Chile. A feature of the wedding was supplied in the appearance of her prospective father-in-law in the role of proxy groom, authorization for his appearance being given in the papers forwarded from the American Consul in Chile, to whom young Winfield applied for aid in his dilemma.

Until she became the bride of Winfield, Miss Finesberg could not enter Chile.

AUTO TRIP FEATURE IN DEATH CASE

Dentist Tells of Asserted Meeting With Klansman and Murdered Girl

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NOBLESVILLE (Ind.) Nov. 6. Stories of Madge Oberholtzer's acquaintance with D. C. Stephenson before her asserted abduction and attack were told by witnesses today in the murder trial of the former Ku Klux Klan leader and his bodyguards, Earl Gentry and Earl Klenck.

The defense summoned Vallery B. Allstock, Columbus (Ind.) dentist, who testified that he had known Stephenson for three years. Allstock said he was a field worker for the Ku Klux Klan and that his association with Stephenson was of a business nature.

Stephenson met him at Columbus one night in January, Allstock testified, and Miss Oberholtzer was with him in an automobile. While he was holding a conversation with Stephenson, he said, Miss Oberholtzer and a Dr. Chester Clawson of Columbus, conversed. Allstock's conversation with Stephenson was interrupted, he said, by Miss Oberholtzer's inquiry as to whether Allstock had "any alcohol." He testified to his reply that he had none, and added:

"She said 'that's strange,' and that I ought to have it, and that it made good gin."

Four men who served with Klenck as deputy sheriffs of Marion county at Indianapolis, were called by the defense to set up an alibi for him.

Germany to be Asked for New Terms Answer

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

PARIS, Nov. 6.—Finding the last German note on the disarmament issue unsatisfactory, the Allied Council of Ambassadors today decided on the text of a communication asking the Berlin government for more precise answers in regard to some phases. The Ambassador's note is based on a report made by the Inter-Allied War Committee under the chairmanship of Marshal Foch.

A communique issued after the Ambassador's meeting said it was hoped the new note would elicit a reply from Germany that would permit the Allies to consider early evacuation of the Cologne bridgehead.

TOWN BEATS NEIGHBOR IN FIGHT FOR SUBURBS

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

HAMMOND (Ind.) Nov. 6.—The City Council of Hammond in a special midnight session last night stole a march on its neighbor Gary, by approving two ordinances to annex Munister and Highland, valuable suburbs, which Gary has been considering joining to it. Mayor Dan Brown of Hammond, learning that the Gary Council had been urged to take steps to attach the suburbs summoned twelve of the city's fifteen Councilmen to consider the annexation ordinances.

STAGE ALL SET FOR ANNUAL MUM SHOW

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

LEMOORE, Nov. 6.—The stage is all set for the chrysanthemum show which the Alpha Club of this city will conduct at Legion Hall Saturday. Besides the ribbons which will be awarded, there are five cash prizes offered. This show is one of a series of like events which have been held annually in this city for several years, with many exhibitors and a very creditable display of mums. At the show Saturday a varied musical and literary program will be presented and there will be dancing, and tea will be served.

GOVERNOR UPHELD IN RED STAND

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 6.—Gov. Richardson is receiving many letters commending him for the stand he took in refusing to pardon Miss Charlotte A. Whitney, wealthy Oakland woman convicted of violating the Criminal Syndicalism Act. Miss Whitney was convicted almost six years ago and her conviction only recently was upheld by the United States Supreme Court.

The letters are coming to the Governor from persons in all walks of life—doctors, lawyers, businessmen, bankers and laborers.

One letter signed by a number of Berkeley residents said: "We feel that the laws of this great country should be upheld, no matter whether the violators be rich or poor."

Frank S. French of Oakland wrote: "The stock grievance of the discontented, one law for the rich and one for the poor has, through the Supreme Court and your courageous stand, been set aside."

The Governor received another letter from Harlan L. Heward, a Reno (Nev.) attorney, praising him for refusing to pardon Miss Whitney.

TWO WOMEN ACCUSED AS HIGRADERS

Landlord, Wife and Neice Arrested in Asserted Gold Quartz Theft and Sale

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 6.—In a series of arrests today here and in Jackson, Amador county, government officials believe they have uncovered a ring of "higraders," whose asserted fraudulent operations within recent months are thought to have netted them thousands of dollars.

The specific charge against three suspects arrested today involves the asserted theft of gold amalgam from the Jackson mine at Jackson, and the Central Eureka mine at Sutter Creek, and its sale to the San Francisco mint for $923.53. Steve Tofanell, operator of a lodging house at Jackson, and his wife, Mary, were arrest today at Jackson. Mrs. L. Queirolo, said to be a niece of Steve Tofanell, was arrested this afternoon at her home here.

Mrs. Queirolo was arraigned before a United States commissioner here and released on $1000 bond. She will be given a preliminary hearing Wednesday.

The complaint also names D. Bellini, father of Mrs. Queirolo.

Government officials here said that Mrs. Queirolo had disposed of some $15,000 worth of amalgam to the United States mint since December, 1924, at the rate of approximately $1000 a month.

United States Treasury officials here said that a search of the Tofanell premises in Jackson disclosed a quantity of quartz believed by government agents to have been stolen from the mines there, and a small mill for crushing the ore so that the gold might be extracted.

The charge on which today's arrests were made was said by government officials to have been the outgrowth of investigations by the office of the State mineralogist at Sacramento in pursuance to a State law which went into operation last July and which requires the licensing of all persons or corporations engaged in the selling or handling of gold.

Girl Mangled by Train Has Chance to Live

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

TULSA (Okla.) Nov. 6.—Josephine De Peu, 15 years of age, for whom the entire operating schedule of St. Louis and San Francisco Railway was suspended last night while she was rushed from Chelsea to a Tulsa hospital in a freight caboose, has a good chance to live.

The girl's legs were severed when she crawled under a freight train on her way home from church at Chelsea. The train crew shunted a long string of loaded cars onto a siding, hitched the caboose alone to the engine and raced to Tulsa on a clear track.

COL. MILLER IN DENIAL OF CONSPIRACY

Former Property Custodian Pleads Not Guilty to Asserted Fraud

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—Col. Thomas W. Miller appeared before Federal Judge Goddard today and pleaded not guilty to an indictment charging him with conspiracy to defraud the United States, while Alien Property Custodian. His attorney, Robert Johnstone, contended that the deal for which Miller was indicted occurred so long ago that it was outlawed by the statute of limitations.

Miller was freed under $5000 bond. Johnstone declared the case would consume six weeks or two months, and there was a strong probability that it would be thrown out after that lengthy hearing. With the court calendars crowded, he said he was ready to argue at once a motion for a bill of particulars.

Judge Goddard said he would hear the motion next Friday. Miller can change his plea within ten days after the decision on the forthcoming motion.

Miller is accused of returning nearly $7,000,000 of sequestered assets of the American Metals Company, Ltd., to asserted Swiss interests, for which service Miller, John T. King, former national Republican committeeman from Connecticut, and the late Jesse W. Smith, confidante of Harry M. Daugherty, former Attorney-General, are asserted to have received $441,000.

FINES TOTAL $1250
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

YUMA (Ariz.) Nov. 6.—Crime may not pay, as far as the lawbreaker is concerned, but it pays well in Yuma, as far as the city treasury is concerned. Judge S. F. Stanley's Police Court report for October shows a new record established for fines collected during the calendar month amounting to $1250.

TUT PRIESTS CARELESS

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CAIRO (Egypt) Nov. 6.—How careless priests spilled funeral libations in King Tut-Ankh-Amen's tomb, leaving a deposit which after thirty-five centuries renders difficult the task of workers extricating the successive sarcophagi and coffins which, initially close fitting, are now tightly stuck through the congealed libatory layer, is described in an official statement regarding the tomb work at Luxor. It reveals the discovery of a third coffin portraying King Tut and which will have to be lifted from the containing sarcophagus before it is possible to undertake the most interesting portion of the whole proceedings, namely, bringing to light the youthful monarch, which is not likely to be possible for weeks.

TERRIBLE TURK MADE TAME

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 6.—Cartoonists must make another alteration in their caricatures of the Turk. Besides substituting the hat for the fes they must erase the scimitars which always have figured in their representations of the so-called wild man of the Near East. A recent law passed by the new government prohibits the carrying of any knife more than four inches long. In other words, the traditional sinister scimitar has shrunk to the prosaic penknife.

HARRISON TALKS ON TAXATION

Urges Economy in State Expenditure

Opposes Publicly Owned Utilities Favored

Consolidation Taken Up as Surveys

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 6.—Declaring California is headed as a "joint ownership" state, George E. Harrison, president of the California State Grange, in addressing the convention of the farmers' organization here today, urged the State Grange to be the gathering of [illegible] Week.

"We are to be an insane people if many who control [illegible] mill," declared [illegible] spend all of the [illegible] get hold of, even [illegible] to create more [illegible] in the case of our [illegible]

Harrison then [illegible] expressed salaries of the officials and office help. We favor taxing of public owned utilities, thus making a more equal distribution of the burden of taxation."

Harrison had considerable to say about highway construction in California and took the State Highway Commission to task. He said: "We cannot but condemn the practice of spending so much money and time in making highway surveys that will not in some cases be used for many years when it will all have to be done over again. We refer to the work done on the Klamath River and elsewhere. What the people want and would like are less surveying and the money used for actual road construction. The taxpayer is not interested in providing soft jobs for a lot of college graduates at summer camps in the mountains.

OUTLINE ROAD VIEWS

"We favor good roads on a pay-as-you-go plan, with a tax upon gasoline used by all motor vehicles using our highways. We also recommend a weight tax upon the heavy commercial trucks and busses that are so hard upon the roads and highways. We condemn the State Highway Commission in demanding a seventy-foot right of way through some of our valleys for a thirty-foot road bed, thus destroying much valuable agricultural land, and by doing so creating just that much wider strip for noxious weeds on either side of the road, and causing a greater expenditure of State and county funds. We favor good farm-to-market rather than scenic roads."

VEGETABLE AND FRUIT RATES HOLD

Rail Commission Declares Proposed New Schedule to be Unreasonable

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—A rate schedule proposed last June by Pacific Coast railroads to revise rates applying on fruits and vegetables shipped from California to other Pacific Coast States and to Utah and Idaho, was held today by the Interstate Commerce Commission to be unreasonable. Its cancellation was ordered, and present rates will be maintained until further action.

The canceled schedule has never been in effect, having been suspended at the time of its preparation. Both increases and reductions would have resulted, the commission found, from the schedule which was devised by the railroads to correct unfairness, which the commission had previously cited in the rates on grapes moving from Lodi, Cal., to other points, and, incidentally, to equalize charges over the area concerned.

The decision today will not prevent another attempt by the roads concerned to revise the fruit and vegetable rates involved, if such a revision still is held advisable.

Amazon Valley Looked to for Rubber Supply

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—Rubber production in the Amazon Valley of South America, which was the original home of the forest tree that is now principally nurtured in the plantations of British East India, can be brought up to a very high mark, the Commerce Department declared today, in outlining results of a special study in the area.

There are 300,000,000 rubber-bearing trees in the Amazon country, most of which were allowed to fall back into neglect when prices fell, the department said, and, if crude-rubber prices at New York remain at a level of 40 cents per pound, it was predicted that an output of upward of 44,000 tons a year would be attained.

INSURANCE FUND OF STATE HELD SOLVENT

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 6.—The State Industrial Accident Commission is in receipt today of a report from Brig.-Gen. S. H. Wolfe, New York insurance authority, stating that the State compensation insurance fund is solvent and has a sufficient surplus on hand to guard against any emergency. The investigation was occasioned by complaints against the fund by other insurance carriers.

Ask Ruling on Rum Ship Taken Outside Limit

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 6.—The legality of rum-ship seizures outside the twelve-mile limit in case wherein it is established that liquor landings have been made from the ship seized, was argued this afternoon before the United States Circuit Court of Appeal. The case involves the seizures in October, 1924, off the Farralone Islands of a Canadian rum ship with her cargo of some 13,000 cases.

In a ruling handed down by Federal Judge John S. Partridge during the trial in which the captain of the Quadra, several members of the crew and others were found guilty of conspiracy to violate the liquor laws, he held that it was immaterial whether the Quadra was seized inside or outside of the twelve-mile limit, "so long as it was established that liquor landings had been made from the ship. It is this point, which is under argument today, together with lesser points to which the defendants took exceptions.

Wall Street Hegemony Seen in Financial Pact

Berlin Speculates on Return of Reichsbank Head

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

BERLIN, Nov. 6.—A "world pact" which eventually will insure Wall street an undisputed hegemony in the world's money markets is expected by German financial circles to result from conferences now proceeding in New York between American and English financiers and Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, head of the Reichsbank.

Dr. Schacht's home-coming already is the subject of lively speculation in these circles, which predict that he will come back laden with important information, the results of which will soon assert themselves in the realm of international financial relations.

UNITED STATES IN POSITION OF SUPREMACY

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Nov. 6. — While unwilling to admit that any actual compact had been entered into for insuring Wall street's hegemony in the money markets of the world, financial authorities here assert that America's assistance in restoring the economic equilibrium of Germany, in the restoration of Great Britain's gold standard and in the stabilization of the French, Belgian and Italian currencies, have automatically given the United States a position of supremacy in world finance.

Despite political isolation, the financial bonds between this country and Europe gradually have been drawn closer and greatly strengthened by a new policy of co-operation between the central banks of foreign nations and the Federal reserve system of this country.

GASTRONOMICAL RESTITUTION

Condemned Negro Gets Last Feast in Death Cell as Hanging Halts

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—Campbell McCarthy, a negro, who was to have been hanged this morning, was not entirely filled with happiness when he received word late yesterday of an eleventh-hour stay of execution while his case is taken to the Supreme Court. "That's mighty fine," he smiled when the news reached him. Then, his face sobering, he added: "But captain, I want to stay here in the death cell until I get the chicken dinner they bring to all condemned men." His plea was granted, and in the death cell he ate what was to have been his last meal.

CHURCHMAN IN HOLD-UP KILLS SELF

Chico Man Found Hanged in Cell Following Arrest for Robbery Effort

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

CHICO, Nov. 6.—Fred C. Crummett, prominent churchman and rancher, who was arrested yesterday on a charge of attempting to hold up a United States mail truck, strangled himself to death in his cell here early this morning.

Crummett tied the suspenders of his overalls to the upper bunk in the cell, wound one end around his neck and rolled from his lower bunk. The suicide was discovered a few moments later by Jack Fields, deputy constable, who had been assigned to watch the prisoner, but who had left the room for a short time.

Crummett was last seen alive at 5 a.m. by his guard. Twenty minutes later he saw Crummett's body dangling from the cell bunk.

The guard was established over Crummett after he had asked the officers to kill him to save him from a felon's disgrace.

BORAH WOULD FREE GERMANS' PROPERTY

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—Chairman Borah of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee announced today he would introduce a bill at the next session of Congress calling for the return of German property in the hands of alien property custodian. "This property was taken at a time when a treaty existed between the United States and Germany providing that property of the nationals of each should be protected, even in time of war," he said. "It is a matter of good faith to return it now."

ARMY BLOCKED IN SHIPS DEAL

Failure Marks Efforts to Obtain Transports

Budget Official Declines to Aid Department

Sale Negotiations Will be Continued by Board

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—Efforts of the War Department to obtain from the Shipping Board the steamers American Legion and Southern Cross, of the Pan-America Line, for use as transports in the Pacific, failed today when General Co-ordinator Smith, who had been appealed to by the department, declined to interfere.

Col. Smither, who has supervision over the government's surplus materials under the Budget Bureau, declared the two ships could not be considered surplus and the board was warranted in proceeding with negotiations looking to the sale of the line to private operators under a guarantee that the service be maintained for at least five years.

The War Department had asked for the ships to replace the old transports Grant and Thomas, and Col. Smither said that, if it should ask for a $6,000,000 appropriation to build two new vessels to meet this need he would urge upon Director of the Budget Lord, a favorable recommendation to Congress on the request.

The suggestion also was made that the department might take up directly with the board a proposal that the latter recondition the former German liners Agamemnon and Mount Vernon for transport service and transfer them to the department. In board circles, however, it was said later that there was no authority under the Merchant Marine Act to recondition ships for such purpose.

The board held that compliance with the request would break up the Pan-America Line, out of its most valuable services. It comprises four vessels of the 535-foot class, which run from New York to the east coast of South America. The Munson Steamship Line, which operates the ships for the Fleet Corporation, and Moore & McCormack of New York each have offered $4,000,000 or more for them.

CIVIL WAR NURSE BURIED

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

LAWRENCE (Mass.) Nov. 6.—Funeral services for Miss Mary A. Mitchell, Civil War nurse, who gained fame by escorting Abraham Lincoln on a visit through a field hospital near the battle line during the war, were conducted at the Nevins Memorial Home, Methuen, where she died. Miss Mitchell was 89 years of age.

COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Se los Están Poniendo Trabas a los Sedientos

EL PASO (Tejas) Noviembre 6. Los sedientos turistas internacionales que se hallan en San Diego, Los Angeles, Caléjico y otros puertos de escala de California, que están acostumbrados a dirigirse en sus autos a Tijuana o Mejicali, para contemplar el panorama desde el ventajoso sitio de un mostrador de cantina, rodeado en su base de gruesa barra de bronce, tienen motivos justificados de alarma y zozobra, pues el señor Nicolás Pérez, agente de migración en Juárez, está procediendo, en cuestión de pasaportes, de manera distinta a la que ha estado en uso. Como va a tener bajo su inspección todos los puertos fronterizos mejicanos que quedan al oeste de Juárez, entre los que se cuentan Mejicali y Tijuana, es casi seguro que aplicará en todos los mismos principios puritánicos de que está haciendo uso para con los turistas y residentes de esta ciudad del sol.

Algunas de las nuevas restricciones que está imponiendo antes de conceder los anhelados pasaportes para ir a Juárez, consisten en exigirles su licencia de matrimonio a los casados, visitas personales a la oficina de migración a los que desean irse a humedecer el gaznate, y positiva identificación, que no deje lugar a duda.

Las formalidades anteriores consistían en ir a Juárez en auto o tranvía, pararse o meramente modernar el paso en la estación mejicana de migración, que está al extremo sur del puente, dejar asomar entre la mano algo que se pareciera a un pasaporte, y acelerar la marcha del automóvil hacia el barrio de las brillantes luces.

Niña que Muere de Botulismo

La segunda víctima del botulismo en los cinco últimos días, la niña Phyllis Grant, de 7 años, murió ayer en la casa de sus padres, el señor y la señora Roy Grant, que habitan en el número 412 de la calle Noventa y Cinco Oeste.

Cayó enferma la niña cuatro días después de que comiera algún alimento de lata en casa de la señora Grace May Chandler, de 36 años, habitante en el 416 de la calle Noventa y Cinco Oeste. Esta señora, que también comió de la lata descompuesta, murió el lunes, y los médicos atribuyeron su defunción al botulismo.

An agreement reached through effort of a commission organized by the President's Committee on Recreation will result in an adjustment of the boundaries of Yellowstone National Park and the inclusion of 300,000 acres embracing some of the most beautiful natural scenery in America. Most of the acreage is comprised in the magnificent Teton range with its towering peaks, virgin valleys and placid mountain lakes—a stretch of country known the world over to lovers of the outdoors. The photographs on this page are reproduced through the courtesy of Mr. Mode Wineman of Pasadena, whose collection of camera studies of national parks has been shown many times in the East. They depict scenes all within the boundaries of the new Yellowstone addition, and give some idea of the wild beauty that has been added to our national parks.

SPEED TRIALS ON TAP TODAY

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHARLOTTE (N. C.) Nov. 6.—Qualification trials for the 250-mile championship automobile race on the Charlotte speedway Armistice Day begin tomorrow morning. It was announced by officials of the Dixie speedway today that 120 miles per hour would be required of every entrant before he would be allowed to go to the tape next Wednesday. This is the fastest time ever required for qualification on any speedway. A speed of 110 miles an hour was demanded last year before a car could start in the annual Thanksgiving Day race on the Culver City speed bowl, but the Dixie auto race fans want real speed and any entrant who cannot turn the course at 120 miles an hour will not get a chance to clutter up the course and delay the traffic.

FITZSIMMONS IS NOT WORRYING

Refuses to Get Excited Over Benton's Blast

Says Dempsey-Wills Bout is Sure-Fire Thing

Champion Due Back Today from Mexican Tour

Floyd Fitzsimmons, who has Jack Dempsey's signed contract for a bout with Harry Wills next fall, was about the city yesterday following an illness of several days which has kept him confined to the Barbara Hotel. The Indiana promoter was not in the least disturbed by recent announcements from Rob Roy Benton, Dempsey's former social secretary or manager, to the effect that Jack never intended to go through with his contract.

"Those kind of rumors always crop up when a big fight is in the offing," said Fitzsimmons. "Coming from Benton, who has recently lost his job, they are naturally not swallowed by the sporting public."

According to Fitzsimmons, attempts to get the bout switched to New York will meet with failure. Indiana officials are solidly back of the scrap and don't want to be dictated to by Gotham, so there is little chance of Tex Rickard or any other New York promoter stealing the show from Indiana, says Fitzsimmons.

Dempsey, who has been barnstorming in Mexico, is expected back home some time today. He and Fitzsimmons will confer on certain details of the bout which were not taken up when the principals signed papers some time ago.

SOUTH BEND (Ind.) Nov. 6. The arrival of Ray Cannon, Jack Dempsey's attorney, here this afternoon together with talk that the champion is not satisfied with his contract, lends a little weight to the charges Rob Roy Benton issued Wednesday in Los Angeles that "interests are at work to undermine the fight."

Cannon refused to comment on the attack made verbally on him by Benton. "Dempsey is not satisfied with a few of the details in his contract and I am here to straighten them out if possible. Dempsey's signature makes the articles he signed valid, but he would like them changed if possible. I am merely representing him," Cannon stated.

BERKELEY, Nov. 6. — Helen Wills, national and Olympic woman's tennis champion, today was awarded a sweater and "big C" by the Women's Athletic Association of the University of California. An honorary membership in the association accompanied the letter.

Although she has never represented the university in a tennis competition, Miss Wills was honored in recognition of her achievement in twice winning the national championship.

CONFERENCE TEAMS CLASH

Occidental Meets Caltech at Rose Bowl in Their Annual Battle; Branch Plays Bulldogs

Two more hurdles confront the local University of California football team, which, if they are successfully leaped will give the Grizzly team at least a tie for first place in the Southern California conference with Occidental. The Grizzly aggregation will face the first barrier that blocks its path this afternoon, when Coach Hoge Workman brings his fast coming Redlands team to the Vermont-avenue tanbark for an hour's argument.

Over in the direction of the Crown City, Occidental will battle the Caltech Engineers in their annual classic and if past meetings of the two schools can be taken as a criterion, the struggle will be hotly waged.

The fact that the Tiger is a strong favorite to win the tilt will have but little effect on the final result.

On the face of past showings, comparative scores, dope sheets et cetera, the Grizzly, which has earned its spurs for the first time is favored to muzzle the Redlands bulldog. The dope can has been cracked so many times this season that the Grizzly is not an overwhelming favorite to win and a Bulldog victory wouldn't stir a great ripple in the local football pond.

"Hoge" Workman

TEAMS IN SHAPE

Coaches Workman and Spaulding both report their teams in the best of condition and as the two squads are practically equal as to weight and experience there should be an absence of the usual alibis after the battle. Peake, Muggler and Hudson were out of the St. Mary's game with injuries, but are now in fine fettle, while the Bulldog stable continues to enjoy the best of health.

At the beginning of the season, Redlands was considered the weak sister of the conference along with

TROJANS TACKLE BRONCS

Santa Clara Eleven to Afford U.S.C. Athletes Rough Afternoon at Coliseum Today

BY BRAVEN DYER

If you saw Notre Dame in action at the Rose Bowl last New Year's and are anxious for a peek at an outfit which functions along the same lines as the famous Irish eleven drive the family chariot out to the Coliseum this afternoon and take in the Santa Clara-U.S.C. grid encounter. The game starts at 2:30 o'clock, with a preliminary clash between the Trojan frosh and LaVerne College billed for 12:45.

Adam Walsh had his Broncs cavorting about the Coliseum yesterday afternoon for a workout. They looked good. The same speed which characterized Notre Dame's style of attack last year is very much in evidence. The same deception which made the Rockne team the class of the country a season ago is part and parcel of the Santa Clara system. Walsh, who was center on Rockne's great creation of 1924, is blessed with

GRANGE TOO SLOW FOR ARMY BACKS---SO'S YOUR OLD MAN

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—Capt. John J. McEwan, head football coach at West Point, today dismissed rumors that "Red" Grange, captain and star back of the University of Illinois team, would enter the military academy next fall as unimportant, even if true.

"Absolutely no truth in these reports," said Capt. McEwan. "We know nothing about Grange coming here next fall or any time as a student. If he did come we would not use him on the gridiron, as he would slow up our backfield. He just could not fit in with our backfield at all."

Capt. McEwan's statement was made over the telephone, so it was impossible to tell whether he made these remarks with a twinkle in his eye or any perceptible wink. If not, they constitute one of the most remarkable statements ever made by a football coach.

RIVALS IN GREAT SHAPE FOR BITTER STRUGGLE

BY ED R. HUGHES
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SEATTLE, Nov. 6.—If the weather tomorrow is as bright and snappy as it is today, there should be a whale of a football game when Stanford and Washington meet in the Washington Stadium. The weather is perfect for football and the Stanford boys are champing the bit and saying "aha," as they sniff the battle from afar, like the famous war horses of Holy Writ. There is not a sore muscle on the Stanford squad, not an ache nor a pain, so if they lose Saturday it will not be because of poor condition. It is not often that a big fotball squad is brought up to a game so late in the season in such wonderful physical shape.

The Washington boys are also rarin' to go. The reports of the illness of George Wilson, the Washington star, were greatly exaggerated. He was sick last summer, but he is in fine shape now. Capt. Tesreau was hurt last Saturday, but not seriously, and he will be in the thick of battle tomorrow and great things are expected of him.

HUSKIES WON LAST

The Stanford team has not played here since 1921 when the score was 0 to 0. In 1920 Stanford beat Washington, 3-0, here, when Dink Templeton kicked a goal from the field. In 1922 Washington beat Stanford at Palo Alto, 12-8, and the teams have not met since then.

The first man to meet Coach "Pop" Warner here this morning was his younger, but bigger, brother Bill, who has a mighty man at Cornell years ago. Brother Bill has been watching Washington, so he gave "Pop" the low down on the Huskies.

The game will be between teams composed of big, strong fellows, with the strength of each team principally in the backfield. Each team has stars in the backfield and green men in the line. How those green men will go when the battle gets hot remains to be seen. The result of the game may turn on the work of the two lines.

Stanford has had more stiff competition than Washington, although the Huskies have 4 game with Nebraska under their belt and another with Washington State. They could have ... the Nebraska game had they run their plays off a little faster, for they were beaten out of one touchdown by the clock. They had the ball on the 1-foot line when the half ended.

WASHINGTON DUMB

There are those in Seattle who say the Huskies are strong, but not smart. They have been saying that for several years, so it may have become a habit. They know that Wilson and Tesreau are powerful line-smashers and Wilson is a clever carrier of the ball. Both are great on defense, but aside

L.A. High Gridders Display Championship Form in Walloping Manual Arts, 33 t

ROMANS SMEAR ARTISAN SQUAD

Don Moses is Big Star for Blue and White Team

Pioneer Half Runs Seventy Yards for Touchdown

Victors Use Second Eleven to Keep Down Score

BY ROBERT RAY

Displaying championship form, the L. A. High gridders made it a Roman holiday yesterday at the Coliseum where they walloped Sid Foster's Manual Arts Toilers, 33 to 0, before 10,000 fans. Had not Coaches Ed Rich and Herb White elected to yank their regulars near the end of the first half and keep them out until the game was almost over, the Romans would have run up at least fifty points, so helpless were the Toilers before the onrushing Blue-and-White attack.

Judging from the way the Romans played yesterday, they should defeat Polytechnic by twenty-one points when they tackle the Mechanics Thanksgiving Day.

Don Moses, all-City half-back of last year, featured the annual battle between the two City League rivals by tearing off one 70-yard run for a touchdown and making many other substantial gains through the Purple and Grey defense. Theophilis Smith, the Black in Blue, Louie Almada and Moffatt of the regular Roman backfield also ripped through for large chunks of ground, while Tupper, Cohen and Alexander of the second quartet of backs did some good work. The Blue and White line also performed in sterling fashion, allowing the Toilers few first downs.

The Romans rushed over a touchdown in the early part of the first quarter, mainly through some long gains by Moses. After a couple of exchanges of punts, L. A. High took the ball in its own territory and started an offensive that wound up in a score. Moses broke loose for a 38-yard gain, and then an 11-yard gain, while Almada added seven more yards. Smith went over for the touchdown from the 1-yard line. Almada missed the goal.

Not long after this Moses uncorked his 70-yard sprint for the second touchdown. Moses made a beautiful run, shaking off Manual tacklers all over the greensward and weaving his way from one side of the field to the other in his dash for more L. A. High points. Almada converted this one from placement.

The Romans made two more touchdowns in the second period, marching right down the field through the so-called Manual defense for the next scores. Smith plowed over from the one-foot line, where Moffatt had taken the ball, for the third touchdown. Almada's kick was blocked by Oreb.

The Romans mixed in a few passes with line plunges to make their next touchdown, Moffatt ran Oreb's kick-off to his 32-yard line and then Moses and Almada cracked the line for six yards in two tries. Almada then passed 15 yards to Moses, who ran 25 more yards to the Manual 20-yard mark. Moffatt made it first down on the 9-yard line, but a 15-yard penalty for holding set the Romans back a ways. Almada then dropped back and passed to De Ford, who snagged the ball in back of the Toiler secondary defense just as he was crossing the goal line. The Toilers were completely fooled by the pass, all of them, figuring that it was the same pass used before, rushed over to cover Moses, leaving De Ford all by his lonesome to score the touchdown. Almada converted, bringing the count to 26 to 0.

FIRST TEAM RETIRES

The Roman first squad then retired from action, leaving the second-string eleven to finish the half. Even the second eleven, which was still in when the third quarter started, rushed over a touchdown on the Toilers. A pass from Alexander to Hendershot accounted for this score, and Alexander converted.

Manual threatened to score in the fourth period, the Roman coaches running in their regulars when the Toilers had the ball on L. A. High's 8-yard line. DeMiceli made two yards, Oreb plowed over the Roman goal line, but the play was called back and Manual penalized five yards for off-side. Oreb carried the ball to the 5-yard line on the next play, but was smeared for an 11-yard loss when he tried a pass over the goal line. The Romans took the ball and were never in danger during the rest of the tilt, a fumble robbing them of another possible touchdown.

COVINA WIPES OUT PUENTE GRID TEAM

Covina steam-rollered itself to a 51-to-0 victory over Puente in a San Fernando Valley League game played yesterday. Beattie featured for the winners scoring three touchdowns. Reinke gathered a pair. Covina gained ground almost at will, scoring 19 first downs during the game compared with three for the enemy. Most of the touchdowns were scored through the line, few long runs being registered. The score:

Covina		Puente

A ROAMIN' ROMAN ROAMING

According to the ancient historians, Moses was supposed to have come from Egypt and points North, but the Manual Arts gridders discovered yesterday at the Coliseum that Moses was a Roman. Moses, first name Don, had quite a bit to do with L. A. High's 33-to-0 victory over Manual at the Coliseum. Above Mr. Moses is shown coming out of the bullrushes of the Roman interference. Oreb is the Toiler about to make an attempt to tackle Moses.

Washington State Promises California Fight in Conference Tilt Today

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

BERKELEY, Nov. 6.—The Cougars from Washington State College, twenty-eight strong, arrived here today from the north and after a brief rest, proceeded to the stadium to sharpen the claws with which they hope to annihilate the Golden Bear tomorrow.

The squad from Pullman all reported here in good shape. A short workout displayed a fast, smooth-moving eleven, capable of giving the Bears plenty of stiff opposition.

lowed with a left to the head and another right to the body, and down went Wilson. Referee Holborrow got one behind Timer Billy Coe in the count and Wilson rose when the referee tolled nine. However, Coe ruled that Wilson was down for ten and the battle was awarded to Atkinson.

Alkie Akel and Johnny Godfrey, a pair of rip-snorting featherweights, battled six rounds to a draw in the special event. It was a wild, slam-bang affair with the battlers using every known punch in the boxing category and also inventing a few in an effort to score a knockout.

FREEMAN VICTOR

Pat Freeman and Jack Murphy, a couple of heavyweights spending an evening off from their trucks, collided in the second bout and the former got the nod. Murphy's best trick was to make a lot of bad faces, but they couldn't win him the verdict because Freeman was landing punches while Jack was making faces. However, the boys are probably good truck drivers.

Sailor Carter slapped Harry McGrath to slumberland in the third round of the opener. In playing the sandman, Carter used a series of rights and lefts to the head instead of sand to make McGrath close his eyes. McGrath landed on his face and was so completely out that the referee didn't even go through the business of counting.

Inglewood is Defeated by Compton Team

U.S.C. TAKES ON BRONC ELEVEN

Every one of the ball carriers is an adept passer. We stood on the side lines yesterday afternoon and watched Sam Dagley, former Pasadena athlete, waft the oval down the field to either Capt. Storm or Red Chisholm. It wasn't long before Dick Hassler was tossing the leather, with somebody else on the receiving end—maybe a halfback, sometimes the full. Then "Lefty" Casanova and Kenny McCormick took turns at propelling the pigskin through the air. We wouldn't care to be numbered among the secondary defense players of U.S.C.'s eleven today for it looks as if the air would be full of footballs, with a lot of mighty efficient young men battling for the honor of snagging the oval.

The Santa Clara line is composed of seven very determined young men. Their determination today consists in making U.S.C. earn every foot gained and making them earn it at the expense of a lot of hard knocks. Mr. Guido Granucci, a gentleman of 195 pounds, plays center for the visitors, and to all appearances will give Jeff Cravath, the Trojan pivot man, a decidedly unpleasant afternoon of it. The other linemen, while not quite as big as Granucci, look tough and willing, while Red Chisholm and Capt. Storm are in the same class with Hobbs Adams and Allen Behrendt, and maybe a bit better at tackling. Walsh says they're demons when it comes to going down on punts.

Casanova does the booting and is doped to outdistance the Trojan kickers maybe ten yards a crack. With this edge in punting and a fighting line, the Broncs ought to hold the score below the four touchdown margin which the betors are allowing.

Henry LeFebvre probably won't be seen in action today. The stocky fullback was injured in practice recently and Coach Jones doesn't want him bugged up for the Iowa game, so he may warm the bench this afternoon. Either Bob Lee or Manual Laranetta, who has been doing some first-class fullbacking of late, will start.

Today's victory brought Canter's owner a total of $59,340, by virtue of his Maryland breeding. The futurity was worth $65,880 with $54,340 to the winner, and $5000 added by the Maryland Jockey Club for a Maryland colt. Canter's reaching nose also brought his total winnings for the season up

Pomona, but since the Bulldogs gave Occidental a scare and defeated the Caltech Engineers last Saturday, they have been calsified among the dangerous conference squads. "Sandy" McGilbra carries the Redlands punch. He is triple-threat man and a veteran of three years' varsity experience. Every other man on the Redlands team, with the exception of West, is a veteran of a year's standing or more.

GRIZZLIES ARE FAVORED

The Grizzlies outside of the Whittier fracas have played consistently good football. The line is one of the tightest in the conference and the backfield contains two men of all-conference caliber. The same backfield that functioned so smoothly against Occidental will go in against Redlands. Peake will hold down the fullback berth. Walton and Turney will be seen at halves and Birlenbach will call signals.

Southern Branch was defeated once by a fighting band of Poets and therein lies their greatest danger. The Bulldogs are a fighting pack and unless the Grizzly machine develops an equal amount of fight Coach Workman's squad may furnish quite a surprise.

CALTECH BATTLES OXY AT ROSE BOWL

Caltech and Occidental have been pointing for their big game for so many years that it has become a habit. The Engineers usually put up a whale of a battle and the fans get their money's worth. Caltech is weaker this year than in past seasons and, now that the Tiger has at last gotten off on the right foot, it looks like the Oxy squad should win by at least three touchdowns.

Solly Mishkin, the Occidental star, is looked to furnish the thrills of the afternoon. In the Whittier game Mishkin ran back punts deep into enemy territory and was the shining light of the game. "Stu" Johnson, playing his last year of varsity football, and Capt. Jack Baker will attempt to uphold the Engineers' end of the struggle. Johnson is a whiz at running the ends, but he will have plenty of opposition in Godett and Hazeltine, the Oxy wing men.

Coach "Foxy" Stanton, the Caltech mentor, has been saying little, but he has been burning the midnight oil, and his trusty pipe that never leaves him has been worked overtime. The Engineers have shown very little so far this year, and if they have anything to show at all Stanton will uncork it this afternoon. The Engineers are weak against a passing attack and the line is none too strong. Their greatest strength lies in an aerial game, but whether such an attack will succeed against Oxy remains to be seen.

Occidental will probably depend on straight football, with Wheeler and Turley taking jabs at the line, while Mishkin does his stuff on long end runs. Occidental will be working hard to defeat the Engineers, for a defeat would ruin the Tigers' chances for the title.

GRANGE IN FINAL CONFERENCE GAME AS CHICAGO, ILLINI MEET; CRIMSON, TIGERS CLASH TODAY

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 6.—The drive toward a football championship will gather momentum tomorrow as three undefeated Pacific Coast Conference elevens swing into action.

Washington and Stanford, each boasting a perfect conference record and spurred on by rivalry dating back thirty-two years, claim virtually all Coast interest in their clash at Seattle.

George Wilson, premier Washington halfback, and Ernie Nevers, Cardinal star, will make a bid for individual honors. Both have been mentioned for all-American honors. The teams will meet on even terms with cool weather expected to favor the Huskies slightly.

BEARS FAVORED

Another game with conference bearing brings together Idaho and Montana at Moscow.

The University of Southern California, handicapped by injured players and minus the services of its star end, Badgro, takes on Santa Clara at Los Angeles.

RED IN EAST

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—Tinges of red, signs of football conflagration, flared at two great battle fields on the eastern front tonight as invaders approached—the Crimson of Cambridge and the Carmelian of Cornell.

In this sectional strife, East pitted against East in traditional struggles, the advance of the western attackers has almost been forgotten.

Notre Dame comes east to face Penn State and Ohio Wesleyan advances on Syracusa.

Cornell and Dartmouth, undefeated and high-scoring machines, facing each other at Hanover, N. H. Enthusiasm over Harvard and Princeton, both conquered in earlier games is largely confined to the followers of both elevens.

Harvard has high hopes in its engagement with Princeton, the first game of the "Big Three" series, although it has been a very lean year for the Crimson. Princeton's season, too, has been poor.

Holy Cross and Fordham, both undefeated, come to grips at the Polo Grounds.

Pittsburgh and Washington and Jefferson meet in the new Pitt stadium. Other games of interest in the East are: Yale vs. Maryland; Wesleyan vs. Williams; Lafayette vs. Rutgers; Columbia vs. New York University; Colgate vs. Providence, and Navy vs. West Maryland.

EXPECT 70,000

CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—Illinois, the team which wrecked Pennsylvania's dreams of a national football championship, and Chicago, undefeated in the Western Conference race, meet in Champaign tomorrow in the outstanding contest of the Middle West.

A record-breaking crowd of 69,000 to 70,000 spectators will pack the $2,000,000 Illinois memorial stadium to pay tribute to "Red" Grange, who tomorrow plays his last conference game on the gridiron which, three years ago, gave him his start to fame. The famous redhead will wind up his intercollegiate career against Ohio State at Columbus two weeks hence.

The Western Conference has three other games up for decision. Michigan, undefeated, and with its goal uncrossed, comes to Chicago to play Northwestern on Soldiers' Field in Grant Park.

KUTSCH INJURED

Iowa's championship aspirations will receive a severe test when meeting Wisconsin at Iowa City tomorrow. The Hawkeyes are strong favorites and hold a decided edge over the Badgers, but the Wisconsin crew is given an outside chance. With Cowboy Nick Kutsch out of the game because of injuries, Iowa will depend mostly upon Fullback Wesley Fry for its offense.

Indianapolis travels to Columbus to meet Ohio State.

from that they do not give Washington much. They expect the team to stand up well under a hard hammering, however.

No one can guess the style of game Stanford will play. With the men Stanford has in the backfield, the team can play almost any style that "Pop" orders. Mitchell will run the team and he is by far the best quarterback Stanford has had in recent years. He really mixes the plays and makes good use of his weapons.

Capt. Nevers will be a marked man, for up here they think he is about half the Stanford team. If they concentrate on him they may wake up and find that Murphy or Bogue has the ball.

The Stanford men will pay particular attention to George Wilson. He is the big threat of the Washington team. Patton is faster than Wilson, but is not as good a football player. Patton earned fame here last year by cutting across lots and catching Imlay of the California team from behind. They have been talking about that here ever since.

San Diego and Santa Ana Are Leading League

San Diego and Santa Ana, leaders in the Coast League, are expected to get by without much difficulty in the games scheduled today. The Hilltops are to engage Whittier in the Border City stadium, while Santa Ana entertains the Glendale Dynamiters. In the other games, South Pasadena journeys to Long Beach in what is expected to prove the feature clash of the afternoon, while Alhambra entertains Pasadena.

Neither San Diego nor Santa Ana has suffered defeat yet this year and both coaches are planning on using the second-stringers against the relatively weak opponents today.

Long Beach has steadily improved since dropping the opening game of the season to Santa Ana, and is slight favorite to win over South Pasadena.

CITRUS UNION WINS OVER MONTEBELLANS

Citrus Union defeated Montebello, 26 to 7, in a San Gabriel Valley League grid game staged yesterday on the victors' field. The Citrus Union eleven cinched the game by scoring 19 points in the first half. Thrasher scored one touchdown for Citrus when he intercepted a pass and romped 35 yards over the goal line.

Women's Club Champion Defeats Mrs. R. J. Breed

Mrs. Wallie Lohman Eliminates Mrs. Lifur, 5 and 4

Other Matches in All Tourney Flight Finals

BY BILL WISE

Miss Anna Webster, former woman champion at Hollywood, traversed the 19th hole yesterday, to defeat Mrs. R. J. Breed, a club mate, for invitational honors in the fifth flight of the Hollywood golf tourney for women.

The sporting match in the title round of the enjoyable event that drew more than seventy entries, was a dramatic close to the successful invitational event in the women's auxiliary schedule.

Mrs. Wallie P. Lohman, another Hollywood Club member, defeated Mrs. Gregg Lifur of the Los Angeles Club, 5 and 4, for the fifth flight trophy. Mrs. Lohman defeated Mrs. Madeline Collins, also of the Rancho Club, 3 and 1, for the third-flight honors.

Mrs. Robert Garlick of Brentwood won the fourth-flight cup by defeating Mrs. J. J. Quinn, 5 and 4. Miss Eleanor Hovey and Mrs. Roberts Riddle of the Los Angeles Club were playing through the sixth-flight cups. Miss Hovey had an early lead and managed to keep in front of Mrs. Riddle during the fast match.

Mrs. J. C. Frudd defeated Mrs. T. Jastf, 1 up, in the sixth flight. Mrs. Hal Nall won from Mrs. H. Behrens, 2 and 1, in the seventh flight.

Mrs. Bill Amor, Willie Lowe and Polly Lynch handled all details and contributed much to the success of Mrs. A. E. D. Trabue's tourney. The next event on the golf calendar will be the medal-play handicap tourney at the Los Angeles Country Club, Tuesday, November 10.

OBSERVATIONS

BY THE INNOCENT BYSTANDER, BILL HENRY

WHEN we read a statement attributed to Coach Howard Jones of U.S.C. the other day we couldn't suppress a polite giggle. We were giggling with Mr. Jones, however, and not at him. He was quoted as expecting Washington to beat Stanford today, California to beat Washingto nnext week and then Stanford to beat California the following Saturday. We don't know, of course, whether the U.S.C. mentor was properly quoted or not but we couldn't help feeling that in this case the wish was father to the thought, for such a situation would be the only possible one by which the Trojans could be assured a tie for first place in the Conference. It would leave U.S.C., California, Stanford and Washington all tied with one game lost and the rest won. Well, that wouldn't be such a bad idea at that.

We were about to remark that the day had passed in football when a team could be cocky. We will add to that—and get away with it. No. Football is getting to be entirely too much a matter of common knowledge nowadays. Very few teams which play each other in any kind of a league are more than a couple of touchdowns better than the rest of them under any normal conditions. If the better team is in the right frame of mind and the weaker one isn't, the score sometimes goes up to half a dozen touchdowns. If it's the other way, the normally weaker team can get away with a win and really earns it.

We have seen Poly, for instance, play both Manual Arts and Lincoln. We don't believe that Poly is more than a touchdown better than the Railsplitters normally nor much over two touchdowns better than Manual. Yet against the Toilers, Poly was in the right frame of mind and Manual was just naturally disorganized and the margin was forty points. Against the Railsplitters Poly wasn't in the right frame of mind and Lincoln was and the boys from the North end of town won a well deserved victory that ought to go down in history as one of the greatest wins Lincoln ever put across. You've got to keep your head up these days.

The team which loses has no right to offer any excuse. The proper mental attitude is one of the greatest things in football and is just as much a part of a game as good blocking, good tackling, good material good plays, good officiating or any of the other things which go to make up the great American game. And the mental attitude is the one department of the game over which the coach has the least control. He can teach the team how to play but that's a simple job compared with getting the team in the proper frame of mind and keeping it there through a whole season.

To our mind that's one reason for the success of a team with a single star like Red Grange of Illinois or Tryon of Colgate. The team has only one thing to think about and that is, to make the plays of the big star go the way they ought to go. It is a plain case of eleven minds with but a single thought and after you get them in the idea that their only chance of winning lies in mowing down the opposition so that Grange can do his stuff, you have the matter down to words of one syllable and you get real teamwork.

HARVARD-PRINCETON GAME "PLAYED" HERE

Harvard and Princeton fans will be able to see the annual game "played" here today. The Harvard club has provided a scoreboard and diagram at the University Club, according to W. T. Pickering, and a private wire will record the plays immediately after they are made in the East.

LOCAL LAUGHS

Each week The Times produces a film entitled "Local Laughs," consisting of the fifteen best jokes submitted by local people. Weekly prizes are paid of $5, $3, and twelve of $1 each. A list of theaters showing the film, together with names her submitting jokes, are given daily in a coupon in The Times. Prize-winning jokes, and names and addresses of winners, appear only on the coupon. Jokes receiving honorable mention will be given a place of honor on The Times comic page each week-day, and each of these contributors will receive a souvenir of acknowledgement.

Troy and many more. It became necessary to limit each speaker to ten minutes.

At the close of the meeting a committee was appointed to combat the incorporation movement, petitions for which are now in circulation.

DISCOVER DEATH MYSTERY

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SANTA ANA, Nov. 6.—From a neatly wrapped parcel which has been lying in a local lumber office for the last twelve days waiting for a claimant on the theory that a workman had lost it, police extracted all the elements of a murder riddle as mysterious as they have ever confronted in this city. The package contained a complete outfit of men's clothing, cut, ripped and torn, and heavily stained with blood.

No one knows where it came from, nor who "planted" it in the lumber yard. Only slim clews are available in the clothing itself. There is no evidence anywhere in the city or surrounding territory of the body from which the clothes came, but officers are positive the garments recently adorned a man who was brutally slain somewhere in Southern California.

He thought a workman had set the package down and forgotten it, so turned it in at the company office. For several succeeding days, employees of the concern thought that someone would claim it. Then they temporarily forgot about it. Today, the package came again to attention and it was determined to open it in the hope that its contents would give some clew to the identity of the owner.

The heavy wrapping paper was undone carefully.

There came to view a cap, shirt, necktie, handkerchief, coat, underclothing, trousers, belt, socks and shoes. One of the shoes was badly smashed, as if crushed by a heavy object.

Then it was discovered that the larger garments were cut and slashed and that all of the articles were heavily stained.

City Marshal Rogers was notified at once.

An investigation of the clothing, piece by piece, brought to light a label in the cap, indicating that it had been purchased at 400 Central avenue, Los Angeles.

On the lining of the coat were the numerals 39207.

Efforts were begun at once to check the Los Angeles store in the hope of finding some further clew to the supposed murder victim's identity.

Santa Fe Train Conductor Dies From Injuries

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SANTA ANA, Nov. 6. — C. R. Strain, 60 years of age, resident of San Bernardino and conductor on a local Santa Fe train, received injuries last night at Aliso station, three miles south of Santa Ana, which resulted in his death, at the Santa Fe depot here.

Strain was badly crushed. There were no eyewitnesses to the accident. The freight train left here late yesterday for Aliso to take on a shipment of tomatoes. After receiving the shipment, it started back to Santa Ana. Strain slowed the train down and is thought to have attempted to hop off the end of the caboose, presumably to telephone from a booth to the Santa Ana station regarding the location of a train which was about due from the north, when he slipped and fell and was fatally hurt.

In a critical condition, the man was brought to the Santa Ana station, dying within one hour. His body was badly mangled. Coroner Brown will hold an inquest over the body at the Winbigler Mission Funeral Home this afternoon, after which the body will be sent to San Bernardino for burial. Strain leaves a widow, who resides in San Bernardino, and a brother, T. R. Strain of Santa Monica.

YACHT RESCUED AS DESTRUCTION NEARS

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SANTA BARBARA, Nov. 6.—The yacht Elva, owned by Elmer Boeseke, Jr., noted polo[illegible], was rescued just as it was about to go on the rocks eighteen miles south of Santa Barbara after breaking away from its moorings in the harbor. Fishermen sighted the drifting yacht and after fighting for several hours with high winds in the channel, placed a line on it and towed it back to port.

BEACH CITY CLUB DRIVE SUPPORTED

Business Behind Move to Raise Advertising Fund of $30,000

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

SANTA MONICA, Nov. 6.—That the business houses of Santa Monica are grouping themselves solidly behind the Greater Santa Monica Club in the initiation of their annual advertising fund drive for $30,000, which begins Monday, was indicated today with the receipt of numerous letters from business leaders here by F. J. Cross, chairman of the finance committee of the club, in which whole-hearted support and co-operation is promised.

"We always are glad to contribute to this campaign fund and to do all in our power to further the interest of the club, realizing the benefits which this city has derived in the past and will derive in the future," was the general tenor of business men's reaction to the announcement of the drive.

Daily conferences have been held by the team captains and committees in preparation for the start of the drive in order that the entire territory can be covered in a week's time.

"If we overlook anyone in the drive, it will be unintentional," Mr. Cross said today, "and we hope those that we do miss will notify the club, for this drive will benefit the whole community and make for a better and bigger Santa Monica and consequently bigger and better business."

Counsel Opinion Bars Candidate as Nonresident

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

SANTA MONICA, Nov. 6.—Rex Teele, Rotarian, and a director of the Greater Santa Monica Club, announced his withdrawal as a candidate for the Board of Education today, following a ruling by the County Counsel that he had not fulfilled the residence requirement.

Teele, until several months ago, lived in Santa Monica Canyon, outside the city limits. The city charter states that candidates for local offices must have lived within the city for one year.

Teele with others when he filed his candidacy believed this ruling did not apply to the school board, as the school district extends considerably beyond the city limits. The city charter was interpreted by the County Counsel as applying to the school board as well as to municipal positions.

Teele's withdrawal leaves six in the race for two positions at the December 1 election. Those remaining are Ira D. Wheeler, D. C. Freeman, Wallace Willette, Mrs. Blanche Carlisle, Mrs. J. M. Connon and George Hart.

Fresno Wants Slayer Suspect Held in North

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

FRESNO, Nov. 6. — Wanted here on a charge of murderous assault on an 11-year-old boy on New Year's night and on suspicion of murder of Pat Gentile, taxi driver, in whose car he escaped after the attack on the boy, Tom Evans pleaded not guilty to a murder charge in Tacoma, Wash., today and refused to discuss the Fresno charges, according to advices received here.

Arrested under the name of Charles Walsh, Evans admitted his identity and also that he was formerly a resident of Fresno, the advices stated.

The Fresno police have sent full information of the local charges and a warrant for arrest to Tacoma to be used in the event Evans gains his freedom on the murder charge.

ANGELENOS PURCHASE VALLEY DUCK FARMS

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BAKERSFIELD, Nov. 6.—Fred C. Hartman, of the Hoegee Arms Company of Los Angeles, has purchased a 160-acre duck farm in the McAdoo and Gilbert preserves west of Wasco. The property is highly improved and is one of the clubs in that district. Mr. Hartman purchased these grounds for the personal use of himself and friends. Another purchase is also reported of a club in this same preserve, same being bought by Eddie Schmidt and William F. White, two Los Angeles business men.

HUGE GARDEN PLANNED

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SANTA BARBARA, Nov. 6.—Plans for the largest botanical garden in California, covering nine square city blocks, were announced here today by George F. and A. J. Six nurseries within the city will be re-established on the new property.

PLAY'S SETTING LAID IN DESERT

Palm Springs Drama Staged in Nature's Theater

Noted Actors Take Roles in Indian Pageant

Natives of Wastelands Lend Authentic Touch

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PALM SPRINGS, Nov. 6.—Bringing to a climax many weeks of rehearsals and intensive study by a corps of artists recruited from the best dramatic talent of the Pacific Coast, the fourth annual Desert Play will be presented tomorrow and Sunday in Tahquitz Canyon, adjacent to Palm Springs.

The Desert Play is sponsored annually by the citizens of Palm Springs, and is given under the direction of Garnet Holme, who has produced many beautiful plays and pageants of the desert, the forests, the mountains and the old missions of California. He has lately been appointed by Congress to the position of play producer for the national parks of the United States.

All indications point to the largest attendance this year in the history of the Desert Play. The play will begin promptly at 3 p.m., and close at 4 each day. Palm Springs is 116 miles over paved highways from Los Angeles, and can be reached by way of either Riverside or Redlands.

INDIANS AS ACTORS

This year for the first time in the history of the play, the Cahuilla Indians, natives of the desert country surrounding Palm Springs, will be active participants.

The desert theater itself is unique. The audience, seated on the banks of a dry creek, looks out across the desert to great sand dunes and mountains. As the play progresses, the setting sun turns the whole background into a bewildering fairyland of changing color. The costumes and songs are of the days when Indians roamed the desert sands. The action of the play is timed with the sunset.

The Desert Play this year deals with an Indian legend which had its setting in the Palm Springs region. More than 100 people will be in the cast, many of the principals being among the best dramatic artists of the Pacific Coast.

OLD FAVORITES SEEN

Earl Schenck, the Alessandro of the annual Ramona Pageant at Hemet, will appear in the role of Tahquitz, the Indian chief who goes mad because the love of an Indian maiden is refused him. Boyd Irwin will play the lover of the story. Ross Corbin will appear as the blind man. Miss Helen Conner, who has a leading role in the Pilgrimage Play, has an important part in the Desert Play. Mrs. William Severence will appear as Suena. Norman Peck, one of the national park players, will be Guna, the mad prophet of evil. George Dunham of Pomona College, will be Salloc, the aged chief, whose advanced years have taken his power from him.

Students of the St. Boniface Indian School at Banning, will take important parts. They will sing Indian songs and will give the Indian bridal dances, death dances and war dances.

Citizens of Palm Springs this week decided to make the Desert Play an annual event.

Mail Carrier's Baby Chick Side Line Profitable

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

VAN NUYS, Nov. 6.—C. G. Lawrence, one of the Van Nuys city mail carriers, is making a go of his chicken business on the side—doing so well, in fact, that his success is inspiring others to follow his suit.

About three and a half months ago, Lawrence bought 500 baby Plymouth Rock chicks from a hatchery in San Jose. The chicks arrived in good condition, but because of the hot weather that followed he lost about 150 of them. Of the remaining, he sold a large bunch of cockerels weighing from two and a half to three pounds at top prices, when they were 3 months of age. He now has a large lot of pullets weighing between three and three and a half pounds, that are worth $1.25 apiece. He also has a good flock of capons which he says will bring about 50 cents a pound. These capons, which Lawrence himself caponized, now weigh four and a half pounds.

Lawrence today stated that his venture has turned out so well, despite his first loss of 150 chicks, that he intends to order more chicks, and probably will arrange to buy about 500 of them every thirty or forty days.

SAN DIEGO BRIBE TRIAL NEAR END

Councilman's Case Closed by Both Sides

Prosecuting Witness Called Back to Stand

Defense Produces Surprise Testimony of Two

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 6.—Both prosecution and defense in the trial of Councilman Harry K. Weitzel, charged with agreeing to accept bribes, announced at noon today that their cases had been completed and there remained only the argument of counsel and charge of the court before the case will be placed in the jury's hands.

An agreement was reached that argument be held to one and one-half hours for each side. With another half-hour allotted to the judge's charge to the jury, it was expected that the deliberations of that body would begin at 5 o'clock.

The prosecution recalled Ed Fletcher and Ed Fletcher, Jr., to deny conversations Weitzel testified he had with the two at various times.

The defense sprung two surprise witnesses, Charles C. Hirons and his wife, Harriet A. Hirons. Fletcher had vehemently denied that he had supported Weitzel in his campaign early this year for re-election. Both Hirons and his wife testified to having received circulars, urging Weitzel's re-election and bearing the name of Ed Fletcher, among others, as his supporters.

Mrs. Hirons was asked what circumstances enabled her to recall the fact that Fletcher's name appeared on the circular.

"Because it cost Mr. Weitzel my vote to have Mr. Fletcher among his supporters," answered the witness.

The prosecuting counsel objected to the answer, and the court ordered it stricken from the records.

Councilmen Stewart and Bruschi were recalled to testify that never had they held any conversation with Weitzel relative to accepting or asking money for their votes.

New Pasadena Newspaper to be Issued Soon

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, Nov. 6.—The Pasadena Morning Sun, a newspaper to appear six days a week, will issue its first number the 23rd inst., according to present plans. A new plant has been installed at 1270 East Colorado street, and subscriptions and advertising are now being solicited.

J. Leo Meehan, son-in-law of the late Gene Stratton Porter, is president of the publishing company. He is an experienced newspaper man, and was city editor of the Salt Lake City Tribune and Telegram. E. C. Schmidt, managing editor of the California Oil World, is vice-president, and Roger Wilson, formerly of Fort Wayne, Ind., will be business manager and treasurer.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

ANAHEIM, Nov. 6.—Sale of the E. T. Williams home on North La Habra Heights to Warren W. Beckwith for a reported consideration of $100,000 was made known here today. The place consists of twenty-three acres, set to orange and lemon trees, just beginning to bear fruit. The house located on the property was built at a cost of $45,000.

The new owner of the property, a former army captain and a trainer of fine polo ponies, expects to build stables for his mounts. The buyer takes the furnishings of the house, which are reported to have cost $10,000.

OCEAN FRONT TRAM COMPANY REFORMED

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

VENICE, Nov. 6.—Reorganization of the tram company which operates between Ocean Park and Santa Monica on the Ocean Front promenade, was effected today under the name of the Pacific Transit Company. Capital stock of the concern was listed as $150,000.

Under the reorganization effected by George Acret, local attorney, the following directors were named: Max Markowitz, George Acret, David D. Pascoe, Harry J. Mallen and J. M. Katz. The last two are Los Angeles men. The company has a twenty-five-year franchise with seventeen years to run.

SAN DIEGO BUDGET STRAINED

Salary Increases Leave Operating Department Without Sufficient Revenue

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 6.—When San Diego citizens voted permanent salary increases to policemen and firemen last spring, they got the City Council and the taxpayers into a pretty mess, it was revealed this morning when the Budgee Committee resumed its session.

The annual increases amount to $190,000 yearly, which adds something more than 16 cents to the police and fire budgets at the expense of the other municipal departments, the 16 cents being deducted from the 90-cent rate which the charter holds the Council to for all departments not provided for by special tax.

According to Councilmen, this means that slashes must be made in all other departments and that the one to suffer worst is the operating department. Since last year's budget was drawn up, the operating department has taken over additional territory, such as Normal Heights and East San Diego, which adds 10 per cent to operating costs.

Auditor Moody figured with the Council this morning that even if the operating department is allowed the same as this year, the 10 per cent additional required would bring the operating budget up to $1,098,072. The operating department has asked for $1,882,756.

RIGHT-OF-WAY SUIT TRIAL UP

Orange County and Rancher Set for Battle Monday Over Strip at Aliso Canyon

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SANTA ANA, Nov. 6.—County authorities on one hand and Joseph Thurston, Aliso rancher, on the other, were today squaring away for the important legal fracas over a coast boulevard right of way, which is scheduled for trial Monday before a jury and Superior Judge Williams.

The county filed suit to condemn the right of way across Thurston's property at Aliso Canyon, below Laguna Beach. A strip of 3.41 acres is wanted. Thurston claims $215,000 damages, demanding $140,000 for the strip and $75,000 severance damages. He had previously raised objection to the route selected for the highway across his property and when no agreement could be reached the matter was thrown into court.

Thurston is said to be determined that his demands shall be met by the county, and the county authorities are equally determined, they say, that no such sum shall be paid the rancher. The jury will be asked to place a value on the strip and estimate severance damage, if any.

Attorney Clyde Bishop of Santa Ana is counsel for Thurston in the case. Dist.-Atty. Nelson and former Dist.-Atty. L. A. West, who has been retained as special counsel in the proceedings, will appear for the county.

PAIR FINED RETURNING SOLD BREAD

Bakery Employee Assessed Heavier Penalty on Second Offense Against Law

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SANTA ANA, Nov. 6.—George Scheuerman, a grocer, was fined $10 and C. S. Marcil, an employee of the Holsum Bread Company of Long Beach, $100, on their conviction by a jury in Justice Morrison's court of returning sold bread. M. J. McCurdy, City Health Officer and complaining witness, testified he saw Marcil take back a loaf of bread at the grocery and return a credit slip when he delivered bread.

In assessing the heavier fine on the company, Justice Morrison said, he did so because another of its employees had been convicted of the same offense at El Monte, October 28. These two cases are believed the only ones ever brought under the law, which was passed in 1921.

Scheuerman and Marcil testified the latter had bought and paid for the bread, intending to take it to his wife in Long Beach, who was on a diet.

Venice Rejoices on Completion of Wide Street

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

VENICE, Nov. 6.—Residents of Mildred avenue and Leona Boulevard here, are celebrating today the opening of the two streets to general traffic, following a long series of difficulties. The last step in the opening of the thoroughfares was the completion of the Pacific Electric crossings. Three applications were necessary before the State Railroad Commission granted authority for the crossing construction.

This street will provide connection with the downtown section of Venice and a large part of the southeastern "back country." It will also form one fork of the Florence-avenue project which contemplates a wide boulevard from Orange county here.

Leona Boulevard, which runs directly west from Washington Boulevard to Grand Canal and extends from there to the ocean via Avenue 31, is 100 feet wide — the widest street in the city.

HEAVY FINE METED TO AUTO SPEEDER

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

UPLAND, Nov. 6.—E. Price Dinel, a bond salesman, residing at 4067 West Third street, Los Angeles, decided today that he had picked a poor place to try out his new motor car, when Judge George R. Crane pronounced a sentence of $75 fine and ten days in jail. The jail portion of the sentence was later suspended. Dinel was arrested on the Foothill Boulevard by County Traffic Officer Frank J. Freeman after he had crossed the Etiwanda-avenue intersection at an asserted rate of forty-five miles an hour, when he is said to have speeded up to seventy miles an hour and given the officer a two-mile chase. He told the court that he had recently purchased a new car and thought he had found a good stretch of road on which to try it out.

BAKERSFIELD WOMAN TO GET INHERITANCE

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BAKERSFIELD, Nov. 6.—Fifty thousand dollars is the share which Mrs. William Carter, 612 Monterey street, will receive in the division of $200,000 left by the late Joseph P. Carter of Mercer, Pa., it was announced today by Mrs. George Teaff of East Bakersfield, her daughter. According to Mrs. Teaff, her mother, who is a sister-in-law of the deceased, was one of the four named in Mr. Carter's will to receive portions of the estate. The other three were two brothers and a sister. The will also included the division of the Carter estate between Mrs. Teaff and Joseph Carter of East Bakersfield, Mrs. Jack Cousins of Fellows and Mrs. Roy Elwood of San Diego. Mrs. Teaff says that she does not know her exact share in the estate, which is at present being compiled by attorneys.

CATHOLICS DEDICATE BAKERSFIELD RECTORY

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BAKERSFIELD, Nov. 6.—Impressive solemnity marked the formal dedication and blessing of the new St. Francis rectory on Truxtun avenue last night, when Right Rev. Bishop John B. MacGinley of Fresno officiated at the service in the presence of approximately thirty Catholic priests representing every section of the Fresno-Monterey diocese. The beautiful new building, which was completed a fortnight ago, is one of the most modern of its kind in the State. The new rectory entailed the expenditure of almost $30,000. It was designed and planned by Very Rev. J. L. Daumas, V. F., of Bakersfield, pastor of St. Francis Catholic Church. The building is of reinforced concrete, built on dignified lines.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BAKERSFIELD, Nov. 6.—Prospects of obtaining cotton pickers for Kern county in Los Angeles are poor, according to a telegram received today from Lee H. Irvine, secretary of the Kern County Chamber of Commerce. The telegram read:

"Director Basil Herman requests me to send 1500 cotton pickers; newspaper here carrying story and we offer 2 cents per pound. Imperial Valley practically absorbed all the pickers here several weeks ago. Prospects are poor and only one-third of the Kern crop is gathered. Many of the applicants are unable to pay their fare and also are unfamiliar with the work."

Although the cotton fields of the county are scenes of activity daily, there is much cotton yet to be picked this season, and the Chamber of Commerce is making an effort to obtain as many pickers as possible in the south. The representatives of the local Chamber of Commerce are continuing their efforts and sufficient pickers may be obtained to gather the entire crop.

Edwards Wins Pastorship in Redlands Fight

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

REDLANDS, Nov. 6.—R. Glenn Edwards has been chosen pastor of the First Christian Church, according to those who have been his supporters all through the bitter fight waged as to whether he should be chosen permanent pastor or not. At a meeting of the official board, followed by a meeting of the congregation with 103 in attendance, he was unanimously elected to the position.

Those who oppose him say it was unfair, for, they claim, the church rule has been to announce any election from the pulpit a week in advance, and that no one opposed to Mr. Edwards was notified of the meeting.

Those opposed to his appointment prevented a vote at one meeting and since then a bitter fight has been waged, which has been carried into the courts, and some members of the congregation enjoined from holding meetings in the church.

Those opposed claimed that Mr. Edwards's record in other churches is such as to make him unfit to hold the pastorate here.

BAKERSFIELD CIVIC BOARD WILL ELECT

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BAKERSFIELD, Nov. 6.—Primary ballots for the nomination of directors for the Bakersfield Civic Commercial Association have been mailed to more than 800 business men who are eligible to vote. Each member may nominate six men as candidates and the twelve nominees receiving the highest number of votes will make up the final list to be balloted on for the election of six directors. Balloting in the primary will close on Wednesday, the 11th inst. The ballots will be canvased the next day and a report will be made to the board of directors of the Civic Association Friday, the 20th. The six directors will be elected for a period of two years. The retiring directors are D. E. Urner, Samuel Crim, A. D. M. Osborn, Mell Hay, H. A. Dimon and D. L. Wishon.

GROUND BROKEN AT INGLEWOOD

Site of New Chamber Home Dedicated in Exercises

Huge Shovel Used as First Scoop of Sod Lifted

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

INGLEWOOD, Nov. 6.—Inglewood's representative citizens today both literally and figuratively joined hands in an event declared to mark a most significant and epochal milestone in the city's growth and progress, the breaking of ground for the spacious and impressive new structure that will be the Chamber of Commerce's $75,000 home.

The ground-breaking ceremonies were handled uniquely by the use of a giant shovel with a handle close to thirty feet long and manned with enthusiasm by civic leaders and a charming group of Inglewood Union High School's prettiest and most popular girls.

The exercises were preceded by a luncheon in the present quarters, just across the street from where the new two-story structure, with its seventy-five-foot frontage, will rise. Frank D. Parent, president of the chamber, presided at this gathering, an early adjournment being taken to the site of the new building, which is located on the east side of Market street, just north of Regent street.

Those who manned the huge ground-breaking implement included the following presidents of civic organizations: Mr. Parent of the chamber, City Attorney Woodworth of the Rotary Club, Harry V. Beaver of the Lions Club, Kenneth S. Clarey of the Kiwanis Club, Lee S. Hake of the Realty Board, Walter E. Stern of Inglewood Industries, Ernest W. Gould of the Inglewood Credit Association, O. P. Allen of the Builders' Exchange, Mrs. Elida Scoville of the Woman's Club, Commander Barney Aspinwall of the American Legion and Earl W. Porter, secretary of the chamber and post adjutant of the Legion.

The girls who helped wield the scoop are all active in high school organizations, among them being Miss Nancy Parent, daughter of the president of the chamber; Miss Margaret Baxter, president of the Girls' League; Miss Doris Brown, vice-president of the student body; Miss Violet Isaacs, president of the Scholarship Society, and Miss Frances Hake, president of the Girls' Athletic Club of the school and the daughter of the Realty Board head.

Veteran Bureau Hospital Must Move From Site

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 6.—The Camp Kearny Veterans' Bureau Hospital has been ordered to vacate its location here within ten days, according to word received today by Edgar E. Hendee, attorney for the Mack Cooper Company, owner of the site and plaintiff in an action directed against Dr. S. H. James, officer in charge of the hospital.

The order came from the District Court of the United States in Los Angeles, before which the suit has been pending for some time. The action is based on the failure of the plaintiff company to receive lease money from the Veterans' Bureau for the last two and one-half years' use of the property.

"While Dr. James is anxious to keep the hospital at its present location and always has advocated paying the lease money, the vouchers for the money have been held up by the Comptroller of the Treasury, for some reason," Hendee said.

Dr. James was named defendant in the suit because the government cannot be sued without its consent.

TRANSFER OF SCHOOL DISTRICT PROPOSED

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

HOME GARDENS, Nov. 6.—A number of petitions are in circulation among the heads of families here asking that this section be transferred from the Los Angeles City School District to the Huntington Park City School District. A meeting has been held by a large number of the parents here. A committee has been appointed by Samuel M. Dudlaxt, president of the Home Gardens Chamber of Commerce, and it is expected that 100 signatures will be secured to be presented at the next meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Huntington Park City School District for their consideration.

TIRES OF MIX-UP WITH LAW

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

ANAHEIM, Nov. 6.—Enough is enough. This was the sentiment of Fred Piepenbrink, 23 years of age, of this city, when he paid a friendly call on the police. And his sentiments are all the more set after the visit.

Piepenbrink went to the police station to complain that in this city, as well as others, he has visited in Southern California police have a habit of arresting him as Martin James Davis, alias Lynch, Long and others wanted in Chicago for the murder of a police officer.

He is said to closely resemble Davis. He had had enough of this experience, he explained on a recent visit to Bakersfield, where possession of a heavy car of the type driven by Davis accentuated the similarity.

Piepenbrink wanted the Anaheim police to give him a letter of identification so that he could go about his business unmolested. Now he needs no letter of identification, for he is held by county authorities on a telegraphic warrant from Bakersfield charging a felony. He said he is at a loss to know the basis of the charge.

INCOME OF OIL COMPANY LARGE

California Petroleum Shows Nine Month's Profit

Company Reports 4,977,820 Barrels in Storage

Exchange of Ventura Stock Deemed Successful

A decided improvement over six months' earnings is shown by the California Petroleum Corporation in its statement of income for the nine months ended September 30, last, as released yesterday through Blair & Co., Inc. Net income after preferred dividends and all charges amounted to $6,719,476.61, or the equivalent to $6.79 on the outstading common stock of $25 par values. This compares with $3.05 for the corresponding period of last year, and $3.98 for the first six months of the current year.

Gross earnings for the nine months is reported at $16,767,422.33, as compared with gross earnings of $13,285,586.91 in the corresponding period of 1924. Operating expenses for the first nine months of this year amounted to $5,922,838.82, compared with $5,408,606.46 for the same period of last year. After the payment of dividends on preferred and common stock, the balance carried to surplus amounted to $3,500,472.63.

Including the sum of $3,196,874.19 appropriated at the beginning of the year for the redemption of preferred stock and the bonds of subsidiary companies, the surplus accounted increased from $12,295,972.26 on January 1, to $19,991,919.08 at the end of September.

QUARTER INCOME UP

Net income for the third quarter after preferred dividing common stock. Gross earnings in the quarter totaled $5,954,891, as compared with $4,377,488.54 for the corresponding period of 1924. Operating expenses amounted to $2,052,838.79. Balance carried to surplus in the quarter was $1,337,-960.85.

The report shows that the company is carrying 5,087,647 barrels of oil in storage at a cost of $4,334,816.36.

In connection with the report it was stated that acquisition of the Ventura Consolidated Oil Company by the California Petroleum Corporation through an exchange of stock has been successful, more than 90 per cent of the Ventura shares having been deposited. The exchange was made on a basis of five California Petroleum shares for six Ventura shares. Plans are being made to shortly list California Petroleum on the Boston Stock Exchange, because of the large representation of New England investors in Ventura stock, who have exchanged their shares for California Petroleum.

HIGH RANK FOR STATE IN FINANCE

California Banks Asked to Give Fourth Largest Education Fund Quota

California's importance as a financial and banking center of the country is recognized by the quota which has just been assigned it by Lewis E. Pierson, New York banker, in the campaign to raise $250,000 among the nation's banks toward a $500,000 educational foundation created to commemorate the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the American Bankers' Association. Mr. Pierson is chairman of the association's anniversary committee.

California banks have been given a quota of $15,500, a sum exceeded only by the quotas of three other States in the Union, New York, Pennsylvania and Illinois. New York has been asked to raise $37,350; Pennsylvania, $23,750, and Illinois $20,325. The share of each State is the ratio between its total bank capital and the total bank capital of the country.

After the State quotas have been raised the remaining $250,000 will be raised by fifty bankers contributing $5000 each. The grand total of $500,000 will provide 100 scholarships in American colleges and universities for the study of banking, finance and economics and promote economic research generally with the purpose of developing a sound public understanding of the business questions which underlie and vitally affect our national prosperity and welfare. The endowments will be distributed so that every State in the Union, the District of Columbia and Hawaii will be directly benefited. The incorporation of the foundation, the selection of the educational institutions and the details of the award are to be left to a board of trustees to be appointed by the American Bankers' Association.

Mr. Pierson has appointed W. D. Longyear, vice-president of the Security Trust and Savings Bank, as chairman of the committee to raise California's quota, and those named to serve with Mr. Longyear are Henry M. Robinson, president of the First National Bank; Leo S. Chandler, vice-president California Bank; Henry S. McKee, president of Barker Brothers and chairman of the board of the First National Bank of Long Beach; W. R. Morehouse, vice-president Security Trust and Savings Bank; H. C. Carr, vice-president First National Bank, Porterville; Charles H. Segerstrom, vice-president First National Bank, Sonora; Russell G. Smith, assistant vice-president Bank of Italy, San Francisco; Lyman J. Gage, Point Loma; J. E. Huntoon, president People's Bank, Sacramento, and Frederick H. Colburn, secretary California Bankers' Association.

Trade in Wool Expanding and Prices Rising

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

BOSTON, Nov. 6.—The Commercial Bulletin tomorrow will say:

The demand for wool has been expanding and prices are slowly tending upward, but there is no runaway market. Some descriptions are a cent a pound dearer for the week. Woolen mills are showing more interest, although the bulk of the business still is for worsted accounts. Some scattering western buying is reported at about eastern parity.

Foreign markets are very buoyant. Bradford is quieter, but very firm. Australia is a bit dearer, in spite of enlarged offerings. South America and South Africa are firm.

Mohair is firm with occasional sales. Foreign markets are relatively dear, on the whole.

The Commercial Bulletin will publish the following wool quotations:

Texas fine twelve months' selected, 1.30@1.32; fine eight months, 1.10@1.15.

California: Northern, 1.20@1.25; middle county, 1.10; southern, 1.00

Wheat Fraction Down Following Opening Bulge

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—Heavy selling of new December wheat, which developed after an early bulge which carried the price up to 1.33¾, or within a fraction of the best price on the present upturn, brought about a decline to 1.28¾, with general selling by local longs developing on the way down. The finish was well toward the bottom, with the losses of 1@1¼c. Corn prices held within a range of 1@1⅛c and closed ⅛@⅜c lower in sympathy with wheat. Oats were unchanged to ⅛c lower and rye ½@1c lower.

Fluctuations in the wheat market were extremely erractic, with speculative actions largely responsible. The December-May spread, which was around 5½c at the finish on Thursday, widened out to around 6¼c early, and then narrowed to around 5⅝c, the main pressure being on the December. Duluth reported 200,000 bushels of spring wheat being shipped to Minneapolis mills, a most unusual movement, and had some effect here for a time, but the market became overbought and it was not until new December touched 1.29 that good support developed. The greater part of the selling was attributed to a leading eastern professional.

The trade paid little attention to news developments. Broomhall's Australian agent estimated the exportable surplus at 60,000,000 bushels, with 135,000,000 bushels from Argentina gives the southern hemisphere a total surplus of 245,000,000 bushels, or 10,000,000 bushels less than last season. Argentina forecast was for rain in the provinces of Buenos Aires and the Pampas, and fine and warm elsewhere. Harvesting has started in the advanced sections in both Argentina and Australia.

Movement of wheat in the Southwest is increasing, the three markets having 227 cars, or only eight cars less than last year, and the basis for spot grain was easier. Hard winter here was 1@2c lower, as compared with December. Export demand continues slow, with sales of 300,000 to 400,000 bushels in all positions. Liverpool closed ⅝@¾d higher.

Corn was influenced largely by the action of wheat, but received fair support on the decline from commission houses and local bulls. Forecast was for somewhat less favorable weather, which led to a little buying at the start. Basis on old corn was ¼@½c higher, with No. 2 yellow sold as high as 1.0c over December. The three southwestern markets had 104 cars, against forty-five cars last year. Oats and rye were dull and easily influenced. Buying of December against sales of May oats narrowed the difference to 4¾c at the last, against 5½c recently.

Houses with cash and export connections took November and December lard, while investment buying was in evidence in the deferred deliveries, and the close was 2¼@3c higher, with November leading. Ribs gained 25c, while bellies were unchanged.

William Wrigley, Jr.'s Enterprises on Pacific Coast Show Increase in Business

BY CARL P. MILLER

A substantial increase in business of all of the various enterprises of William Wrigley, Jr., on the Pacific Coast, during the first nine months of the current year, was reported yesterday by J. H. Patrick, president of the Wilmington Transportation Company, the Santa Catalina Island Company and other Wrigley interests on the Pacific Coast.

Operations of the Wilmington Transportation Company during the first nine months of this year were the greatest in the history of the company, Mr. Patrick stated. Passengers carried to and from Catalina during that period totaled approximately 600,000, and exceeded any previous record for the period, and this in face of the generally accepted reduction in tourist traffic in other sections of the Southwest. In the nine months of 1924, approximately 570,000 passengers were carried to the islands.

In 1919, when Mr. Wrigley purchased the islands, only two boats were in operation between the islands and the mainland and in that entire year 268,000 passengers were accommodated. In 1920, the first $1,000,000 steamship, the Avalon, was built by the company and the passenger list that year aggregated 440,000. In 1923, the company constructed the second $1,000,000 vessel, the Catalina, and the passenger list that year was increased to 524,000. The glass-bottom boat and excursion business at the islands has increased in the same proportion. Four glass-bottom boats and two excursion boats have been added by the company to the island fleet since 1919.

TWO SEASONS

"There are two seasons experienced by this pleasure resort," said Mr. Patrick, "the summer season, June, July, August and September, when approximately 90 per cent of the passengers accommodated are Southern California people taking their vacations; and the winter, or tourist season, January, February and March, when approximately 90 per cent of the traffic to the islands is tourist traffic.

"Our tow-boat business has increased more than 50 per cent during the past year and has necessitated another increase in our equipment. When Mr. Wrigley purchased the islands in 1919, we had only two tow boats, and since that time we have added five and are now constructing two new boats of the latest type, electrically driven of 6000 horsepower, at a cost of $125,000 each. These boats are being constructed in our own ship yards.

"Important among the activities of the Wrigley interests on the islands is the development of the Blackjack mine, owned by the Santa Catalina Island Company. This mine produces a silver-lead and zinc ore, mostly lead, averaging from $50 to $300 a ton. More than $100,000 in ore has been taken from the mine to date. Construction of a new concentration mill at a cost of approximately $75,000 is in progress and should be completed within thirty days."

OPERATE BARGES

The Wilmington Transportation Company is also operating a fleet of barges between the islands and Long Beach, carrying rock from the island quarry for paving and building construction in the beach city. This operation was begun two years ago and business has increased to such an extent that now the company has six barges in service with capacities ranging from 600 to 1500 tons.

In conclusion Mr. Patrick said: "With our business increasing this year when conditions were hardly normal, the outlook for next year is very optimistic. Indications are that next year should be a banner year for Southern California as well as the country generally. Upon the completion of Long Beach Harbor, we have agreed to operate a direct service from that port to Catalina Island, and from the progress being made in that city's harbor development, indications are that this service will be inaugurated next season."

OIL STOCKS IRREGULAR; EDISON UP

Local Market Shows Steady Tendency; Bank Shares Inactive

Heavy trading in Southern California Edison common, which advanced 7-8 of a point to a close at 139¼, featured a comparatively steady market on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange yesterday. Opening 1 1-8 points higher at 139 3-4, Edison common advanced further to a high at 140, selling off fractionally at the close. Edison 7 per cent preferred added 1-4 of a point to a close at 111½ on a good turnover, while the 6 per cent preferred was steady at 98.

Higher-priced oils were irregular. United Oil sold steady during the morning session at 60, but rallied at the close to 60½. Shell Union held firm at 24 3-4, and Marine Corporation gained 2 points to 55. Union Oil sold steady at 35½, while Union Associates lost 1-4 of a point to 34 3-4. Julian preferred was active and, after opening higher at 16, sold off to a close at 15 7-8, a steady figure. Julian common was 1-4 of a point lower at 5½. California Petroleum sold up to 30, but closed at 29 1-8, a fraction lower.

Americommercial Corporation sold off to 208, but recovered to a close at 209, a net loss of ½ of a point. Bancitaly Corporation added 4 points to 324 on a light turnover. National City Bank of Los Angeles sold at 155. Los Angeles Investment closed 1½ points lower at 5.56. Los Angeles Gas and Electric was steady at 95 3-4.

In the mining list Oatman United featured with an advance of 1½ points to 7½; Yellow Dog was firm at 9, and Big Jim declined ½ to 12. Gold Dust added ½ to 6½. Prince Consolidated declined 1 point to a close at 2, and North Star was steady at 3½.

Co-operation in Cattle Marketing Gaining Support

After holding a series of meetings with cattlemen over the State at which a semiannual report on progress of the California Cattlemen's Association was given, Hubbard Russell, managing director, states that the cattlemen are enthusiastic in their support of the co-operative marketing program.

The general feeling of the cattlemen is that the association has accomplished a great deal and has made commendable progress in the face of great obstacles during the first six months of its operation, Mr. Russell stated. There is a decided feeling of confidence that the association will accomplish much more in 1926 and also that the association will be much more necessary than it has been during 1925 on account of the fact that feeder cattle are selling at from 1 cent to 2 cents a pound more this year than they did last fall. This condition, he said, makes it absolutely necessary that a strong organization be maintained for orderly marketing of cattle next season and for the maintenance of a satisfactory price level.

Unorderly marketing in past years has always resulted in a serious drop in price during the season of greatest production. With feeder cattle costing more, it is self evident that the spread necessary to insure a profit is apt to be reduced to a point of danger, unless a strong marketing organization is maintained, Mr. Russell declared.

COAST IRON TRADE TONE IMPROVING

Better Inquiry Reported With General Upturn of Prices Indicated

BY DON PARTRIDGE,

Associate Editor, "Iron Trade Review"

The outstanding feature of the week was the $4-a-ton advance on galvanized sheets, put into effect by several of the leading independent producers. Prices all along the line are becoming firmer and a better tone is noted.

Concrete bar awards this week exceeded 1000 tons and included 500 tons for the Leamington Hotel in Oakland, 400 tons for the Goodyear Rubber plant at Los Angeles and 115 tons for a bridge in Oakland, the latter being secured by Gunn, Carle & Co. Demand for merchant bars has shown little improvement.

While no large plate awards were reported, pending business totals well over the 8000-ton mark. Included among new inquiries is 2000 tons for two ferry boats for the Key System Transit, 700 tons for a barge for the Santa Fe, 375 tons for a pipe line in Oakland and 350 tons for a pipe line for Bend, Or. Prices are firm at 2.25 cents c.i.f. Coast ports as a minimum.

Fabricators of structural shapes report a fair volume of small work coming, while over 7000 tons in large projects are up for figures. Awards of the week aggregated over 1000 tons and included 750 tons for the Grauman theater in Hollywood, placed with the McClintic-Marshall Company of California and 150 tons for an addition to the Hubbard & Co. plant in Emeryville, secured by the Judson Manufacturing Company. While 2.30 cents c.i.f. represents the minimum obtainable on plain material, some business is bringing 2.35.

The United States Steel Products Company secured 1200 tons of 110-pound girder rails for the Los Angeles Railway Corporation. No action has yet been taken on the Southern Pacific Company's inquiry for 1200 tons of round track spikes, but they closed on their inquiry for 1000 tons of 2.75 to 3.25 silicon foundry iron.

San Bernardino placed 206 tons of cast iron pipe with the United States Cast Iron Pipe and Foundry Company. Pending business is in excess of 600 tons. The Republic Supply Company was low bidders on 489 tons of standard pipe for Hetch Hetchy project and on 160 tons for the city of Los Angeles. Prices on cast iron pipe remain unchanged at around $50 a ton delivered.

California and Arizona Crops Reported Good

California and Arizona, with their diversion of crops, have been favored by excellent climatic conditions during the past month, according to a report of the agricultural development department of the Santa Fe Railway system. Cotton picking is under way in both States. It is estimated that California will have 114,000 bales.

Corn production in California is slightly heavier than last year. This State will produce approximately 6,000,000 bushels of rice, 1,000,000 bushels of lima beans, 1,750,000 bushels of other beans, 8,000,000 bushels of Irish potatoes and 1,000,000 bushels of sweet potatoes. The celery movement, which will start next month, will be normal.

The deciduous fruit shipping season in California will soon be over, it being one of the best in the State's history. The total movement up to October 24, last, consisted of approximately 75,500 cars, of which 55,000 were grapes; and it is estimated that there are about 16,000 cars of grapes yet to move. The citrus crop for fall movement is slightly less than normal, but the quality is good.

RUBBER MARKET

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—Rubber continued inactive today, but with few offerings in sight, the small amount of inquiry that did prevail was sufficient to bid prices up to levels substantially above Thursday's quotations. Ribbed smoked sheets were quoted up 1c at 21.25 a pound, while other leading grades put on gains ranging from ½c to 3c. Some grades, such as paraffine upriver, were slightly easier, but this was a result of few demands for that particular grade. London came over firm and up ¼d at 47⅝d.

PER CAPITA FIRE TOLL SET HIGH

Annual Loss in Nation Fixed at $1044 for Every Minute

It has been estimated that the fire waste of the United States is $1044 a minute. At the last meeting of the National Fire Waste Council, Ira H. Woolson, New York engineer, made the following estimate:

"The best census figures available indicate a total urban population in the United States for cities having a population in excess of 8000 as approximately 50,000,000. Assessing the average cost per capita at $2.70, as calculated in twenty-three cities, upon this population would indicate a cost for fire-department service of $135,000,000, or a total annual fire loss to the country of $670,000,000, exclusive of water supply."

GOOD YEAR FOR SHEEP INDUSTRY

Head of Wool Growers' Association Optimistic in Convention Address

Buying power of the sheepmen's dollar has advanced further in the current year, and the industry in the United States has prospered, according to a statement made yesterday by A. T. Spencer, president of the California Wool Growers' Association, before the eighteenth annual convention of the association in San Francisco. General conditions of the eleven Western States, with the exception of the Southwest, has been very favorable and feed has been plentiful on the ranges and markets have been good.

"California has enjoyed an above-normal feed year," said Mr. Spencer, "and all live stock are in good condition. General agriculture throughout the nation is above normal, Utah, Idaho and Montana having a particularly prosperous year. This general prosperity in agriculture means an increase in all lines of business and commerce for the entire country, for all business is founded upon a successful agricultural and livestock business, and an increase in consumption can be assured when there is general prosperity.

"Shipment of lambs east in the last season approximated a value of $4,000,000, compared with a value of $200,000 six years ago. The market value of lambs marketed in our home markets has increased in that period from $1,400,000 to $2,800,000. Eastern markets have placed California in a class by itself for the delivery of the first milk-fed lambs of the season, and are chiefly responsible for California having taken her place as second in sheep population.

"More than 100,000 lambs were shipped to eastern markets this year," Mr. Spencer said, "and I see no reason why California will not be shipping 600,000 lambs east in three years hence, provided the quality of our lambs is maintained and the period of eastern shipment is distributed from April 1, or earlier, to not later than June 1."

Lion Oil Refining Company Seen As One of Small but Complete Organizations Operating in the Heart of Smackover (Ark.) Field, and Reaping Share of Prosperity.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

(Copyright, 1925, New York Evening Post, Inc.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—Operating in the heart of the great Smackover field in Arkansas, the Lion Oil Refining Company, a small but complete organization, has been and is reaping its share of the prosperity which has accrued to companies active there.

Controlling by lease and operating 1600 acres, of which almost 1000 are situated in the heart of the Smackover territory, its production of crude in the first six months this year was over 1,400,000 barrels from eighty-five producing wells. The properties are immediately adjacent to those of such large producers as the Standard Oil Company of Louisiana, the Gulf Oil Corporation, the Magnolia Petroleum and the Texas Company.

FACTS ABOUT SMACKOVER

There are four distinct fields on the structure, namely, the Smackover, which has doubtless contributed the bulk of production, Louann, South El Dorado and the East Field. Since its entry as a big producer, the field holds two records. In the first place in May this year, the average daily production exceeded all records for any single oil field, and secondly, it is the only oil structure in the world that has shown progressive gains in production from year to year.

In addition to its production activities the Lion Oil Refining Company engages in the refining of such production and its transportation. The refinery at El Dorado, constructed in 1923 under the supervision of Standard Oil engineers, has capacity for handling 10,000 barrels of oil daily, employs the latest methods of recovery and was constructed for the treatment of low-gravity crude.

Pipe lines for gathering production extend for seventy-five miles into all the important fields. The company has a steel tank storage capacity for more than 1,000,000 barrels, and operates 787 tank cars of which 409 are owned and the balance leased. The company markets its production and distributes to dealers in the South and Middle West.

CAPITAL EARNINGS

Funded indebtedness is comprised of $925,000, in first mortgage 7 per cent serial gold bonds, maturing at the rate of $300,000 annually beginning December 1, next. This is followed by 200,000 shares of no par value capital stock, including the 70,000 shares recently sold by investment bankers here.

Sales for the first nine months this year, according to official figures, practically doubled those of the same period of 1924 and incidentally with little increase in expenses. Surplus, after all charges, amounted to $3,039,012 or the equivalent of slightly over $10 a share for the stock before allowing for service on bonded debt, which begins December 1, next. This compares with $809,041 in the corresponding period last year or slightly over $4.50 a share. Current assets on September 30, were approximately three times current liabilities.

BOND QUOTATIONS

Undertone Firm

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—A firm undertone was maintained in today's bond market, although the usual contrast in the price movements of the different groups was in evidence. Liberty bonds showed moderate strength and there was brisk buying of copper and miscellaneous industrial liens. On the other hand, reactionary tendencies cropped out in some parts of the foreign list.

With promises of tax reduction considered reasonably certain, the trend of Liberty bonds recently has been lower in view of the waning attractiveness of their tax-exempt provisions. Selling around the lowest levels of the year, several of the government's issues, however, have been singled out as "bargains" and renewed buying for institutional purposes was in evidence today. The situation was helped by easier money rates.

The recovery in the French francs today, accompanied by the announcement that Washington would interpose no objections to further borrowing by France to support her currency, checked selling of French government bonds, although some of the municipal and railroad issues continued to waver. Liquidation of a few Mexican bonds caused losses of 1 to 4 points in this group.

Returning interest in the copper company securities was reflected in buying of Anaconda and Chile issues. A steady growth in consumption of copper, keeping pace with increased production and a strengthening of the price for the metal, were factors in the renewed demand. Gains of about 2 points were recorded by Rogers Brown Iron 7's and Wickwire Spencer Steel 7's.

A feature of trading in the railroad group was the greater interest shown in high-grade issues, such as Delaware and Hudson 4's and Northern Pacific 4's, with a corresponding slackening of interest in the semispeculative class.

Following are yesterday's high, low and closing prices of bonds on the New York Stock Exchange and the number of each bond.

Wheat Fraction Down Following Opening Bulge

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—Heavy selling of new December wheat, which developed after an early bulge which carried the price up to 1.32¾, or within a fraction of the best price on the present crop movement, forced a decline of 1.48¾, with general selling by local lines developing on the way down. The finish was well toward the bottom, with net losses of 1@1⅝c. Corn prices held within a range of 1@1½c and closed ⅛@⅝c lower in sympathy with wheat. Oats were unchanged to ⅛c lower and corn ⅜@⅝c lower.

Fluctuations in the wheat market were extremely erractic, with speculative actions largely responsible. The December-May spread, which was around 3¼c at the finish on Thursday, widened out to around 4½c early, and then narrowed to around 2¾c, the main pressure being on the December. Receipts of about 400,000 bushels of spring wheat being shipped to Minneapolis mills, a most unusual movement, and bad some effect here for a time, but the market became overbought and it was not until new December touched 1.49 that good support developed. The greater part of the selling was attributed to a leading eastern professional.

The trade paid little attention to news developments. Broomhall's Australian agent estimated the exportable surplus at 60,000,000 bushels, which with 185,000,000 bushels from Argentina gives the southern hemisphere a total surplus of 245,000,000 bushels, or 10,000,000 bushels less than last season. Argentina forecast was for rain in the provinces of Buenos Aires and the Pampas, and fine and warm elsewhere. Harvesting has started in the advanced sections in both Argentina and Australia.

Movement of wheat in the Southwest is increasing, the three markets having 337 cars, or only eight cars less than last year, and the basis for spot grain was easier. Hard winter here was 1@2c lower, as compared with December. Export demand continues slow, with sales of 600,000 to 400,000 bushels in all positions. Liverpool closed ⅝@1d higher.

Corn was influenced largely by the action of wheat, but received fair support on the decline from commission houses and local bulls. Forecast was for somewhat less favorable weather, which led to a little buying at the start. Basis on old corn was ¼@½c higher, with No. 3 yellow sold as high as 10c over December. The three southwestern markets had 104 cars, against forty-five cars last year. Oats and rye were dull and easily influenced. Buying of December against sales of May oats narrowed the difference to 4¾c at the last, against 4⅝c recently.

House with cash and export connections took November and December lard, while investment buying was in evidence in the deferred deliveries, and the close was 2¼@25c higher, with November leading. Ribs gained 25c, while bellies were unchanged.

STEEL STOCK AT NEW HIGH LEVEL

Advance of U. S. Common is Market Feature

Prospect of Sharp Tax Cut Boost to Trading

Reports of Mounting Trade Volume Also Aid

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—Establishment of the highest quotation ever recorded by United States Steel common at 128, up 5 1-2, stood out in the resumption of the upward movement of prices in today's stock market. Net gains of 1 to 13 points were spread over a broad list, but there were also a number of substantial declines in stocks which were heavily liquidated.

Speculators for the advance started to bid up prices at the opening, stressing, as bullish factors, the drastic tax cuts proposed by the House ways and means Committee, the growing number of increased and extra dividends and the millions of dollars pouring into the stock market for investment and speculation from all parts of the world.

The weekly mercantile reviews again emphasized the steady improvement in trade. "After the favorable developments in October," states Dun's review," a new month has opened with a further acceleration of business activity. The forward movement has been steadily gaining momentum as reports and statistics have demonstrated, and the sustained and orderly advance has strengthened sentiment throughout the country." Bradstreet's sets forth that trade and industry remain good and active as November opens, this after a heavy month's business in October.

General Motors, which is expected to declare an extra dividend of $3 to $5 next week, jumped 5 points to a new record at 149 3-8 and then slipped back to 147 3-4. Dupont, which owns a large block of General Motors stock, soared 23 points to a new peak at 270, or 52 3-4 points above last week's close. Heavy profit taking was apparent in most of the other motors, but the net losses ruled small.

Further accumulation of the coppers was based on the belief that the Anaconda dividend would be increased at the next meeting and that an enormous increase in copper consumption would take place next year as a result of the huge hydro-electric power projects under way in all sections of the country. American Smelting crossed 125 to the highest price since 1907; Anaconda sold above 56 for the first time in two years and Kent Scott, Utah and Cerro de Pasco sold at the highest price in a year or longer.

General Electric soared nearly 13 points to 324 3-4, or within 3 points of the record high established before the separation of the Electric Bond and Share properties. Other outstanding industrial strong spots were Brooklyn Edison, Central Leather preferred, Coca Cola, Continental Can, Federal Mining and Smelting, the Kelly-Springfield preferred issues, National Lead, New York Canners, Republic Iron and Steel, South Porto Rican Sugar, Union Tank Car, United States Cast Iron Pipe and United States Rubber, all of which closed 3 to nearly 10 points higher, many of them at the highest ever recorded.

There were several weak spots, among them American Radiator, Brooklyn Union Gas, Continental Insurance, Louisville and Nashville, National Distillers common and preferred, and Railway Steel Spring, all of which closed 2 or more points lower.

Call money renewed at 4 3-4 per cent and then dropped to 4 1-2. Time money and commercial paper rates were unchanged.

Trading in foreign exchanges quieted down considerably, with French francs rallying nearly 10 points from yesterday's low to around 4 cents. Demand sterling opened at 484 1-8 and then eased slightly. Japanese yen advanced 1-8 of a cent to a new high record for the year at 43 1-16. Other rates moved within rather narrow and irregular limits.

LOS ANGELES MARKET

CATTLE—Practically all yesterday's small supply was from the north, the biggest portion being she stock. Demand was broad and an active trade resulted at prices generally called 15@25c higher, rounding out a net advance of 15@25c on steers and 25@40c on she stock for the week. A car of 973-pound California steers cleared for $.15, this price also being paid for a load of 1040-pound northerns. One choice 1710-pound steer made $.65. Common and low medium steers turned largely from $6.00@7.75, with a load of 1090-pound weights making the latter price. A few very common kinds sold down to 4.00.

Both heifers and cows topped at $.00, the heifers averaging 841 pounds and cows 1014 pounds. The price spread of $.00@5.85 took in the bulk of she stock, load lots being especially numerous from $.00@5.85. A few very common kinds sold down to 4.00. Canners and cutters turned largely from $.25@3.75. Bulls were scarce and held steady, the general run of bolognas clearing from 4.00@4.75, with beef kinds around $.00.

CALVES—No load lots were offered, the supply consisting of odd head and small lots. The general run of southwesterns are quoted from $.50@ 9.00, with milk veal up to 10.00.

HOGS—Six loads of butchers were offered on yesterday's market. These cleared readily on a strong to 10c higher basis. The six loads averaging all the day from 198 to 226 pounds cleared at the top price, 14.50. The few packing sows on hand realized 13.00.

SHEEP—None. Good and choice lambs are quoted from 14.00@15.00, with common to choice ewes from 5.00@8.00.

HUNT SILENT UPON QUERY BY CORBETT

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

TUCSON (Ariz.) Nov. 6.—Chairman H. S. Corbett of the Arizona State Republican Committee has made public a copy of a letter mailed by him to Gov. G. W. P. Hunt on October 17, last, asking the executive why he had failed to obey the mandate of the Workmen's Compensation Act, lately voted by the people, and thus far is reported to have received no reply to his communication. The chairman wrote:

"You are undoubtedly aware that Section 1 of the act provides that not more than two of the members of the commission shall belong to the same political party. The registration records show, and it is a well-known fact, that all three of the gentlemen named are not only members of and affiliated with the Democratic party and active in its councils, but they are at present all holding office under a Democratic administration.

"This act is not a political measure, as you well know. Republicans and Democrats joined in advocating its passage and in voting for the constitutional amendment necessary to make it effective. In view of this fact, and in view of the plain provision of the act, it seems that the people of this State, and particularly the Republican voters and taxpayers, are entitled to some explanation of your apparent violation of and disregard for this provision of the law. I would appreciate a reply from you concerning the matter."

Hines Planning Libraries for War Veterans

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—Installation of a complete library service in every hospital under the control of the United States Veterans' Bureau is contemplated by Director Frank T. Hines, according to information received by the National Rehabilitation Committee of The American Legion.

Legion officials are keenly interested in this step in the interest of the disabled. The Legion has constantly interested itself in the provision of proper recreational facilities and opportunities for men in the hospitals.

Plans under consideration by Gen. Hines call for a service ranging from 1500 volumes in a 100-bed hospital to 6000 volumes in a 100-bed institution. About 25 per cent more books are to be provided in general and tuberculosis hospitals than in neuropsychiatric institutions. In addition, it is planned to provide some thirty magazines subscriptions for each 100 patients.

BABY CONTEST PART OF YUMA COUNTY FAIR

CALF-TYING, STEER-TYING AND FOOT RACE ALSO FEATURE OF ARIZONA EVENT

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PARKER (Ariz.) Nov. 6.—The fifth annual fair of Northern Yuma county held at this place was featured by numerous contests, including one in which babies were featured. The awards went to Mrs. Olin McClary: Most perfect baby, 6 to 12 months, $2; Mrs. F. L. Lindley, $2.50; Mrs. Cecil Detrick, $2.50; most perfect baby, 1 to 6 months.

There being a tie vote on the Lindley and Detrick babies, prizes were awarded to both contestants.

The calf-tying contest—won by Perfecto Laves, his time being 26 seconds. The Steer-tying contest was won by a team consisting of Mike Martines of Parker and Tom Wells of Blythe, their time being 40 seconds.

ZELZAH PLANNING TO OPEN DOWNTOWN PARK

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

ZELZAH, Nov. 6.—A suitable location for a park is being sought by the Zelzah Chamber of Commerce, according to A. M. Fellows, one of the leading members of the body here. Fellows states that a tract of from five to ten acres is desired and that it is planned to improve such a site with playgrounds, base ball field, tennis courts, swimming pool and other attractive features. No particular site has yet been agreed on, but it is understood today that an effort is being made to obtain the land in the central part of the townsite where it will be most accessible. Plans have reached such a state that it is stated the park will probably be in use within the next six months. It is certain that some large land owner in Zelzah will be induced to give the site for the use of all residents of the town.

MAROONED MEN FACING DEATH

Relief Asked for Party on Island Left by Bankrupt Firm

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

HONOLULU, Nov. 6.—Passengers of the liner Aorangi, which arrived here today from Australia, sent a cable to Gov. Sir Eyre Hutson of Fiji, urging that relief be sent to a white man and twenty-five natives, who face starvation on Hull Island, two days' journey from Fiji. The men have been marooned on the island for a year, the owners having gone into bankruptcy.

DINUBA LEGION POST INSTALLS

State Commander Officiates at Alta Post

Supervisorial Boundaries in Tulare County Fixed

Klink Citrus Organization Names Officers

DINUBA, Nov. 6.—Allan Bigby, State Commander of the American Legion, came up from Pasadena to install officers of Alta Post, No. 19, for the coming year. Other honor guests included Guy Paulson of Fresno, chef de gare of the State commandery of the Forty-and-Eight; E. Curtis Neal of the Fresno post, and Dave O'Leary, who has charge of the California work of the endowment fund. Commander Bigby also delivered an interesting address. Officers installed included Clarence McCormick, commander; Ralph Freeman, first vice-commander; Donald Warren, second vice-commander; Thomas Reagan, treasurer; Willis Chase, historian; Stanley Fullard, chaplain; Ralph Gile, sergeant-at-arms. Members of the executive committee are Harry Halsey, retiring commander; A. G. Heerman, Dr. M. S. Hayeroft, Dr. C. A. Tillotson and Tren Biswell.

TULARE DISTRICTED

VISALIA, Nov. 6.—As Tulare county did not possess any official record describing boundaries of the various supervisorial districts, the Supervisors decided such a record might be of value some time in the future so officially described the boundaries once more. At this time the slight change, by which a portion of the Yokohl Valley territory is taken from district one and given to district two, was incorporated.

NEW OFFICERS IN CHARGE

KLINK, Nov. 6.—Norman Hardin will act as president of the Klink citrus organization, composed of growers in the Ivanhoe district, for the coming year. H. C. Locey of Visalia is vice-president; Walter Price, secretary, and Harry Daniels, manager and assistant secretary. Hardin, Locey and Price with Frank K. Phillips, L. L. Richard, L. C. Bevins and Lee Robinson constitute the board of directors.

The annual report showed affairs of the organization in a healthful condition, a successful year having been passed and everything progressing satisfactorily. New equipment ordered installed included an orange-counting machine, which counts every orange of size and grade as it passes over the machine. This is one of three such machines in Tulare county and will give each grower an absolute check on his fruit.

TAKES UP DUTIES

LINDSAY, Nov. 6.—John P. King, local attorney, who was recently named City Recorder, to fill the vacancy caused by resignation of Alan McGregor, is now busy as assistant to City Clerk E. V. Bogart in the City Hall. Frank English was also appointed night-watchman, succeeding John Bailey, resigned. A. W. Thurman of Visalia was employed as motor traffic enforcement officer.

WOODMEN CELEBRATE

PORTERVILLE, Nov. 6.—W. O. W. lodgemen from Strathmore, Lindsay, Earlimart and Porterville united in a joint session here, in nature of a celebration of the thirty-fifth anniversary of the founding of the order. The Strathmore lodge had charge of initiation put on for a large number of candidates, the drill team of the local lodge assisting. Refreshments were served.

POMONA PIONEER DIES FROM STROKE

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

POMONA, Nov. 6.—Failing to regain consciousness after suffering a stroke of apoplexy Sunday evening, W. D. Tubbs, pioneer business man of this city and former member of the Pomona Board of Education, died here this afternoon at 5 o'clock. Having enjoyed the best of health, friends attribute Mr. Tubbs' fatal illness to worry and grief over recent controversy in the local Board of Education in which Tubbs was brought under fire and which culminated in his resignation a few days ago. Mr. Tubbs was born in Saux Center, Minn., and moved to Pomona in 1900, where he established himself in the bicycle and sporting goods business which he still maintained up until his death today. Besides a wife who attended him during his illness, he is survived by two brothers and two sisters. They are William of Minneapolis, Minn.; Ben of Wisconsin; Mrs. Bell of Minnesota, and a sister, Julia, who is living in Los Angeles with his mother, who is past 90 years of age. The aged pioneer passed away at the family home at 751 East Second street. Funeral arrangements have not yet been made.

BANK HOLD-UP VICTIM'S BROTHER IN CALEXICO

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

YUMA (Ariz.) Nov. 6.—G. A. Hobbs, brother of G. T. Hobbs, former assistant cashier of Gadsden State Bank, who was fatally wounded by bandits who held up and robbed the institution August 6 last, visited Mexicali and Calexico in company with B. S. Butler, cashier of the Gadsden bank. G. A. Hobbs, an attorney of Brookhaven and Jackson, Miss., has been in Yuma city and valley for some time, settling up the affairs of his murdered brother's estate. In Mexicali the visitors were advised by United States Vice-Consul Dauerberty that their case for extradition of the asserted murderers, now in Mexicali jail, should be prosecuted unrelentingly.

CLARK-FOR-SENATOR CLUB BEING FORMED

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

OXNARD, Nov. 6.—Organization of the "Clark-for-Senator" club in Ventura County is well under way with C. C. Teague of Santa Paula as president of the organization. A number of vice-presidents have been appointed throughout the county with Atty. Charles F. Blackstock of Oxnard vice-president for this district. Judge Clarke is a former resident of this county and was at one time Superior Court Judge here.

NEW FILL PLAN IN FINAL STAGE

Reclamation of Wilmington Tract in Prospect

Project Involves Sixty-one Valuable Blocks

Handling of 1,000,000 Cubic Yards is Required

Another project calling for the reclamation of sixty-one city blocks in Wilmington for industrial purposes, and requiring the filling of marshes ten to fifteen feet below grade, with 1,000,000 cubic yards of earth, is reaching final stages of preparation, according to Guy D. Donald, harbor district City Engineer.

Petitions of property owners, who will pay for the fill, have been filed and an ordinance will be asked shortly. Property values will be enhanced some millions of dollars, it is said, by the improvement.

The tract is bounded by Anaheim avenue on the south, Pennington avenue on the west, I street on the north and Long Beach to the east.

The Western Dredging Company will start dredging East Basin under a contract with Los Angeles city, and it is expected the company will bid for the filling job, as the two, it is said, could be handled to mutual advantage.

ASSORTED CARGO ON FREIGHTER FROM EAST

Twenty-six tons of horseshoes comprise one odd item of a 2700-ton cargo to be discharged here by the Julia Luckenbach on her arrival from the east coast late night. As 46 to prove, however, not all is play out here, there are also forty-five tons of lawnmowers on the same ship. But, the next item, as if to belie the last, is twenty-five tons of cigars and this is followed by thirty tons of radio sets, 100 tons of radio batteries, twenty-eight tons of dates and other items on the lighter side. On the heavier side are shown 576 tons of oil-well pipe, 273 of plate glass and similar amounts of structural steel and sheet iron.

The F. J. Luckenbach is due from the Gulf today to drop 3000 tons more of pipe, poultry netting, gum lumber, glucose and dried shrimp; and the Walter A. Luckenbach is due today to load 700 tons of tomato paste, canned fruit, canned fish and soap powder for the Atlantic Coast.

Capt. F. A. Davis, master of the American-Hawaiian freighter Oregonian, tied up at New York tonight on his last voyage as the great transport. Miss Susan Sampson of Richmond Hill, O., will be the bride of the man on Thanksgiving Day, the day his ship arrives in Gotham, and the place will be the Little Church Around the Corner. The romance has been brewing, he said, for five years, but he wanted to wait until he had his own ship. Capt. Davis, now 52 years of age, had only two years ago, but that was temporary. The wedding therefore was delayed. Now, however, the command is unqualified, and the skipper has ordered "out with the music, let joy be unconfined." The Oregonian, formerly the Los Angeles, was bought three months ago from W. R. Grace & Co., will sail out of here with 7500 tons of Pacific freight, $160 of which comprises Los Angeles motion and canned goods. Capt. Davis started with the American-Hawaiian Steamship Company as an ordinary seaman twenty years ago at the age of 16. His entire career has been with that company, except for two years as a lieutenant junior grade on mine sweepers in the North Sea.

Two long towing jobs passed in and out of Los Angeles Harbor yesterday. The steamer Forest King, towing the four-masted bark John Ena from Seattle to Jersey City with about 4,000,000 feet of poles for the Public Service Co. of New Jersey, left Capt. Halvorsen was towing the schooner Rose Mahoney, Capt. A. H. Sorensen, from the east coast to the Los Angeles. Both had carried cargoes of poles to Jersey City. The Santa Inez has 1500 tons of Baltimore coal for Portland and Seattle. The schooner discharged 800 tons of coal and charcoal here, and will drop 700 at San Francisco, where she will tie up. The run made the passage from Newport News in thirty days, averaging six to seven miles an hour, deemed a fast trip under tow.

Local White Flyer Line officials yesterday were in denial of a rumor of the day that the line in effect ... is ... for bids for a $1,000,000 passenger and freight carrier to ply between Los Angeles, San Francisco and Honolulu. They said it was "news" to them.

The customs boarding launch Q-1 is expected to come from the navy yards tomorrow after another of her periodic cranky spells of which there have been many since the old craft was brought here from the Gulf of Mexico. The boarding launch R. D. Brooks of the United States Public Health Service also is out of commission with numerous ailments, and as a result customs and health officials are joining with plant quarantine and immigration officers in their periods ashore boats to board all ships from foreign ports.

The Panama Pacific liner Manchuria is due from New York via Havana, Panama Canal and San Diego early this morning with 400 passengers listed. Among them are Miss Claussen, authority on trade and economics, now manager of the Foreign Trade Club at San Francisco. He succeeds Miss Ruth Mattison, Bank and formerly was with the Nevada National Bank of New York. Another traveler is Billy Roche, old-time boxing referee.

GOOPS!

A Daily Lesson in Manners for Children

BY GELETT BURGESS

[Copyright: 1925: By The Chicago Tribune.]

PLAYING WITH FORKS.

Not only Goops, grown-ups
I've known,
Who couldn't let their knives alone,
When at the table, they would play
With forks and spoons, you know the way!
Their fingers, they would always move them—
They had no Mother to reprove them!

BOY DECIDES FATE

Rules From Bench He Prefers to Live With Mother

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—"Judge" Jerry Krejci, 7 years of age, handing down his opinion from his "bench" on the knee of Judge Sabath, today decided that his mother could have him.

Edward J. Krejci, who is wealthy, and Rose, his wife, separated some time ago, and since then have been engaged in a court contest for custody of the boy. The father contended that the mother was unfit to have charge of her son, but Judge Sabath patiently and skillfully brought out the boy's own testimony, which was entirely favorable to the mother. Then he officially put him "on the bench" and told him to decide which parent should have him.

TAKE THIEF SUSPECT HUNTED WHOLE YEAR

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, Nov. 6.—Detectives of this city were hosts at an anniversary party for Cornelius Yanca. It was just a year ago today that, according to the officers, he robbed the Zelf Service Station on North Fair Oaks avenue, Pasadena. Today, after a search of exactly twelve months, Detectives Cropsey and Collins went to Yanca's home on North Kirkwood avenue. Captain of Detectives Betts had kept in touch with his home since he disappeared after the burglary.

Officers Coleman and Bailey chased the fleeing burglar a year ago, and recovered most of the loot, but Yanca escaped. Now he has confessed, police say, and is being held at the City Jail.

ZINC CONTROL FOR ANACONDA

Copper Concern and Harriman Will Extend Scope

Upper Silesian Property to be Taken Over Soon

Domination in World Field Will be Result

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—Undisputed control of the zinc mining industries of the world is believed to have been attained by the Anaconda Copper Mining Company through ackuisition in association with W. A. Harriman & Co., of a majority interest in the zinc and coal mining properties of the Von Giesches heirs, located in Upper Silesia, on the German-Polish border.

John D. Ryan, chairman of the Anaconda board of directors, today confirmed cabled reports of the transaction. His company is the largest zinc producer in the United States and the Silesian holdings represent the largest producers in Europe.

Negotiations abroad were carried out by W. A. Harriman and President C. F. Kelley of Anaconda. Mr. Ryan said, and those agents have just reported an agreement whereby they are to take a six months' option on the Von Giesches properties while a thorough investigation of their possibilities is completed.

"If the examination confirms, as we are confident it will, the judgment of our engineers after the preliminary examination," Mr. Ryan's statement continued, "the control of the equity in the properties will come in the hands of Harriman & Co., and the Anaconda Copper Mining Company.

"The Von Giesches works have at present a capacity of about 150,000,000 pounds of zinc a year and that capacity will be considerably increased when our program is carried out.

"The Von Giesches coal mines underlying the zinc mines are among the most important coal producers in Germany; they not only produce coal for all of their own operations, but furnish a great part of the supplies for industrial plants in Eastern Prussia. The coal mines also are included in the trade

"In case the option is exercised, the mines on the Polish side of the border and the metallurgical works will be conveyed to an American corporation directly and held by it. An arrangement covering the profits from ores extracted on the German side of the property for a period of twenty-five years is covered by the option.

"The Anaconda company will not incur any permanent financial obligation in the acquisition of these properties, making only a temporary loan during the period of option and until permanent financing can be arranged by the bankers."

Man Found Dead Along Railroad Near Glendora

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

COVINA, Nov. 6.—The body of an unidentified man, apparently between 45 and 50 years of age, was found lying beside the Santa Fe tracks two miles east of Glendora tonight.

Members of the crew of a westbound Santa Fe work train noticed the body a few feet from the rails on their way in from work and notified Deputy Sheriff Hamblin of Azusa. Hamblin stated the body was still warm when he reached it.

The body was removed to the undertaking parlors of the Covina Funeral Company. Fred A. Seimears, proprietor of the establishment, stated the neck and jaws were broken, indicating that the man may have fallen from a train. The body is that of an American, fairly well dressed with partially gray hair. He weighed about 135 pounds and was 5 feet 6 inches in height. An eastbound train passed the spot where the body was found about half an hour before the work train, it was stated.

WAS NOT FIT TO DO HER WORK

Dreadful Condition of Mrs. Fullerton's Health Remedied by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Clearfield, Pa.—"I cannot begin to tell you how much Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has helped me in every way. Before taking it I couldn't stand on my feet without pains running all through my whole body from my waist down, just like threads pulling. I was not fit to do any work. My mother got me to try the Vegetable Compound and I have found great benefit, and I not only recommend it for such troubles but to build up the whole system. I have used it for most everything that gets wrong with me. When I begin to feel nervous and irritable I don't stop long in getting a bottle of the Vegetable Compound if I haven't got one in the house. It gives a fine appetite and makes a new woman of me. You may use this testimonial in my own town or anywhere else, and I will answer any letters I receive."—Mrs. RUSH FULLERTON, 525 S. 2nd Street, Clearfield, Pa.

ALL RUN DOWN, NOW HEALTHY

"Honestly, in all my 15 years of experience as a nurse I have never known of a medicine that compares with Tanlac," is the glowing tribute of Nurse M. E. Chappelle.

"Time and again I have recommended Tanlac and always with surprising results. Some time ago my Mother complained of being generally run down and on the verge of a nervous breakdown. She had no appetite, her stomach was disordered, digestion weakened and her bowels were most irregular.

"Tanlac came to her aid at once, brought on a vigorous appetite so that she began to eat with the greatest relish, and made the digestive organs function properly once more. In a short time she was well, happy and strong, and although over 70 years of age she is now vigorous enough to look after her household duties and go out quite a little, too. This is why I praise Tanlac and consider it the best tonic and health builder ever discovered."

What Tanlac has done for others it can also do for you. Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 40 million bottles sold.

Take Tanlac Vegetable Pills for constipation. Made and recommended by the manufacturers of Tanlac.

Showing a Fire That Didn't Burn

Crowd Sees Demonstration

Building constructed of specially treated lumber and treated with new preparation successfully resists blaze.

FLAMES' POWER BALKED

Blaze Fails to Affect Lumber and Shingles Given Special Paint and Varnish Treatment

A practical demonstration of new fire-resisting paints and varnishes and specially treated lumber and shingles was given yesterday afternoon by the E. K. Wood Lumber Company in its yard at 4701 Santa Fe avenue.

To conduct the demonstration three buildings, six feet by eight were built and placed ten feet apart. Each building contained 800 feet of Oregon pine lumber. The first building, called No. 1, carried a sign saying that it was sprayed with liquids and painted with fire-preventer paint. The second building was constructed of ordinary lumber and painted with ordinary paint. Building No. 3 was specially treated and sprayed with the fire-resisting paint.

The first test began when Building No. 2, located between the other two, was filled with kerosene-saturated excelsior and set afire. It burned briskly, generating heat. The paint on building No. 1 was scarred by the heat but it did not catch fire. Although a light wind blew the flames in the direction of Building No. 3, it did not catch fire, either.

The second test was conducted when Building No. 3, constructed of the specially-treated wood and paint, was filled with excelsior and set afire. The excelsior burned, blackening the structure with smoke, but it resisted the fire, although the heat was so intense that a small window melted.

ARMISTICE DAY PARADE PLAN READY

Permission for Military Display Given With More Arrangements Made

Arrangements for the great Armistice Day military parade, to precede the formal armistice program at the Coliseum, virtually were completed yesterday. Permission for the parade was received yesterday by Col. S. C. Frank, chairman of the general Armistice Day committee, from the Police Commission.

The parade will be divided into four divisions, with Col. S. M. Saltmarsh as grand marshal. Col. Walter P. Story will command Division 1. Col. Guy G. Palmer will head Division 2, Col. J. H. Brandt, Division 3, and Ray I. Follmer, Division 4.

The committee has requested that every whistle and bell in the city be blown or rung at 11 a.m. Wednesday as a reminder of the holiday. Arrangements also are being made to have all veterans in the city released from their duties on this day in order to permit them to march in the parade and participate in the celebration. The committee also has asked that all business houses and home owners display the flag on the day.

Air Carnival to Show City Bomb Attack

A city will be bombed, fifty planes will take part in a radio formation drill, and Lieut. Cyrus Bettis will try to better his own record of nearly 250 miles an hour at the Armistice Day sky carnival to be held at Clover Field Wednesday. There will also be an air relay race, and a handicap race between a modern Curtiss racer and an old-fashioned pusher type plane.

More than 100,000 persons, including air men and high military officers from all parts of the country, are expected to witness the all-day sky show. It will be followed by a midnight benefit for the army relief fund at Loew's State Theater.

The sky carnival will emphasize the progress made in army aviation circles during the year, according to Col. Frank P. Lahm, chief of the Air Service in the West.

STREET PLANS UP IN COUNCIL

Two Projects Under Traffic Scheme Considered

Florence Avenue Financing Referred for Report

Cahuenga Improvement Given Unanimous Approval

Two important street opening and widening projects recommended in the Major Traffic Plan were under consideration by the City Council yesterday—the widening of Florence avenue to 100 feet from Vermont avenue to the east city limits, and the opening and widening of Cahuenga avenue from the junction at Highland avenue, south to Melrose avenue, and including portions of Yucca street; Argyle avenue, Ivar street, Wilcox and Cole avenues.

The ordinance of intention for the latter improvement for traffic congestion relief, known as the "Hollywood five-finger project," was adopted yesterday by the unanimous vote of the Council. The estimated cost of this project as set forth in the report of the major highways committee of the Traffic Commission was $480,535, toward which there is to be contributed to the assessment district from the $5,000,000 Major Traffic Plan bond fund, $54,252.

The widening of Florence avenue to 100 feet, as recommended by the Major Traffic Plan engineers, is now under way west of Vermont avenue, and with the co-operation of the county the widened traffic artery may be ultimately extended to Playa del Rey. Councilman Shaw, in whose district much of the improvement is located, yesterday asked the City Council to expedite the widening of Florence avenue to 100 feet from Vermont avenue to the east city limits. He said that the court awards for the land to be taken for the additional frontage required for the street widening made the total assessments for the improvement $33,240. He asked that the Council loan this amount to the opening and widening of Florence avenue assessment fund so that the court awards of damages could be paid and the land acquired for the widened street could be taken over by the city. The loan would be repaid, the Councilman said, when the assessments are paid or the improvement assessment bonds sold. By advancing the money now much time would be saved toward hastening the improvement, due to the delays in selling the district bonds. Councilman Shaw's request, which will be probably adopted by the Council, was referred to the Mayor and Finance Committee for the required report.

FILM STAR WARS WITH PRODUCERS

Miss La Marr Renounces Contracts for Asserted Breach of Wage Terms

Barbara La Marr, screen actress who has been suffering a serious illness, announced through her attorney, R. D. Knickerbocker, last night that she had severed her contract with Associated Pictures and First National, through which the Associated releases its films. She stated, her attorney said, that she had broken off the contract because the company had disregarded the salary terms in the agreement.

Miss La Marr suffered a complete breakdown while completeing her last picture during the latter part of August. She was reported at one time to be in critical condition but her whereabouts was kept secret and even close friends were unable to communicate with her.

Mr. Knickerbocker stated last night, however, that she has recovered and is now in seclusion in Pasadena. The contract with Associated, which was drawn for a period of five years, had still three years to run, he said.

Chief's Decision in Employment Case Withheld

After three days spent in hearing testimony Chief Deputy Labor Commissioner Barker yesterday took under advisement the question of whether he will revoke the license of R. Rodriguez, a North Main-street employment agent, on the complaint of A. P. Lopez.

Rodriguez was charged by Lopez with inducing, by misrepresenting the work and conditions, several men to accept employment and make a long trip to Keeler to work in a soda factory. After arriving at Keeler and finding the work different than expected and the hours of labor longer Lopez said, he and three others left the job and were given a jail sentence for nonpayment of board bills.

Rodriguez on the witness stand yesterday denied all allegations that he misrepresented the employment and disclaimed any part in their subsequent arrest.

Deputy Barker announced a written decision will be made.

CHARGED WITH SWINDLING

Jack Selbin and Max Green were charged in a complaint issued yesterday by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Hamner, with obtaining $500 by false pretenses. A. Sabinick asserts the pair sold him fake jewelry.

Lone Sailor and Would-be Saviors

Harry Pidgeon and Officers of Tanker That Almost Rammed His Yawl Meet in Port

The chance of the sea brought three of its adventurers together again at Los Angeles Harbor yesterday. They were Harry Pidgeon, lone world navigator, and L. G. Emmett and Walter Wigham, first and second officer, respectively, of the British tank steamer San Quirino.

On January 10, last, Pidgeon, aboard his thirty-four-foot yawl Islander, was beating up the Brazilian Current in the South Atlantic on the home stretch of his four-year circumnavigation of the world. It was midnight and Harry was sleeping below, with the tiller lashed and the boat pounding into the huge seas under reefed mizzen and jib and a gale howling abeam.

"I was awakened by a bumping sound against the boat's side," said Harry. "I hurried out on deck and looked up at a veritable black mountain of steel, rolling and plunging only a few feet away. I tell you I thought my time had come.

WASHED OVER SHIP

"Just then someone yelled 'Stand by to take a line!' and despite my assuring them that I didn't need any help, some one hurled down a line, the end of which struck me on the head and nearly knocked me unconscious.

"I yelled at the ship to get away and let me alone, just as a fifty-foot wave caught my boat and sent her clear above deck of the tanker. As I went by someone reached out and almost grabbed my hand. As the boat fell back in the trough of the sea her bowsprit was torn off against the side of the stanker and her port mizzen rigging also was wrecked.

"I begged the skipper to work clear and let me alone, but before he left he told me that his ship was the British tanker San Quirino, bound from Buenos Aires for Los Angeles, and that seeing my range light he thought I was in distress."

LAND IN SAME PORT

On October 31, last, the Islander completed her 35,000-mile cruise of the world, while yesterday the San Quirino put into port again after six months of steaming around the globe herself. The first question of her officers upon arrival was about Pidgeon and the Islander.

The meeting on the deck of the San Quirino yesterday between Harry and her officers was like a family reunion.

VETERAN CLUBS TO UNITE FOR DANCE

With the purpose of promoting closer relations between the four organizations, the County Council of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Roosevelt Camp of the United Spanish War Veterans, and the military orders of the Cooties and of the Snaix will conduct an armistice ball at the Flower-street auditorium, 1720 South Flower street, Wednesday night. D. J. Brady is chairman of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and C. R. Judd is commander of Roosevelt Camp. J. W. McClimans is grand goo-goo of the Snaix, and the representative of the Cooties is W. D. McDonald. Among the film stars who will be present are Hoot Gibson, Art Acord, Bill Desmond and Miss Illinois and Ben Corbitt from Universal. Demon Norris will do the Charleston. The Old Tinker Town Orchestra will play.

IF ONLY SHE COULD ONCE SEE SANTA---

Then it Would be Easy for Marjorie to Believe in Him; Otherwise, It's Tough

Now, if you were to leave it entirely up to little Majorie Tanner you would probably be told that there is no Santa Claus. She does admit, however, that she has just a wee bit of room left for doubt. For instance, if she could ever see Santa Claus and his six live reindeer — well, she couldn't help believing what she saw. could she?

Marjorie Tanner

And, like thousands of other boys and girls of Los Angeles, Marjorie seems to have been getting her share of Christmas presents each year. Last year it was dolls, two jars of candy and other things that Marjorie summed up as "N'everything."

Along comes Stanley Ikerd, of 1537 Stanley avenue, with a letter that is going to be difficult to answer for those who doubt there is a Santa Claus. Stanley writes:

"To The Editor:

"I got toy Chevrolet auto an' want toy tools for it. How can I if there's no Santa Claus?"

Mae Sleep of Torrance writes a letter of cheer to Jane Bessemer, who started the Santa Claus controversy with her question to the editor of The Times. Mae's letter, in part, reads:

"I read your letter you sent to Mr. Editor of The Times and I am so sorry to think you are feeling so troubled. But probably the little girl that doesn't believe in Santa Claus hasn't had the joys that you and I have had just waiting for our toys and wonderful things he brings to all boys and girls that are good. That is just the most important thing of all —we have to be careful about being very, very good."

Bertram Holcomb, a Los Angeles youngster, has a very good suggestion on this Santa Claus question. It is as follows:

"Dear Editor, The Times:

"My Father says Santa Claus lives nere the North Pole. His reindeer live there to. And his sled. Can't the editor go to the North Pole and see Santa Claus? Can Santa Claus come down to Los Angeles in the day time and his rindeer? I believe in Santa Claus. "BERTRAM."

OLD-TIME TAILORING FIRM REOPENS SHOP

Forced to go out of business after the war because it was found impossible to purchase good materials, the firm of Tucker & Charleson, tailors, has resumed business at 536 South Spring street. Their new store, with a complete line of material for men's clothing at reasonable prices, was opened a few days ago. The firm, it was stated, is now purchasing its cloth direct from the factories.

COSTLY RADIUM FOUND IN ASHES

Marvelous Machine Locates Tubes Worth $6000

Metal, Lost by Doctor, Sent to Incinerator

Electroscope Indicates Element's Presence

The proverbial search for a needle in a haystack has been duplicated—with modern trimmings—in Southern California.

Three tiny tubes containing $6000 worth of radium, were overlooked by an attendant in a physician's office and found their way into the day's accumulation of rubbish. The janitor swept them up and took the rubbish to an incinerator where it was burned along with a great accumulation of other refuse. The radium weighed fifty-seven milligrams, each of the three sticks being no larger than an ordinary pin.

The problem of locating the radium was brought to the California Institute of Technology, at Pasadena by an insurance company. The electroscope, a marvelous instrument designed and manufactured by Dr. Robert A. Millikan and his associates for experiments in studying rays of high penetration, was used in the unique search, it became known yesterday.

G. Harvey Cameron and I. S. Bowen, Dr. Millikan's assistants in the researches, took the electroscope to a large office building in Los Angeles where six barrels of ashes awaited a scientific inspection.

The ashes were placed into barrels and brought before the electroscope. One of the barrels immediately showed the presence of the radium. Then this barrel was separated into parts and eventually the precious element was located. The heat of the fire cracked the glass tubes but the radium was intact. The radium was kept in glass tubes the size of a match. These, in turn, were in small brass containers.

The electroscope located the radium by registering the presence of radioactive substance. Two tiny quarts fibers coated with platinum and suspended inside the instrument were charged with electricity until they spread apart. The presence of radioactive substance sent gama rays into the inside of the electroscope, where the rays ionized the air and caused the fibers to come together by reducing the electrical charge on them.

California Institute of Technology officials did not make public the name of the physician who lost and recovered the radium.

Bessie V. Deyo to be Bride of E.W. Mansfield

Edward F. Mansfield, retired millionaire, and Mrs. Bessie V. Deyo, wealthy widow, both of Pasadena, are to be married, a license to wed having been issued yesterday. Mansfield gave his age as 77 years and his prospective bride's as 49.

Mansfield has been a resident of Pasadena since his retirement fifteen years ago as an official for Armour & Co. His first wife died five years ago. He lives at 2200 Mar Vista avenue.

Mrs. Deyo is the widow of Herbert Deyo, and lives at 1245 Boston street.

Check Clews in Mutilation of County Record

Investigators yesterday continued their checking and cross-checking of marriage license bureau records in an effort to discover the motive which prompted the theft of two pages of names from the marriage records in the bureau.

Investigator Bland of the District Attorney's office, who is heading the investigation, stated that considerable progress had been made already, but that no definite action will be forthcoming until possibly Monday. Thus far, he stated, he has been busy checking the antecedents of the eight persons whose names appeared on the stolen pages.

HIMN OF HATE

A letter comes from a sweet amiable soul writing on the stationary of the Biltmore Hotel:

"Opinion of a German traveler on American and Americans:

"Hypocrisy: State religion.

"Selfishness: a cultivated virtue.

"To strive to their banner. Dollars is god. Have it no matter how.

P. S.: I don't know what it means to "strive to our banner," but I'll bet it is just about the worst thing any people could do.

OUR FIRST KNOCKER

L. E. Behymer sends me an clipping published in 1881 in a paper in Stansberry, Mo., where the James boys used to flourish; the author must have been the first Los Angeles knocker—the funniest:

"Los Angeles is one big town in one big ashen desert, the Arizona Desert. In that town there is a few Frenchmen who, of course, are civilized. The population is a very strange medley, composed of Mexicans, Malays, Esquimaux, Caribbean blacks and Indians. It is hot, very hot, and most of the people wear breech-clouts. They have one horse railroad, and the car is moved by one half-breed ass."

COUNCIL COURTEOUS

Listens to Street-Light Protest of Woman and Tables It

Clerk Carroll of the City Council started to read a protest against the installation of ornamental lights on South St. Andrews Place from Wilshire Boulevard to Beverly Boulevard.

"Why read the letter?" asked one of the Councilmen. "The day of filing protests expired on October 16."

"The protestant, Mrs. Grace D. Beahm, asked me to read the letter, and you know we must please the ladies," said Clerk Carroll.

The letter was read and then filed.

INGLEWOOD MAY JOIN CITY

Suburb, Following Example of Venice, Launches Campaign for Annexation

Came Inglewood, as the motion-picture title-writers say, to the City Council yesterday with an announcement that citizens of that city are planning to join in the rush to annex to Los Angeles. Venice led the way, then came notices from Alhambra and Santa Monica that annexation petitions were being circulated.

The Inglewood communication was placed before the City Council yesterday by Councilman Sparks, and was signed by Joseph P. Conklin, chairman and J. L. Beekly and C. R. Johnson as members of a committee of the South Inglewood Improvement Association giving the required notice that they are preparing to circulate a petition for the consolidation of Inglewood with Los Angeles.

The Council gave its hearty approval to the plan and the Inglewood annexationists will be notified of this action. The first Inglewood annexation rally is to be held next Thursday evening at 123 1-2 N. Market street, Inglewood, the communication said, and at this meeting the circulation of annexation petitions will be started.

"Anything said in the letter about Inglewood wanting a pipe organ as a condition of joining Los Angeles?" asked Councilman Sparks, referring to the request for a pipe organ from Santa Monica. The Councilman was told that no requests for a pipe organ appears in the Inglewood letter and he then voted for welcoming Inglewood to Los Angeles.

WOMAN ADMITS MURDER PLOT

Confesses Scheme to Have Assassins Kill Kin

Aged Sister-in-Law Intended Victim of Crime

Wife of Attorney Lays Plan to Home Discord

An amazing confession of a cold-blooded plot to murder her invalid sister-in-law, Miss Gertrude Fortune, 78 years of age, through the services of hired assassins, police announced, followed the sudden arrest yesterday of Mrs. Nellie B. Fortune, 60, and her detention in the psychopathic ward of the General Hospital. Mrs.

Plotter and Her Captor

In the upper photo is shown Mrs. Nellie B. Fortune, who confessed to plot to murder sister-in-law. She is in psychopathic ward for study. Below is pictured the manner in which Detective Lieutenant D. L. Hansel hid in car of man posing as woman's accomplice and heard details of murder scheme.

Fortune is the wife of Edmound Fortune, Los Angeles attorney, living at 400 North St. Andrews Place, whose only comment on the startling murder plot last night was that "domestic quarrels and jealously might be responsible."

Mrs. Fortune was taken into custody by Detective Lieutenant Hansel following a two-day investigation based on information given by George Jones of 420 North Broadway, a friend of the aged woman, who declared Mrs. Fortune had promised him $500 if he would arrange "with a taxi-cab driver and a bootlegger" to chloroform Miss Fortune and leave her in a lonely spot in the foothills to die of exposure. Hansel verified the strange story by concealing himself under the rear deck of Jones's car and driving with Jones and Mrs. Fortune two nights while he listened to their discussions of the plan.

ASKS FOR MONEY

Last night, Hansel said, Jones, following police instructions, asked for money. Mrs. Fortune promised to pay the full $500 today and meantime offered Jones $25 to "bind the deal." Hansel lifted up the cover of the rear compartment, peered through the rear window of the car and saw the money change hands. He lowered himself to the running-board, stepped to the side of the startled Mrs. Fortune and placed her under arrest. In the car Hansel also said he later found scraps of notes written to Jones by Mrs. Fortune in which details of how her aged sister-in-law was to be slain were mentioned.

At the Hollywood station Mrs. Fortune confessed, saying she had conceived the plot because her sister-in-law had "come between" her and her husband, had caused discord in their home and because Miss Fortune "was old and ought to be out of the way." The climax to domestic discord between the two aged women came recently, Mrs. Fortune said, when her sister-in-law insisted in the middle of a hot day on lighting the oven and attempting to bake a potato.

TELLS OF ANOTHER

Jones, who is said to have given a fictitious name and address in order to avoid publicity in the strange case, was taken into Mrs. Fortune's confidence on the murder plot. In turn Jones discussed it with Mr. Fortune's daughter by Reckard, of 1203 West Eighth street, whose husband is cashier of the Los Angeles Railway; Mr. Fortune, husband of the accused woman, and Detective Lieutenants Carman and Hauk, who conducted the final investigation, had a conference last night, and it was decided not to file a conspiracy-to-murder charge but to take Mrs. Fortune to the psychopathic ward for examination. Mrs. Reckard stated to the police she will sign an insanity complaint.

Mrs. Fortune's sister, Mrs. J. A. Hauk, Mrs. Fortune originally planned to hire a man to come to the Fortune home and chloroform or poison Miss Fortune while she slept. This was abandoned, the aged woman is said to have explained, because she feared "the sin of murder would be on her conscience"—and this might be eliminated, she believed, if her sister-in-law could be left in the hills, a prey to the elements.

According to Lieuts. Carman and a former marriage and they decided to communicate with the police. At first, however, Jones told a story of another man being involved, which led to an exhaustive police investigation.

STATE EXILES TO GATHER

Two State-society reunions and entertainments during the coming week were announced yesterday. Former residents of Nevada will meet Tuesday evening at Moose Hall, 437 South Hill street, for a musical program and dancing. Old neighbors from Illinois, now living in the Southland, will meet Wednesday night at 233 South Broadway for a popular program and dancing.

FIGURES IN STRANGE DEATH CONSPIRACY

NEW RELIEF BUREAU TO BE OPENED

Chest Organization to Give Day and Night Service to Needy of City

The new twenty-four-hour relief bureau of the Community Chest will be opened Monday morning in the Bradbury Building, 304 South Broadway, with D. C. MacWatters, a member of one of the Chest committees, in charge. This bureau will be ready to render instant service, day or night, to the helpless and needy whose cases are urgent.

The Community Chest will launch its second annual appeal next Monday for funds to carry on its work. Every day until the 19th inst. Los Angeles citizens will be called upon to give freely of their funds in order that the 137 welfare agencies, hospitals, clinics, homes for the aged and orphanages may carry on their philanthropical work in this city.

"Establishment of the new bureau will mean a great deal to Los Angeles," said R. W. Pridham, Chest president, yesterday. "The idea has received the unqualified indorsement of experienced social workers here. The bureau will offer immediate relief for urgent cases."

The following institutions, erroneously excluded from the original list, were yesterday admitted to the Chest: Disabled Veterans of the World War, Post No. 1; Galilean Training School; Newman Club; San Pedro Community Service; Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, and the Woman's Overseas Service League.

MITCHELL BURIAL TO BE TUESDAY

Funeral of Attorney Will be Conducted at St. Paul's Episcopal Cathedral

Funeral services for W. Egbert Mitchell, 65 years of age, prominent Los Angeles attorney and a member of the board of directors of the Philharmonic Orchestra, will be conducted from St. Paul's Episcopal Cathedral, Figueroa and Sixth streets, Tuesday at 2 p.m. Burial will be in Hollywood Cemetery.

Mr. Mitchell, whose death occurred Monday afternoon at his home, 370 South Normandie avenue, after an illness of several months, had practiced law in Los Angeles twenty-five years, coming here from Philadelphia. He had been a director of the orchestra board since its foundation.

Mr. Mitchell leaves a widow and a stepson.

Divorce Answer in Busch-Fraser Embroglio Filed

Filing of an answer by R. S. Busch to the divorce suit brought by his wife, Sadie Busch, yesterday was the latest development in the Busch-Carl Fraser legal embroglio.

A few weeks ago Busch sued Fraser, a wealthy Ocean Park amusement man, for asserted alienation of his wife's affections. Mrs. Busch then sued for divorce, charging cruelty.

GUESTS ENTERTAIN CLUB

Breakfast Club members were treated to a musical atmosphere yesterday morning at headquarters, 3213 Riverside Drive, when members of the cast of "All For You," playing at the Mason, guests for the day, entertained with song and dance numbers from the production. Those present were William Gaxton, Madeline Cameron, Ted Doner, Eddie Allen, Myrna Kennedy, James Edwards, Wilbur Cushman and the ten English Rockets. John McKeon, Breakfast Club member and sportsman, was host for the day.

CHURCHES TO AID CHEST

Ministers of All Religions Will Discuss Worth of Charity Appeal at Tomorrow's Services

"Write me as one who loves his fellow-men." So prayed Abou Ben Adhem of the angel who was registering in the Book of Life the names of those who love the Lord. And such is the prayer of every honest man whose religion is more than a mockery and whose love for the Creator is manifested in kindliness to his fellow-beings.

Th Community Chest campaign is religion in action and its success will be a proof of genuine devotion in the hearts of the citizens of Los Angeles. To be reminded that even in this beautiful city there is poverty and pain and that the reason for the Community Chest is to aid the afflicted, should inspire every one to donate something toward the success of the campaign. The Church Federation of Los Angeles has received assurance of hundreds of ministers that the latter will lend their hearty support to the Community Chest. At the Chest headquarters hundreds of letters have been received stating that the pastors of all denominations will devote part of their sermon hours tomorrow and on the 15th inst., to pleading with their parishioners to support this splendid program of municipal charity. The Catholic priests and Jewish rabbis also have promised to keep the Community Chest project before the minds of their respective congregations.

"WHO ARE THE FIT?"

"Are modern benevolences, like the Community Chest, going counter to evolution and the best interests of the race by preserving the unfit? After all, what is the character of those beings best fitted to survive?" These questions will be discussed in a sermon at the Mesa Congregational Church tomorrow morning, when Dr. H. C. Culbertson will point to the glory of the redemptive doctrine of Jesus as against the fiendish law of the jungle. The subject for evening is "Mohammedanism versus Christianity."

HUGHES-DYER BATTLE

A battle of words between two men who are experts at using those weapons will be conducted at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at the Wilshire Boulevard Congregational Church, when Maj. Rupert Hughes and Dr. Frank Dyer will debate the subject, "Resolved, that the world needs less Puritanism." Maj. Hughes will argue in the affirmative and Dr. Dyer will try to prove that the novelist is wrong in his conclusions. The verbal conflict will be free to the public. At the morning hour Dr. Dyer will discuss the question, "Is Life Worth Living in Los Angeles?" and those who know Dr. Dyer personally predict that his answer will be in the affirmative. A free organ recital will be given at 3:30 p.m.

"UNDER DIFFERENT FLAGS"

Rev. Bryant C. Preston, M.A., who was a "sky pilot" in both an aerial and ecclesiastic sense during the World War, and who was decorated by the British government for bravery, will the the speaker at the Ambassador Theater at 11 a.m. tomorrow, when he will preach on "Under Different Flags." The service will be conducted under the auspices of the Wilshire Boulevard Congregational Church.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Adam and Fallen Man" is the subject of the lesson-sermon for tomorrow at 11 a.m. at the nineteen Christian Science churches of Los Angeles. Services will also be conducted at 3 p.m. tomorrow at First, Second, Third, Fifth, Sixth, Seventh, Ninth, Tenth and Thirteenth churches. Meetings at which testimonials of Christian Science healing are given are conducted at all churches every Wednesday evening. These churches are branches of the Mother Church, the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston.

TEMPLE BETH-EL

Dr. Maurice Teshnor, rabbi of Hollywood Temple, Beth-El, announces that the religious school will be conducted at the temple at 10 a.m. tomorrow. The school is free to all Jewish children. Dr. Teshnor will address the young people on "Friendship." The Beth-El Hebrew school is conducted daily between 4 and 6 p.m.

"GREAT CHURCH WORKERS"

"All of our presidents, from Washington to Coolidge, have been active church workers and supporters of the principles of Christianity upon which our nation rests," declares Rev. W. H. Hopkins, pastor of the Plymouth Congregational Church, who will preach on "Great Church Workers" tomorrow morning in the West Coast Boulevard Theater. Each member of the audience will be presented with a copy of Roosevelt's "Nine Reasons for the Church."

"LIFE'S TRINITY"

The second of a series of sermons on "The Religion of the Presidents" will be preached by Dr. E. E. Helms tomorrow evening at the First Methodist Church. The discourse will include a discussion of John Adams, Thomas Jefferson, James Madison, James Monroe, John Quincy Adams and Andrew Jackson. The subject for the morning sermon is "Life's Trinity."

ST. PAUL'S CATHEDRAL

"Are you in favor of the whipping post? What do you think of 'What Price Glory'? What is your opinion of the Charleston? Is Col. Mitchell getting a fair trial? Why are Americans unpopular in Europe?" These questions, recently asked of Dr. William MacCormack of St. Paul's Cathedral, will be answered by Dr. MacCormack in his sermon tomorrow evening. The topic for the morning sermon is "Christ or Chaos?"

"AFTER CHRISTIANITY—?"

Rev. E. Burdette Backus, pastor of the First Unitarian Church, will preach tomorrow morning on "After Christianity, What?" Dr. F. Bullard's class will meet at 10 a.m. and the minister's study class at the same hour. Church school classes will be conducted at 9:30 a.m. and the primary and kindergarten classes at 10:50 a.m. A business meeting of the fellowship will be conducted at 5 p.m.

"WHEN CHRIST COMES"

Rev. Marion H. Reynolds, pastor of the San Gabriel Union Church, will be the speaker tomorrow morning at the Church of the Open Door when he will preach on "When Christ Comes." In the evening Rev. Maurice M. Johnson will discuss the question "Was Christ a Martyr or a Sin-Bearer?" The music at both services will be directed by Prof. J. B. Trowbridge. The intermediate and senior Christian Endeavor societies will meet at 6 p.m.

"CHIMES OF PROPHECY"

The chimes recently installed in the tower of the Glendale Presbyterian Church will be dedicated tomorrow with services in the morning and evening. At the morning hour Rev. W. E. Edmonds, the pastor, will preach on "The Chimes of Prophecy." In the evening a musical program will be given by the Bible Institute Girls' Glee Club, directed by H. G. Tovey. The public is invited.

TO SPEAK FOR KHJ

"Keeping America American" is the subject of an address to be given at 10 a.m. tomorrow from The Times broadcasting station by Rev. Gordon Palmer, pastor of the South Park Baptist Church and chaplain of Post No. 8, American Legion. Following the address Dr. Palmer will return to his church and preach on "It's Great to Be Alive." The topic for the evening sermon at the church is "Making Americans for America."

"YOU—REVALUED"

"What we need most is a revaluation of ourselves according to standards of character and permanence." That is the opinion voiced yesterday by Mrs. Leila S. Castberg, pastor of the Church of Divine Power, who will speak at the Morosco Theater tomorrow morning on "You—Revalued." Sunday-school will be conducted at 833 South Spring street at 9:45 a.m.

"DISHONORING THE FLAG"

"Are there other ways of dishonoring our flag besides using it efor cleaning windows?" This question will be discussed by Dr. W. E. McCulloch in a sermon tomorrow evening at the United Presbyterian Church. In the morning Dr. McCulloch will preach on "The Wisdom of Living a Clean, Straight Life."

"TONGUES OF FLAME"

Following the showing of the motion picture "Tongues of Flame" at the Wilshire Presbyterian Church tomorrow evening, Dr. J. A. Eby, the pastor, will preach on "Hope for the Worst Man in Los Angeles." MAKING THE GRADE
Many an athlete who is great at forward passing on the football field has an awfully hard time doing the same thing in his classes.

ELECTION COUNT
Election results are always hard to forecast down in Southern Mexico. One in Yucatan the other day resulted in five dead and twenty-seven wounded.

A DIFFERENCE
Every man who is sued for breach of promise seems to think that the girl who fondly called him her fiance was really thinking of him as her financ-e.

UNPLEASANT RELATIONS
The news that two South American republics have broken off relations will bring a sigh of envy from many a man who wishes he could break off some of his.

AMONG THE CHICKENS
Now that Walter Johnson has bought a poultry farm near Washington there may be a daily parade of sightseers eager to see Walter shooting the scratch feed at his flock.

LUCKY PRINCE
The Prince of Wales has just taken another tumble from a saddle. It's a lucky thing for the traveling Prince that he doesn't have to circumnavigate the globe on horseback.

GOING UP
There are seven women in the lower branch of the New Jersey Legislature. However, they don't call it the lower branch any more. It sounds like being up a tree, which is no place for a lady.

BIG BUSINESS
China bought more than 7,000,000,000 cigarettes from Uncle Sam during the year ending July 1. There is smoke to watch in the Orient. It is going to be hard to push the paper torch out of the world.

NO CAUSE FOR ACTION
No wife should complain because her husband frequently buys ribbons for his stenographer. She'd do the same if the alternative was reading over a lot of letters typed on an old one every day.

PANGS OF THE SKID
If it isn't one thing it is another. Now Messrs. Dempsey and Kearns are being sued for $25,000 damages because a lady skidded on a cake of soap in the hotel owned by them and marred her dignity and beauty. Cleanliness deserves encouragement; nevertheless there is hazard in leaving a bar of soap where the procession of loveliness is passing.

THE POINT OF VIEW
Sometimes the Constitution is forgotten and neglected by its professed champions. There are members of the Klan who resent the amendment guaranteeing religious freedom, yet would punish the citizen who permits his cider to harden in defiance of the prohibition amendment. The trouble is that all people do not accept amendments seriously or alike.

CONCERNING EMOTIONS
University investigators find what they call emotional instability to be more active among the college girls than with the male students. It had been thought that the modern girl was becoming sophisticated and was learning to suppress her feelings. It was feared that she was becoming hard-boiled. If she still yields to the primal emotions it should give some satisfaction.

THE DRYEST LAND
Speaking of dry districts, here comes the famous explorer, Dr. Roy Chapman Andrews, and asserts that Mongolia is the most consistently and continuously arid country in the world. He says the Gobi Desert has been dry territory for 20,000,000 years. The adventurer says that Mongolia is so dry it creaks when stepped on. There may have been a flood, but the Mongolians never heard of it. It seems that the dinosaurs in old Mongolia couldn't find any swamps to play in and, therefore, laid their eggs 'mid rock or sand. Anybody wishing to study the joys of a bone-dry country might join the Andrews expedition.

RETIRED ROYALTY
Changing a sovereign is not entirely a financial transaction. It is also a political sport. They say that Paris is so cluttered up with throneless kings that traffic is embarrassed. The Shah of Persia, who has just lost his crown, has been living in the French capital for some time and is, therefore, familiar with the ropes. If the Persians cut off his pay he may have to go to work. He is not particularly competent at anything, but there is always a possibility that necessity may develop some latent power or talent. All the kings and queens in Paris might pool their fortunes and start a department store. It would get a lot of the business of the American tourists.

MORAL DEVASTATION
The Hindenburg line in Northern France has almost wholly yielded to recultivation. Most of it now exists only in bitter, poignant memory. New villages have replaced those wholly or partly destroyed by bombardment on the different fronts where the World War was waged. Only the debts, the graves and the mutilated remain as physical evidence of the Titanic struggle of passion against passion and people against people. But the moral devastation occasioned by the great war and its aftermath is not so easily cleared away and replaced.

Fields torn by shells can be cleared and recultivated. The debris of demolished buildings can be broken up and new structures can arise. But the debris of passion, prejudice, hate and sophistry that clutters up millions of human brains still exists. Buildings so shattered as to be worthless were condemned and demolished, but the poor, shattered brains could not be so systematically restored.

The moral devastation was comparable only to that which swept over Europe and Northern Africa after the collapse of the Roman Empire. The old faith that all was for the best in the best of worlds was rudely shaken. Doubt and hate were unleashed upon peoples that had provided no defense against monsters.

For seven years restoration has been proceeding, but haltingly and intermittently. In some countries the devastation since the war has been greater than during the actual war period. In Central and Eastern Europe a number of buffer states were created, intended to form a kind of no man's land to prevent the contagion of Russian Bolshevism and German imperialism from spreading to neutral countries.

The buffer states have served to keep the Russian and German armies within their own borders. In fact, German imperialism has remained in a comatose condition ever since the war and seems since Locarno to be in the last throes of its death struggle. But the wild passions of unbelief, greed, envy and hate nurtured under the government of the soviets have been more difficult to control. They form a mental contraband that slips past the imagination and customs that make tremendous ravages in weak, undeveloped brains.

To protect the public against these mental diseases the criminal codes of all the western powers have been revised. Limitations have been placed on the preaching of revolutionary propaganda. To incite others to violence is prohibited by law alike in England, France, Germany, Italy and our own country. All these countries have established representative governments. All these governments function under some form of constitution. The people possess the right to amend these constitutions by the use of the ballot, and revolutionary amending is no longer permitted.

There is a great cry in radical quarters about the suppression of free speech; but the majority in all these countries rejoices to see the activities of the proponents of violence curtailed. To live right one must think right. This applies to communities and states as well as to individuals. Mental reconstruction is possible only while the public mind is occupied with constructive ideas. The tongues of the cannon are silent, and the rain of shells has ended; but the vicious bombardment of the Reds, along with the poison gas attacks of the pinks, continues.

The English government, for so long tolerant toward radical and revolutionary propaganda, has now set to work to apprehend all those seeking to promote the violent overthrow of the government and either to imprison them or to deport them. A similar house-cleaning is taking place in Germany and Italy, where those who advocate murder are held to be as guilty as those who commit a murderous act. France is still lenient; but the wave of radicalism sweeping over the country is causing a popular demand for the suppression of the Red activities.

The moral devastation grows steadily less. Radicalism and syndicalism no longer find popular support, even among the uneducated, and the mental reconstruction, seven years after the armistice, is now making visible headway. But it is a question of eternal vigilance; the repression must continue with unabated vigor until the last vestige of moral devastation due to the great war disappears.

SIGNS OF AFFECTION
A voice from the Chicago divorce bench conveys words of wisdom to the effect that one great cause of marital differences is the fact that, while husband and wife may love each other quite tenderly, they often fall into "the dangerous bantering habit, which easily may be carried too far, when they are likely to forego those outward signs of affection which no married couple may safely neglect."

To employ the argot of the street, in making these observations the learned judge "said something." Banter often is a vehicle for the conveyance of sentiments that one does not really hold against the person at whom such light aspersions are thrown. Yet it is likely to lead to the kind of talk which gives deep offense. In married life it is apt to develop into the nagging habit, which, once established, may lead to the unhappy state when all signs of affection disappear and, though the fire of love may not be extinguished, it is so deeply banked as not to be perceptible.

This may not lead to such violence as is suggested by the lines of Kemble,

"Perhaps it was right to dissemble your love,
But why did you kick me downstairs?"

Yet it may lead to the divorce court.

Real affection is something that cannot always be taken for granted when it is cloaked by words or deeds that seem to indicate hostility or lack of sympathy and are likely to arouse resentment. If husband and wife feel true affection for one another they must habitually show signs of it, else misunderstandings and bickerings will arise. The judge is right when he refers to the bantering habit as a dangerous one, and he is equally right when he says that a married couple cannot safely neglect the outward signs of affection.

The art of living together in harmony as husband and wife is one that seems to require more study than ever in these days of complex social relations, the growing nonobservance of the law and the drift from old moral teachings.

Another voice from the Chicago bench gives warning that "divorce is hitting up a more furious pace than ever" and that "marriages are not keeping up with the growth of population." The judge uttering these dismaying words says that manifold factors are involved, such as the swiftness and spirit of the age, the emancipation of woman, the economic marriage, the rabbit-hutch flat with furniture tucked in the walls and the eating of meals out of tin cans, together with the slackening of parental influences and the alarming tendency to regard marriage as an episode rather than a sacrament.

No fault can be found with marriage as an institution. The trouble lies with the manner in which it is regarded by those who undertake its obligations. One of the chief difficulties, as the judge first quoted implies, is the light manner in which man and wife regard each other. To restore marriage to its high place in human regard it must be taken seriously, and care must be exercised at all times that signs of affection and endearment be frequently exchanged and that provocation and resentment be suppressed.

Nobody reasonably can maintain that, on the whole, love between the sexes is dying out, and, if it is to be considered as growing more ephemeral between individuals, they have only themselves to blame for not fostering it by the right attitude and expression.

LEADING THE WORLD
Five California counties, according to late Federal statistics, are included among the first eight ranking counties as to the value of crops and live-stock products in the United States. This is the way they compare: First, Los Angeles county, California; second, Fresno county, California; third, Aroostook county, Maine; fourth, San Joaquin county, California; fifth, Lancaster county, Pennsylvania; sixth, Yakima county, Washington; seventh, Tulare county, California; eighth, Sonoma county, California.—[News item.

Evidently California can raise something besides the price. The sun pulls up more than high tide along the Pacific Coast. Big trees are not our only gigantic crop.

Some folks back East think California is just the playground of the republic. And now it comes to pass, and the government confirms it, that there is more work done here than anywhere else in the country. There are more plows and tractors turning things up than anywhere else.

Not a few imagine that Californians spend their time raising the devil on the immigration question. They may do a bit of that on holidays, for they are not insensible to the perils of the republic. But evidently they spend most of their time raising oranges, lemons, nuts, beans, prunes, apricots, peaches, grapes, hay, cotton and other products to keep the nations from starving.

And the average citizen does not seem to be a flunk at raising a fine crop of youngsters. At least her athletes seem to be able to wallop the world.

The truth is, California is filled with folks who are wide awake—that is the reason they are in California. It takes men of ambition and faith to pull up stakes back East and set out for the land of promise.

Few people have the gumption to do it. But those fortunate few have ever been rewarded as the pioneers of a new day.

THE ETERNAL FEMININE
There is a general impression that women are doing a far greater share of the world's work nowadays than they used to.

Maybe. But think of the work women used to do which is done by machines now—and often by machines operated by men.

Women used to weave all the cloths, make all the clothes, cook all the meals, rear large families, wash all the clothes by hand, iron the same way, do all the canning and preserving and so on down the line. And then, to amuse the family, they learned to play musical instruments. Now the mill has supplanted the household loom, the laundryman has supplanted the washerwoman, the can opener has taken the place of preserving season, electrical apparatus does a great deal of the housework, large families are out of fashion and the phonograph and radio and electrical piano are constantly decreasing the percentage of people who play musical instruments, except in apartment-houses, where there are always a few enthusiasts who want to learn the saxophone and the ukulele. But most of them are not women.

But cynics always are unfair. The simple fact is that women are indispensable and always have been. It is a fine thing that they are taking a greater part in many other branches of the world's work than they used to and no longer are restricted to duties which used to be far more burdensome. Heretofore women always have done the biggest part of the world's essential work—the work which kept the world alive, clothed and happy. Important work, that—the most fundamentally important work of all, even more important than some of the work for which they are forsaking it.

Can the time be coming when women will make themselves nonessential?

Just About It
by James J. Montague

TO A MINCE PIE

[As Keats might have written it had he been an American.]

Matured creation of a noble art,
To every mighty masterpiece akin,
What lofty joy to pry thy crusts apart,
And scent the steam that rises from within.
We know not who was first to give thee birth,
Whose heaven-directed hand it was that placed
The fairest fruits of this abundant earth,
With spices from some sunlit tropic isle
Between those discs of golden flaky paste,
The senses of the gourmet to beguile,
Or light the rustic's visage with a smile—
And teach the very savage the true worth
Of a profoundly epicurean taste.

Perhaps some monarch's master of cuisine—
Inspired by love or wine, as poets are,
Beyond that realm I've dubbed "the pure serene"
To find some new confection searched afar;
Perhaps some housewife, on a dish of hash,
A pot of sizzling apples overturned,
Observed the scent that rose and in a flash
Envisioned that a little kick might give
A fillip that would make life good to live,
Poured in the contents of the brandy jar
And thus the thanks of generations earned.

Let France enjoy her pifling, petit four,
Let Englishmen, at meal times glum and dour,
Eat crusted stews of meat and call them pie.
But even though the juices that instil
The savor that is yours and yours alone,
Are hard to come by—though the cider mill
Is closed, unless you know its private door—
E'en on this arid and Saharan shore,
When chill November clouds the autumn sky,
This will not be a strictly temperate zone,
For still you'll come to cheer us—Oh, mince pie!

LONG GALLOPS FOR LOW PAY
For records of day-by-day endurance in the saddle we must go back to the riders of the Pony Express. Though longer and faster rides have been made—often by killing horses and exhausting riders—it was the pride of the Pony Express that they kept the mails moving every day, even though it required almost superhuman feats of endurance to overcome the handicaps of mountains, quicksands and hostile Indians.

President Lincoln's inaugural address was carried 2000 miles in seven days and seventeen hours. Jim Moore once galloped 280 miles in fourteen hours and forty-six minutes, an average of eighteen miles an hour. Buffalo Bill once made a ride of 320 without a rest, and "Pony Bob" Haslam covered 380 miles through hostile Indian country in one ride.

For these feats of endurance and the dangers incidental to them, the riders received from $50 to $150 a month.—[Frontier.

LETTERS TO The Times

The Shadow Box
LOS ANGELES, Nov. 5.—[To the Editor of The Times:] The comment in your columns yesterday by Alma Whitaker concerning the proposed new third-degree method known as the "shadow box" is characteristically pertinent and provocative.

It is well known that under present third-degree methods confessions are frequently obtained—but not always. This new method, which is counted upon to aid the police in solving crimes by instilling into suspects the psychology of fear, ought to bring more uniform results. And if the third degree can be so developed that its application will procure confession from every suspect there will be no longer any reason to complain of the ineffectiveness of our criminal procedure. Arrest and a session in the "shadow box" supplementing other third-degree methods will be followed regularly by confession and conviction, and our police department will enjoy a batting average of 100 per cent.

The Police Commission might learn something from the study of the old procedure in witchcraft cases—the records of which show that those accused of that crime usually confessed. Also there are several ingenious medieval methods of eliciting the truth—such as "the question" and "the vigil"—which might be adopted in order to obtain confessions.

HERBERT J. GOUDGE.

What of the Under Dogs?
LOS ANGELES, Nov. 3.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Your Sunday editorial on the bright prospects for world peace voices American optimism and also our tendency to see world affairs through the rose-hued glass of our own happy and fortunate situation. We in America are ready to proclaim the world a mighty fine place and to see in the future only a fair prospect of peace and prosperity for all mankind.

Our restless spirit of craving for excitement will not lead us aside from the pathway of peace, but how about certain other peoples, who likewise are restless and crave excitement and who see in future peace only a pathway of dull drudgery, the end of which is the grave?

How about the Orient, with its teeming millions now feeling the urge of new ideals, a new sense of power and a new national pride which makes them chafe under the yoke of foreign peoples? In a word, we who are on top of the heap could look forward to peace if we could be sure that those underneath would make no determined efforts to change places with us.

Lot's Wife
GLENN SPRINGS, Oct. 27.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I see by The Times that, shortly after dismissing one of their ministers, because he ventured to express an opinion as to whether the transformation of Lot's wife into a pillar of salt, was due to a scientific process or to a miracle, the conference of the Methodist Church, South, went on record as favoring Bible teaching in the public schools and pledged themselves to support the initiative measure to that end.

Now, if the initiative measure passes, it is very possible that some young lady will be teaching the Bible to my children in the public schools and when she gets to that story about the Lot family the following childish questions might arise:

If Lot's wife was trailing along in the rear when she looked back and was turned to salt, how did the others find out about it? If they had looked back, would they not have been turned to salt also? And if they did not look back, who did find out what happened? If it actually was the Lot family, who investigated the matter, which one of them tasted of the old lady to determine whether she had been turned to salt, sugar, chalk or some other white substance?

That initiative measure is going to make life interesting.

AVIATION TERMS ARE FREQUENTLY MISUSED

"Airships" are not "dirigibles," says Lieutenant-Commander Clifford A. Tinker, Bureau of Aeronautics, United States Navy. In an article in the November McClure's Magazine which deals in an authoritative manner with the Shenandoah disaster, Commander Tinker gives the exact definition of words which have come into constant use since the huge flying ship crashed in Ohio.

"Aviation has nothing to do with airships, but is the operation of heavier-than-air craft. The art of operating lighter-than-air craft is called aerostation, pronounced air-o-stash'un. All types of lighter-than-air-craft are aerostats.

"An airship is an aerostat provided with a propelling system. If its engines stop, it becomes a balloon."

The writer explains that aviation is not a synonym for aeronautics. Aviation is the art of operating airplanes and seaplanes, while aeronautics is the all-embracing word which means the art of self-sustained flight by any and every means.

"Airships are not dirigibles. Dirigible is an adjective which means anything that may be directed or controlled, including automobiles and steamships. The word is not sufficiently specific to be used as a noun designating airships. Airplanes are dirigibles.

"The word 'blimp' is English slang designating small, nonrigid airships. Blimp no more fits the Shenandoah or Los Angeles than 'steam launch' fits the Leviathan or Majestic."

KHJ Studio Will Present Surprise Concert

SPONSOR GIVES CHEST IMPETUS

Special Contribution Made for Charity Drive

Lecturer Draws on Romance of Southland in Talk

Fine Concert Arranged for Tomorrow's Program

BY PAUL SHEEDY

Further impetus was given the approaching Community Chest campaign last evening at the tower studio of KHJ when the radio department of the Western Auto Supply Company gave a special concert as a portion of its contribution to the drive, presenting a stellar array of entertainers to assist the thousands of workers who will begin solicitation of funds next week for the deserving charities of the city.

Starting at 8 o'clock and continuing for two hours, this prominent program sponsor filled the air with classical, semiclassical and novelty numbers of all descriptions, ranging from the beautiful selections by Gladys Burch Dale, violinist; Marcia Obuchon, pianist, and Constance Thode, mezzo-soprano, to the inimitable blues of the California Blue Boys and the novelty playing of Wesley B. Tourtellotte.

TRIO OPENS PROGRAM

The program was opened by the Filipino Trio with an "Oriental Medley," followed by the California Blue Boys and then Gladys Burch Dale with a brilliant violin solo, "Cavatina," by Raff, with Marcia Obuchon, who later gave a splendid rendition of Rachmaninoff's "Liebeslied," accompanying her, and also assisting Constance Thode, who opened her group of mezzo-soprano solos with Nevin's "Mighty Lak a Rose."

The almost endless fountains of romance that spring from the vast stretches of the Southwest were again drawn upon in last night's talk before the microphone by Gladys DeWitt, whose long series on the "Romances of the Santa Fe Trail" have proven one of the major educational features of the studio.

The life and habits of the ancient dwellers in this portion of the nation as portrayed through their hieroglyphics, or picture writing, on the walls and caverns throughout the desert and canyon country, were portrayed in last evening's talk. These arid wastes and fertile mesas have been the source of a great mass of invaluable information in the search for the secrets of antiquity, many important discoveries of ancient lore having been uncovered within recent years, notably the discoveries in the Hava Supai Canyon, which are still progressing after having established the fact that man was contemporaneous with the dinosaur and other huge mammals of forgotten ages.

JUVENILES ENTERTAIN

Last evening's children's hour was a group of the youthful stars who have established these twilight programs in the forefront of the feature broadcasts of the Pacific region. With Prof. Walter Sylvester Hertzog opening the period with his usual discussion of the events and movements of history, among the juvenile entertainers who appeared were "Sir Richard" Headrick, screen juvenile; Vyola Von, the "Wild Rose of KHJ;" Billie Eminger, 5-year-old reader; Bettiemae Pfefferkorn, 8-year-old singer and reader; Billy Hill, 6-year-old violin pupil of Morris Stoloff, and Amelia Eastman in readings.

Patrons of the daylight broadcasts of the tower were given the pleasure on the matinee program of the Pacific States Electric Company of hearing the Titian Trio, directed by Winifred Schutten, in their weekly concert of splendid instrumental selections, with Karl Brandenberg, always a favorite, giving a group of his most popular songs in response to many requests, and Agnes Bell, singer and ukulele player, again meeting with praise for her numbers before the microphone. Red Loring's Orchestra, playing through the courtesy of the Oaks Tavern, was again received with enthusiasm when they played the noon hour of dance music, with Betty Abbott, the girl baritone, with the orchestra, receiving many requests for additional selections.

ARRANGE FINE CONCERT

Tomorrow evening, from 8 until 10 o'clock, followers of The Times station are to have their first opportunity of hearing an especially fine concert arranged through the courtesy of the Builders' Finance Association. Full details of the roster of artists who will participate in this broadcast have been withheld until the hour for the program to commence.

Another lengthy review of the favorites of KHJ is due for this evening, with more than a score of the popular tower stars to give a concert of wide variety.

JEWISH AID FOR TURKEY IS PRAISED

Ex-Royal Adviser Lauds Assistance Establishing New Government

Words of praise for the Jews who assisted the young Turks to establish a new and progressive government were voiced at the Masonic Club yesterday by Dr. L. B. Sabungi, who was political adviser to the late Sultan, Abdul-Hamid.

Dr. Sabungi, who is 87 years of age, and who is a member of the Royal Asiatic Society in London and a linguist and lecturer of note, is a guest of S. W. Physioc, 1225 Milton avenue.

"I do not think the girls of America would enjoy studying to qualify as a Sultana of the harem," said Dr. Sabungi. "When the Sultan is presented with a new wife he first sends her to his mother's school of preparation and for two years she is compelled to study languages, the arts and how to please the Sultan. When she gets her diploma she is allowed to enter the Harem, which means 'Holy Place' and if she is especially attractive and accomplished she may become the Sultan's favorite wife. For any demonstration of jealousy she has to suffer bitterly—although the penalty of being tied up in a bag and thrown into the Bosphorus has been abandoned."

Irving Mitchell, president of the Masonic Club, announced that no meeting will be conducted on next Wednesday and that the last meeting at the old quarters at the Alexandria will be next Friday. The first luncheon at the new club home on Grand avenue will be on the 16th inst., although the new home will be open to members on the 14th inst.

TWO REPORT HEAVY HAULS BY BURGLARS

Morris Esrall yesterday reported a burglary at his home and store at 2482 West Pico street. The intruders got in through a rear door and took $500 in cash and $1000 in jewelry and dress goods, he said. At the home of Mrs. F. B. Hocker, 274 South Rampart Boulevard, a pass key burglar stole clothing worth $1100.

MALE PENELOPE RENEGES

Giuseppe Decides After Ten Years of Waiting That His Wife's Not Coming Back, so He Consigns Patience to Discard and Wins Divorce With Story

The priest counseled patience, and for years Giuseppe Spinuzza practiced that excellent virtue—but without reward. Then he sought the advice of legal counsel, and took his grievance into the law courts for adjustment.

Spinuzza's practice of patience began with his marriage. He patiently labored to accumulate the fund that ultimately brought him to America. Then he saved up a new fund to bring Petrina over. In 1912 she came—and on the same boat was Francisco Ortega, her former sweetheart, Spinuzza told Judge Summerfield yesterday.

"She ran away with him," he said. "I asked the priest what to do. He said to be patient and she would come back.

Spinuzza, brave in a red bandana, a velvet vest and gorgeous jewelry, broke into Italian, in his volubility, and his attorney, Ernest M. Torchia, had to translate the latter part of his tale.

"So I waited two years. Then I saw my lawyer and he said I should get a divorce. We started a suit, but again the priest said be patient. But Petrina never came back. I was patient ten years and now I am through with patience."

"It would certainly seem that if patience ever ceases to be a virtue, it has in your case," observed Judge Summerfield as he signed a decree that put an end to Spinuzza's long wait.

Forty-five factories, employing 4000 men, are now manufacturing chemicals in Baden, Germany.

HOLDS RABBI IN ASSERTED LIQUOR SALE

Morris Kanter to Answer Charge of Bartering in Sacramental Wines

Rabbi Morris Kanter was held for trial in United States District Court under $1500 bail yesterday after a preliminary examination before United States Commissioner Turney on charges of sale and possession of liquor.

It is charged that he sold a quantity of sacramental wine for other than sacramental purposes. Four members of his congregation testified against him. They stated that they had ordered sacramental wine from him, leaving it in his charge in the synagogue. But when they came to call for it, they said, the wine was gone.

Abe Aaron, arrested together with Rabbi Kanter on the same charge, waived examination and is awaiting trial. Mrs. Aaron was arrested later and will appear for examination before Commissioner Turney Monday.

Deputy Officer Held to Answer in Death Crash

Elmer Redd, deputy constable at El Monte, yesterday was held to answer a manslaughter charge by Justice Russill, following testimony that Redd was driving at excessive speed and using his siren when not on active duty when his car killed Anthony Helme, September 7, last.

The accident took place at San Gabriel Boulevard and Garvey Road. Redd's wife and two children were in the car with him and were injured severely in the accident.

Are you ill or in pain? Read the advertisement in Sunday's magazine section of The Times, which tells you about "Ionaco."

Don't despair before you have tried this wonderful new therapeutic device, which is said to be producing such remarkable clinical results without drugs, baths, massage or any of the other discomforts.

Ionaco generates a magnetic flux, which acts upon the iron in your body, accelerating the transfer of the oxygen from the blood to the living cells.

The iron, when magnetised, acts as a better catalyzer. "What is a catalyzer?" did you say? Well there are certain things in chemistry called catalyzers and that means that they do not enter into chemical union with other elements, but other elements will not enter into union with each other unless the catalyzer is present. Its presence, in some mysterious way, seems to do the trick of uniting the other elements.

The oxygen in the blood must first go to the iron before going to the cells.

A depleted condition of the body is often attributed to lack of iron, notwithstanding the well-known fact that iron, when prescribed to the anemic, as a rule is useless.

Now Mr. Wilshire's theory is that the body usually has plenty of iron; but the iron does not act up to its full catalytic function.

The "Ionaco" causes normal oxidation to take place and this explains the marvelous therapeutic results.

The remarkable statements from the hundreds of patients benefited by "Ionaco" show that goiters have rapidly disappeared; tumors have been dissolved, joints, stiffened for years with arthritis and rheumatism are made supple, the dumb speak, the deaf hear, the lame walk, the suffering become free from pain, the sleepless rest and even the old return to the activity and freedom of youth. In many cases white hair is restored to its natural color, luster and curl.

Even dementia has responded to the wonderful restorative action of Ionaco, as evidenced by the statement of Mrs. C. Edward Ross, 2707 Moseley Road, Altadena, Cal., June 8, 1925.

Mental derangement: I used your Ionaco on my husband, who had recently become completely deranged. After the first treatment of twenty minutes considerable improvement was noted and by the third or fourth application, he became quite rational and seemed to have good control of his mental faculties.

It costs you nothing to investigate the "Ionaco." Free treatments are given at the Iona Company's several offices upon request.

A free lecture, by Gaylord Wilshire, is given every Tuesday evening at 8 p.m. at the main office of the Iona Company, 821 Commercial Exchange Bldg., 8th and Olive, on "The Ionaco."

Mr. Wilshire has thrown down the gauntlet to the medical world by offering to give "Ionacos" to established hospitals, which will agree to try it out and publicly report results. His free-treatment offer opens wide the door to the investigation and proof of its efficiency in healing.

The best colored cook we ever had down South cooked candied yams this way: peel and slice yams about half an inch thick, boil until nearly done in salted water. Pour off most of the water, sprinkle liberally with brown sugar and the juice of half a lemon. Bake in the oven until brown. An iron skillet is the best utensil and there should only be one layer of yams.

At the Industrial Show
Los Angeles is waking up to the fact that there is something worth going in crowds to see, at the Industrial Exhibit of Greater Los Angeles, on the lower floor of the Chamber of Commerce Building.

Next week is special canned foods week, with demonstrations of many Los Angeles-made foods. The food manufacturers invite you to become familiar with their products.

Clubs and associations that want to watch the backbone of Los Angeles grow visit the show in groups and use the lecture room for meetings, or by special arrangement have luncheon served.

Of course the pies will be made with Grandma's Flaky Pie Crust. Don't fail to see the original oil painting, by Artemus Ward, famous New York artist, from which their attractive posters were made.

Here's something new! True fruit syrups demonstrated by the Imperial Food Products Co., of 3735 Central avenue, are a delicacy that you will be glad to learn how to use.

Many of those you are familiar with through reading this column have special exhibits at the show.

CELL FOR MALE IMPERSONATOR

Mother of Two Must Serve Term for Forgery

Judge Revokes Probation on New Complaint

Male Garb Donned to Obtain Work as Carpenter

Edna Brittendall, the "man-woman" of Sherman, came to the end of her rope in Judge Hahn's department of the Superior Court yesterday.

The woman, who for five years had worn man's clothing and followed a man's calling—that of carpenter—and completely fooled her fellow-workmen and neighbors until she ran afoul of the law, was sentenced to serve from one to fourteen years at San Quentin on a charge of forgery. She took the sentence stolcally and like a man.

LIVED QUIETLY

Until last March, the woman and her two small children had lived quietly and unobtrusively in their cottage at Sherman. Mrs. Brittendall, her sex concealed by man's clothing and a bearing which neighbors subsequently declared would do credit to any virile male, went to work daily as a carpenter.

The secret was kept until her arrest on a charge of obtaining money and labor under false pretenses. Her sex was made known and trouble followed. She was given the alternative of resuming skirts or going to jail. But she defied the court, declaring that she must pose as a man in order to be able to earn sufficient money for the support of her two children.

The court finally gave in. Then a short time later the woman was again arrested on a charge of forgery. She had passed a number of worthless checks but declared in court that she had been driven to do so by a desire to give her children an outing.

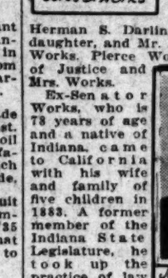
PROBATION REVOKED

Judge Hahn deliberated on the case for some time and finally heeded her appeal for probation. But a few days ago it was found that the "man-woman" again had resorted to forgery. Judge Hahn was not so lenient this time and revoked her probation. He ordered that the one-to-fourteen-year penitentiary sentence which he had originally imposed on her be made effective and the woman was returned to her cell. She will leave soon for San Quentin.

EX-SENATOR WORKS, WIFE TO BE FETED

Celebration Tomorrow Will Mark Fifty-eighth Year of Wedded Life

Marking their fifty-eighth wedding anniversary and forty-two years of residence in the State of California, ex-Senator and Mrs. John D. Works will be the honored guests at a family gathering tomorrow at the Beverly Hills home of their son, Justice Lewis R. Works of the District Court of Appeals. Other members of the family who will be guests are Mr. and Mrs. Herman S. Darling, the latter a daughter, and Mr. and Mrs. Pierce Works. Pierce Works is the son of Justice and Mrs. Works.



John D. Works

Ex-Senator Works, who is 78 years of age and a native of Indiana, came to California with his wife and family of five children in 1883. A former member of the Indiana State Legislature, he took up the practice of law at San Diego. He later became judge of Superior Court of San Diego county and associate justice of the United States Supreme Court. Resuming the practice of law at San Diego as the partner of the late Olin Wellborn, the Senator received the appointment to the bench of the United States District Court at Los Angeles. Under a reform movement he was elected to the City Council and made its president.

Justice Lewis R. Works

Mrs. Herman S. Darling.

He was elected to the United States Senate from California in 1911 and served until 1917.

FILMS FOR CHILDREN TO BE SHOWN TODAY

Special pictures, each based on stories of some book popular with youth, will be shown at fifteen West Coast motion-picture theaters in Los Angeles this afternoon, at juvenile matinees to feature the celebration of children's book week, beginning next Tuesday. The book-picture programs have been arranged by Miss Hemmington of the West Coast staff, with approval of the Federation of Women's Clubs and Individual Parent-Teachers' associations. Los Angeles Boy Scouts will have charge of the program at Wilshire Theater and Girl Scouts and other boy and girl organizations will be in charge of programs at other theaters.

Free Love Cult Head Convicted on Mail Charge

Mme. Edith Lessing, who originated a cult for overthrowing the government and establishing instead, a system in which marriage would have no place, and free love would rule, was convicted of sending obscene literature through the mails yesterday in United States District Judge McCormick's court. She will be sentenced Monday. Until then she will be at liberty on her own recognizance.

The basis of the charges against the woman was a pamphlet called the "Syllabus," which contained a treatise of her free-love doctrine, and which she sent through the mails. A few years ago, it is said, the woman served eighteen months in a woman's reformatory in Missouri on a similar charge.

POETIC BEAUTY EXPERT SOUGHT

Violation of State Medical Practices Charged

Advertising Sent to Venus Devotees in Rhyme

Wanted Man Stated to Have Left for Arizona

Albert Carter, special agent of the board of medical examiners, obviously a man with no music in his soul, is looking for J. M. McClendon with a warrant charging advertising in violation of the State medical practices act.

He declares that McClendon, whose office is given as 225 Loew's State Building, designated himself in a pamphlet as a specialist in certain diseases in addition to being a "maker of new faces."

The pamphlet, according to Carter, is entitled "Beauty and Its power—Youth seven days away," and contains the following rhapsody:

"For faces all wrinkled and furrowed,
All sadly pitmarked and scarred,
Whose beauty old Time in its vengeance
Has cruelly blemished and marred,
"We have a new magical method
That restores your own youthful charm;
The treatments are practically painless,
And guaranteed not to do harm.
"The work is done by McClendon, the man famous,
Who is always quite glad to explain
Just how you can banish your worries,
And all your lost beauty regain."

Carter stated that yesterday he found Mrs. Edna Judd, a beauty specialist, in the McClendon office, who said she had paid McClendon $400 for formulas and other equipment, and expressed the belief that he had gone to Arizona.

Death Benefits Denied Divorced Wife by State

A divorced wife has no right to receive death benefits payable under the Workmen's Compensation Act when her former husband dies even if she was receiving alimony under court order before his death, Industrial Accident Commissioner Carrigan ruled here yesterday.

In deciding the award of $3752.20 payable to the dependents of Arthur E. Brock, a traveling salesman who was accidentally killed in San Bernardino, December 10, 1924, Commissioner Carrigan divided the insurance between Brock's second wife and three children. The award was against the Casualty Reciprocal Exchange.

Commissioner Carrigan also made an award yesterday of $5150 to Mrs. Fora M. Freiley and a minor child against the New Amsterdam Casualty Company for the death of W. E. Freiley, who was killed last September in an oil-well accident at Lomita, while in the employ of the South Basin Oil Company.

GAS COMPANY WORKER FALLS OFF SCAFFOLD

L. Rossi, 44 years of age, a laborer employed by the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation, suffered internal injuries yesterday in a fall. He dropped from a scaffold at a building at 1033 Santee street about twenty-five feet to the ground. He was taken to St. Vincent's Hospital.

Mrs. Katherine Nelson of Jersey City, N. J., is considered the champion woman welder in the country.

HAM AND RAISIN TOAST

Fry the required number of slices of stale bread in hot butter to a nice brown and cover a hot platter with them. Place in a small saucepan four tablespoonfuls of seedless raisins, two slices of raw ham chopped in small pieces, one-quarter of a teaspoonful of powdered sage, two tablespoonfuls of granulated sugar and four tablespoonfuls of vinegar. Cook over a slow fire until the sugar is dissolved and the ham is tender. Pour over the slices of fried bread and serve very hot.

PEACH TARTS

Line tartlet molds with cookie dough; fill with dry beans and bake until the tarts are a nice light brown; turn out the beans and cool. Drain the syrup from a large can of preserved sliced peaches and place in a small saucepan; heat, add the juice of half a lemon, half a cupful of sugar and one tablespoonful of granulated gelatine soaked in half a cupful of water for five minutes; stir until the sugar and gelatine are dissolved. Fill the baked shells with the sliced peaches, pour over the syrup and set in a cold place until set. Cover the tops with whipped cream or marshmallow filling, sprinkle with finely chopped toasted almonds and candied orange peel.

CHICKEN BOURGOISE

Cut a large cleaned frying chicken in eight pieces and dust with flour seasoned with salt and pepper. Heat four tablespoonfuls of butter and one tablespoonful of olive oil in a frying pan, add the floured chicken and cook until nicely browned on all sides; drain out the chicken and place in an oiled baking pan and bake fifteen minutes. Sprinkle over the chicken two tablespoonfuls of finely chopped onion and bake five minutes. Heat four tablespoonfuls of olive oil in a saute pan, add three cupfuls of peeled and diced potatoes, and half an onion finely chopped, add a seasoning of salt and pepper and shake and cook until the potatoes are tender. Arrange the fried chicken on a hot platter and place around the fried diced potatoes.

SPECIAL FIG SUNDAE

Run half a pound of steamed dried figs through the fine knife of the meat chopper; place in a saucepan, add two cupfuls of water and two cupfuls of sugar; bring to a boil and simmer for thirty-five minutes, add the grated rind of half a lemon and cook slowly ten minutes. Cover ice cream plates with broken macaroons, adding a serving of vanilla ice cream, cover with the cold fig syrup, sprinkle with chopped walnut meats and garnish with a spiral of marshmallow or whipped cream.

Diet and Health
By Lulu Hunt Peters, M.D.
Author of "Diet and Health" and "Diet for Children"

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

Epsom Salt Baths and Doubts

"Dear Doctor: I have read your column every day and I find that very many people have lost weight through dieting, but I am a girl who does not believe it! I know a woman who lost thirty-five pounds through dieting, but when she started to eat again she gained all she lost and twice as much.

"If putting a pound of epsom salts in a tub of water, twice a week, will reduce you (I know a girl who claims she was reduced that way) will this not be better than dieting? I weigh 171; am 17 years of age, five feet five inches tall.

"Hoping it will be of no trouble for you to answer these questions in the paper (I would like to see the answer in the column within three days, if possible.) Sincerely, —R. A."

The words "I don't believe it!" sounds a little harsh don't you think?

When statements are made and you respond with a phrase like that, you reflect on the speaker's integrity and incidentally make yourself seem somewhat bigoted and unkind, R. A. I suggest that instead of saying, "I don't believe it," in such a case you say, "It seems incredible."

Every testimonial that appears in the column is an excerpt from an actual letter I have received. Do you think anyone would voluntarily take the trouble to write me these testimonials unless they were true? There would be no object in it. The fact of the matter is that there are thousands all over the world now, who have reduced anywhere from ten to 137 pounds (137 pounds is the most I have had reported) by following our instructions.

There is only one scientific and healthful method of reducing and that is through control of the diet and exercises.

I have tried the epsom salts myself. Unless I dieted at the same time, I did not reduce, and when I combined them I did not know whether to credit the baths with part of the reduction or not. I doubt that they have very much reducing value. I never have met anyone who has reduced by taking them, without dieting also. They will extract some water from the tissues if you soak in them long enough, but you will regain the water lost by drinking more water. I think a good sweating bath of some sort, twice a week, even though you immediately gain the weight lost, by drinking water, is beneficial for all of us, reducing or not.

Now, as for my answers appearing in the column within three days after you wrote letter. I'm sorry, but that is impossible, R. A., for my copy has to be written up three or four weeks before it appears in the papers. My health service is a syndicated feature, appearing in papers all over the United States and Canada.

The average weight for a girl of your age and height is 125. Adding five per cent to that (it is better for growing boys and girls to be 5 to 10 per cent overweight for the average,) you could be normal at about 131. So you are forty pounds overweight, R. A. No wonder you are doubtful, testy! Send for the reducing booklet, inclosing self-addressed, stamped envelope and 10 cents in stamps with your request. I predict you will soon be giving me a beautiful testimonial yourself!

My dear Followers: When sending for material which we offer you, please remember to inclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must inclose 10 cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, not over 200 words, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the column as soon as possible. If they are of general interest. Don't forget the stamped, self-addressed envelope if you expect me to send you the information I have offered.

Held as Witness in Mann Act Case

Mrs. Ada Wightman

SUSPECT IN DOPE CASE ARRESTED

Fights Way to Freedom at Plaza, But Trailed to Harbor and Caught

Three times Anthony Ballerini, alias John Cuppa, successfully evaded Federal officers; the fourth time—yesterday—he was arrested at Los Angeles Harbor, but not until he had put up a desperate fight a few hours earlier at the Plaza in Los Angeles and had fled to the seaport.

Ballerini is wanted in Portland as a Mann Act violator suspect and is a fugitive from New York on a narcotic charge, government officers reported yesterday.

Harbor police aided in the capture of Ballerini after he had swung his fists at the Plaza and cleared his way through a throng of bystanders.

He was traced and was caught while conversing with several young women at the harbor. He will be held for removal to New York on the three-year-old drug charge.

TOO LITTLE SPACE ALLOTTED TREASURY

That 8500 square feet of floor space allocated to the City Treasury in the new $5,000,000 ity Hall was but one-half of the space needed by his department was the statement made to the Board of Public Works yesterday by City Treasurer Powell. The board took the request for more space for the Treasury under advisement. The board's estimates showed that the City Treasury now occupies 2500 square feet of space, the present needs of the Treasury were estimated at 7500 square feet, and the needs twenty years hence 10,000 square feet. The architects, John Parkinson, John C. Austin and Albert C. Martin, allocated 8500 square feet to the City Treasury and it was this estimate against which the City Treasury protested.

PLEADS NOT GUILTY TO CHARGE OF ARSON

Charged with burning insured property, Jacob Seidenberg pleaded not guilty yesterday before Judge Reeve and his trial was set for December 16. Seidenberg was asserted to have plotted to burn a building at 2445 Fairmont street in an attempt to defraud an insurance company. According to officers who investigated the case, several horses which were insured and stabled in the building were found to have been covered with kerosene as part of the asserted plot.

GIRL HELD AS LINK IN VICE CASE

Dismissal on Charge of Burglary Over Fur Coat Followed by Rearrest

After an investigation instituted at the request of the Sheriff of Globe, Ariz., Department of Justice officials yesterday arrested Mrs. Ada Wightman, 21 years of age, and G. J. McClellan as material witnesses and defendant, respectively, in a Mann Act accusation.

Mrs. Wightman, a former employee of a skating rink here, was held in the City Jail early in the week on a burglary charge over a $1500 fur coat she was wearing. This charge was dismissed and she was immediately taken into custody with McClellan.

At the United States Marshal's office yesterday Mrs. Wightman vehemently denied that McClellan sent her the money to come to Los Angeles on December 15, 1924. She admitted being friendly with him in Casa Grande, Ariz., and Globe and in Los Angeles.

McClellan's bond, after arraignment yesterday morning before United States Commissioner Turney, was set at $3500, an unusually high bail for such cases, but one that was requested by the Department of Justice, agents for which declared the Wightman case was one of aggravated vice.

Both Mrs. Wightman and McClellan are married. Mrs. Wightman does not know the present whereabouts of her husband.

Court Gallery Disappointed by Screen Actress

A $12.50 taxicab bill yesterday almost brought Jetta Goudal, film actress, of the Ambassador, before Justice Blake, but, to the disappointment of Courthouse fans, her appearance was not necessary.

JETTA GOUDAL

W. D. Cornish of Culver City, who brought suit for the bill against the actress in the Small Claims Court telephoned shortly before the case was to be called to dismiss the complaint, indicating a settlement out of court.

Love Balm Suit Case Withdrawn on Compromise

Having failed to obtain a trial of the case after waiting several days, the suit for $100,000 damages brought by Ora Herbert King against Earl O. Stice for asserted alienation of the affections of Mrs. Frances Agnes King was compromised by the litigants and a dismissal of the action was entered yesterday in Judge Monroe's court. Both the plaintiff and defendant in the suit are plumbing supply dealers and reside in the Eagle Rock section.

King charged Stice with stealing the love of Mrs. King, asserting that Stice poisoned his wife's mind against him and represented him as being unworthy of her.

In an answer Stice filed to the suit he denied the charges made by King and asserted there was no love for him to steal.

MILLIONAIRE DENIES WIFE RUSE VICTIM

Husband Says Tale of Being Tricked Into Compromising Situation is False

A categorical denial of the sensational story of his former wife, Mrs. Kitty Meyer, that he had tricked her into a compromising situation with George Keller, was filed yesterday before Judge Shaw by J. Meyer, South Pasadena millionaire. The case came up on Mrs. Meyer's demand for alimony, counsel fee and money with which to obtain evidence. Judge Shaw reserved decision.

Mrs. Meyer brought suit to set aside deeds for community property worth several hundred thousand dollars she declared she signed under a misapprehension, thinking them an agreement for her to be granted a divorce and a property settlement.

In his answer and in affidavits filed yesterday Meyer asserted this story was concocted by Mrs. Meyer to obtain publicity for herself; he declared she introduced him to Keller and urged him to take Keller into his business, and that when he discovered her asserted relations with Keller she declared the man her childhood sweetheart, and said it would kill her to live with her husband another six months. Mrs. Meyer, he said, understood all the arrangements perfectly, and was satisfied at the time the disputed papers were signed.

SUSPECT IN TAG FIXING NOW IN FIX

Pleads Not Guilty Before Court as Embezzler for Asserted Squaring Deal

Arraigned on a charge of vagrancy involving asserted representations that he could "fix things" for recipients of traffic tags, Robert Alvarado, 27 years of age, 6137½ York Boulevard, pleaded not guilty in Police Judge Richardson's court yesterday. He also pleaded not guilty to a petty embezzlement charge brought by Mrs. Sarah J. Houghey of San Gabriel, involving $15.

Harry Henderson, bailiff in Judge Richardson's court, was the complainant against Alvarado on the vagrancy charge. Henderson declared that the defendant often hung around the court, and asserted that he had accepted a tag from J. R. Lyle on payment of $15, representing himself as a friend of Judge Richardson, and saying that otherwise a fine of $25 or $35 was probable.

Judge Richardson fixed bail at $500 on each charge. He took the occasion to remark that anyone found guilty of posing as a tag "fixer" or go-between in court matters would be given the limit of the law.

SEA WARRIORS ASSEMBLE

Three Dreadnaughts of Pacific Battle Fleet Due in Port During Today

Man-o'-War Row at the port will assume its war-like appearance today, when three of the seven dreadnaughts return to the base after two weeks in San Francisco. They will be followed tomorrow by the U.S.S. Pennsylvania, temporary flagship of the Battle Fleet, which has also been on San Francisco Bay this week.

Returning today will be the U.S.S. Tennessee, U.S.S. Maryland and U.S.S. Colorado, all of Battleship Division Five. The Tennessee and Maryland, having just come off drydock at Hunter's Point, will conduct their annual full-power runs en route, while the Colorado will proceed independently.

The Maryland, when she enters port today, will be flying the three-starred flag of Vice-Admiral Richard H. Jackson, commanding the battleship divisions. The West Virginia, regular dreadnaught squadron flagship, is en route to the Puget Sound Navy Yard for annual overhaul and during her absence the Maryland will be squadron flagship.

The fleet, as based on this port, virtually will have three commanders within the twenty-four hours ending tomorrow. This morning Rear-Admiral George R. Marvell, commanding the base force, is the senior officer present. A few hours later his flagship, the U.S.S. Procyon, will salute Vice-Admiral Jackson, returning on the Maryland, while tomorrow the Maryland will in turn salute Admiral Charles F. Hughes, Commander-in-Chief of the battle fleet, returning aboard the U.S.S. Pennsylvania.

The U.S.S. Oklahoma, which has been at the Puget Sound Navy Yard undergoing overhauling for two months, will sail for this base this morning, arriving on the 11th inst. The U.S.S. California, also at Puget Sound, will not return here until December 2, while the U.S.S. West Virginia, arriving at the yard today, will not rejoin the fleet here until January 15, 1926.

Two other units of the battleship divisions will go to the Puget Sound Navy Yard for overhauling before the end of the year. They are the U.S.S. Mississippi, departing on December 4, and the U.S.S. Nevada, sailing north on January 2. Under existing schedules the Nevada will not accompany the battle fleet south for its winter maneuvers at Panama.

MENACED WOMAN ASKS AID

Deputies Seek Writer of Threatening Letter After Requests for Protection of Officers

Culminating a series of asserted attempts to have her arrested on trumped-up charges, Mrs. Lydia Hilton, 45 years of age, of 6715 Holmes avenue, near Huntington Park, yesterday asked the Sheriff's office for protection and was preparing to move after receiving a threatening letter ordering her and her two daughters out of the neighborhood.

Mrs. Hilton, who only recently purchased the home in which she is living, turned the letter, which she received through the mails, to Deputy Sheriffs Stensland and Blaisdel, who are seeking the writer.

MENACING LETTER

The letter reads:

"You move or be put out in ten days by a hand stronger than yours, if you care for your girls' lives.

[Signed]

"A party, who means business, who will put you out."

It is the belief of Stensland and Blaisdel that Mrs. Hilton's threatener is some person who is seeking to gain control of her home by frightening her out of the neighborhood to be able to purchase the property at a low figure.

Mrs. Hilton was in a hysterical condition when the officers arrived at her home and already had put out a "For Rent" sign and was preparing to leave the neighborhood. She was advised not to pay any attention to the letter and to take down the sign from in front of the house. She has two daughters, Grace, 10, and Hannah, 18.

ACCUSER SOUGHT

Stensland and Blaisdel are now hunting the person who sent in recently to the Sheriff's office and to Capt. Bond, in charge of the county liquor squad, reports that Mrs. Hilton was breaking the law.

The first report was that she was attempting to burn down her home. An investigation was promptly made and it was found Mrs. Hilton was only burning rubbish in an incinerator. Later a report was made to Capt. Bond Mrs. Hilton was operating a still, but this proved unfounded.

Proprietor of Mecca Buffet Held in Dry Raid

A fourth arrest at the Mecca Buffet, Seventh and Maple streets, yesterday by Federal prohibition agents resulted in the capture by Dep. U. S. Marshal Mangarina of Edward Cohn, asserted proprietor.

John E. Wheeler and John Dunn, employees, were taken into custody October 29, last, and John Bird, another worker, two days later on charges of possession and sale.

The arraignment of Wheeler and Dunn developed an investigation by Commissioner Turney into charges that prohibition agents were acting in collusion with bonding company representatives for liquor defendant business.

Mangarina was successful in arresting Cohn only after he had represented to one of the employees that he was in the market for the business. Cohn cautiously advanced into the cafe room and was nabbed by the waiting officer who had been, denied admittance to the rear quarters.

Cohn's bond of $2000 was furnished and he was freed.

CLUB INDORSES WORLD COURT

Friday Morning Votes for American Entry

Opinions of Diletantti in Travel Assailed

BY MYRA NYE

The Friday Morning Club at its meeting yesterday passed a resolution giving its "cordial approval" to the entrance of this nation into the World Court, Mrs. D. P. Clark presiding. Messages were sent to President Coolidge, William E. Borah, Frank B. Kellogg, Hiram Johnson and Samuel Shortridge to this effect and pledging the support of the members almost unanimously to the movement to have this act effective by December when Congress convenes.

"The World Court will act for the world as the Supreme Court for the States in settling affairs of dispute in a judicial way rather than by war," said Mrs. Seward Simons, speaking for the motion. Five of our presidents have approved it and counseled it. They are McKinley, Roosevelt, Harding, Wilson and Coolidge. To pass the resolution at this time is timely and opportune, she said, because it soon will be discussed widely in press, from platform and even from pulpits since it comes before Congress in December.

HITS DILETTANTI

Lyman Lloyd Bryson, A.M., author, lecturer and traveler having a wide knowledge of affairs and personalities, who was the speaker of the morning, said no better preface can be given to what he had to say, his subject being "The Average Citizen and Our Foreign Affairs," than this action of the club.

Mr. Bryson said that too much surface talk from travelers who have been in foreign countries a short time concerning the policies of different countries has conveyed wrong impressions as to our foreign relations.

"So to speak in terms of events is dangerous," said the speaker, who added that sources of information are almost without exception dangerous sources.

When we speak of France, we think in terms of Paris, he said. But France is an agricultural country. Nobody in Los Angeles thinks that New York City is the United States and yet New York has to do with the United States more than Paris has to do with France.

CENTURIES ON LAND

The questions of France are settled for the most part by the peasants who are by no means ignorant and illiterate as we are apt to think them. They have a passionate devotion to the soil which we cannot understand. More than a third of them have been working bits of land—father and son—for centuries. It was found lately that one little bit of land has thus been worked since 920 and there are more than 100,000 such farms that date back in the same possession since the twelfth century.

In England the exact opposite is the case, said Mr. Bryson. When the English soldier left he left his job. When the French soldier left he left his land. France argues that when she was beaten by the Germans in 1876 she paid reparation. Now she argues that having been beaten, Germany should pay likewise. But if Germany should pay it would only cancel the interest on the debt that France owes her own people. But England cares more for a market for her wares. That market is Germany. So the desires of England and France are in conflict and this must be taken into account in settling problems of the war.

The speaker intimately and accurately reviewed the problems of other European countries and reached the conclusion that the World Court is a solution to many of them, and the entrance of the United States necessary to a more perfect solution.

NEWS OF THE CAFES

The La Mision Cafe, a new unique Mexican and Spanish restaurant at 132 South Spring street, opened its doors to the public on Thursday evening.

The new cafe, which accommodates approximately 100 persons, was entirely reserved for the opening event several days in advance.

The decorating and all of the interior work in the La Mision was accomplished entirely by Mexican or Spanish labor.

This is the second La Mision cafe to be opened here by the operators of the new restaurant, in that the first La Mision cafe at 148 North Spring street has been open for several years and will continue to be operated in conjunction with the new La Mision, both to be under the same management.

Harry Owens, composer and musician, and his jazz orchestra, will make their initial bow to Miller's cafe Lafayette patrons in that restaurant Thursday evening.

Owens was given a free hand when organizing his orchestra in order that he might procure the pick of musical talent.

Harry Miller states that a number of reservations have been made for Thursday evening by prominent cinema persons.

Jerry Strayer of the Vernon Country Club is planning now to accommodate the crowds of merry-makers who will visit "The One Bright Spot" on Armistice night—Wednesday evening.

The Europa Cafe at 738 South Main street is rapidly gaining many new patrons who enjoy Italian and French cooking. S. Mazzatti is the proprietor of that popular downtown restaurant.

Many theater first-nighters attending the premiere of "The Big Parade" at Grauman's Egyptian and dancing enthusiasts who were present at the opening of the Hollywood roof, both events of the same evening, celebrated with midnight suppers and post-midnight breakfasts at Klemtner's Blue Plate in the Hollywood Plaza Hotel Thursday night. Special Blue Plate combinations of sea food, fowl and game were served under the personal supervision of Mrs. Michael Klemtner and James Wolfson, the proprietors. Since its recent opening the Klemptner Cafe in Hollywood, under the same management as the Marine Yacht in Los Angeles, has built up an extensive patronage with film celebrities and executives.

With New Year's eve almost two months away, reservations have already started to pour in on Ward McFadden at the Ship cafe for parties on that occasion. The Ship has always been the scene of gay festivities to usher in the New Year, and this year McFadden announces he is making plans for the event to be even more pretentious than ever before. He has also a heavy reservation list for Armistice eve and Armistice night. On both occasions patriotic ceremonies will be staged with Walter Lyon and his orchestra featuring martial music in foxtrot time.

Charles Wagoner, formerly manager of Herbert's in this city, and Steve Krahl, also of Los Angeles, announce the formal opening of the Chancellor cafe and grill in the Chancellor Hotel in West Seventh street at 7 o'clock this evening.

The cafe and grill will be directly under the supervision of Messrs. Wagoner and Krahl, and excellent food and high-class service are promised.

A new tray service will be introduced by that cafe and grill by which it will be possible to call that restaurant by telephone, requesting meals to be immediately sent to your home, guaranteed to be "hot and crisp."

RAITT RAISES SERVICE ISSUE

Asks Opinion of Stephens in Belief Old Charter Status Still Prevents Dismissal

A legal opinion on the question of whether the Board of Playground and Recreation Commissioners has the power to remove Charles B. CITY BEAUTY IMPORTANCE EMPHASIZED

Insurance Man Back from East Urges Program With That Aim be Adopted

The importance of beautifying Los Angeles hand-in-hand with the Major Traffic Plan and other great civic projects to make this city one of the most attractive in the West to the tourist and homeseeker was stressed yesterday by Allen T. Archer, head of an insurance brokerage firm, who made a study of city beautification during a business trip through the East and abroad from which he has just returned.

New York is accomplishing city beautification through the formation of improvement associations, while in certain sections of London the work is being done under the direction of the government, he said. Improvement associations, backed by property owners form one means by which the solution can be reached in Los Angeles, said Mr. Archer, who is president of the Allen T. Archer Company, insurance.

"Los Angeles must offer more than its climate to attract the tourist and therefore beautification should not be neglected," he said. "We need beautiful buildings, uniform, wide tree-lined thoroughfares, parks and other things of beauty.

"Many important cities in America and Europe are now engaged in programs, costing millions of dollars, simply for beautifying their cities. With a little foresight Los Angeles can save a future expenditure of millions by looking to this subject now, along with the important civic projects, instead of when it is too late."

LARGE GAIN IN HAWAIIAN CRUISE LISTS

City of Los Angeles to Carry Third More Than for Year Ago

The S.S. City of Los Angeles will sail from her Wilmington dock for Honolulu at noon today with 140 passengers comprising people drawn from many states of the Union but chiefly Californians who are going to Hawaii for the three weeks' round trip from Los Angeles.

Today's passenger list shows an increase of 33 1-3 per cent over the same vessel to Hawaii last year, according to R. F. Cullen, general passenger agent for the Los Angeles Steamship Company, who attributes the increase to the growth in popularity of the trip to Hawaii through this port, the Southern California gateway.

For the December 5 sailing of the City of Los Angeles, Cullen states that a large number of reservations are being made for the round trip returning to Wilmington December 25. The especially attractive feature of the December trip will be the novelty and charm of spending Christmas Eve aboard a big liner at sea. The passengers will reach Los Angeles Christmas morning. Christmas holiday trade will form a substantial part of the cargo tonnage to be carried by the liner today.

Pair Arraigned on Charges of Defrauding City

Clifford Evans, former purchasing agent of the Board of Education, and Forrest H. Gillespie, furniture manufacturer, who are charged with having defrauded the city of $3500 in a number of fraudulent transactions, were arraigned yesterday before Judge Hahn of the Superior Court. They will plead to the charges next Friday, the 13th inst.

It is charged that Evans conspired with Gillespie to buy furniture for the schools at prices greatly in excess of those prevailing on the open market and that the two men split the proceeds thus obtained.

Ends Life With Request Burial be Quiet Affair

The body of Phillip Ernest, 55 years of age, a shoemaker, was found in his room at 3905 1-2 South Vernont avenue yesterday. He had slashed his throat and arms.

He left a note, saying, "Please do away with me as quietly as possible," and expressing the wish that his wife and child, from whom he was separated, be not informed of his act.

The body was taken to the Alvarez & Moore Undertaking Company.

YOUTHS ACCUSED OF MOLESTING WOMAN

Asserted to have become intoxicated and to have molested Mrs. Orville Jonas of 728 North Avenue 63, Ivan Beilman, 17 years of age, and George Rogers, 17, were charged with disturbing the peace in petitions filed yesterday in Judge Archbald's Juvenile Court. Mrs. Jonas told juvenile authorities that one of the boys jumped at her from behind a bush and frightened her. She called the police with the result that the youths were placed under arrest. Later the boys were turned over to their parents pending hearing on the court petitions and in the meantime officers launched an investigation to determine the source from which the boys were said to have obtained liquor.

FRIGIDAIRE STORE HERE IN OPENING

Larger Quarters Obtained for Delco Light Company Seventh Street Agency

BY OLIVE GRAY

When is ice colder than ice? When it is created by the interesting process known as Frigidaire. At least, such was the statement made when, during the opening yesterday of the newly extended shop of the Delco Light Company at 1518 West Seventh street, explanations of the system were given and demonstrations made to those visiting the new home of the Delco Light Company.

Examples of this refrigerating system were embodied in boxes of various sizes, from those intended for use in the small home to the multiple system installed in apartment-houses and hotels.

It is stated this system not only safely preserves all foods for a great length of time, but that there is actual saving in the ice bill. It was shown how, by the plan of ice-making in small drawers, while the refrigerator is maintained at as low a temperature as is consistent with preservation, the always-ready cubes of this much-wanted commodity make for convenience, and how also frozen dainties may easily be compounded in the home.

By the plan of installing the system of six refrigerators in connection with a single engine, the trouble so often encountered where all such plants are in one may be avoided, and the service rendered in keeping such plants in order, were interestingly set forth.

A product of the General Motors Company, Frigidaire is made by the Delco Light Company of Dayton. The exclusive agency in Los Angeles is at 1518 West Seventh street. Ivan L. De Jongh is the manager here. The opening of the shop, celebrating the doubling of space and equipment, extended throughout Friday and will also be continued on Saturday until 10 p.m.

EVOLUTION ROW BRINGS COMPLAINT

Reverberations of the Dayton trial were heard in the office of Deputy City Prosecutor Lindsey yesterday when James Merry, who gave his address as the Bible Institute, swore out a battery complaint against Mrs. Grace V. Roser of Inglewood, who is said to write under the pen name of Queen Silver.

Mrs. Roser is accused of wrapping an automobile chain around Merry's neck while he was addressing a religious meeting at the Plaza, Sunday, October 25, last.

Merry, it is said, was attacking the contents of an evolution pamphlet written by Queen Silver when Mrs. Roser entered, flung an auto chain around his neck, and, it is asserted, declared that she would be justified in killing him.

She accused him, it is charged, of stealing the pamphlet and making derogatory remarks about her daughter. Partisans of both became excited, according to reports, and it took the police to restore order.

Plans for Golf Tourney Draw Experts' Praise

More than 200 members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, at a luncheon given at the new Chamber of Commerce Building yesterday, were congratulated and thanked by Willie Hunter, noted golfer, for the splendid work being accomplished by the junior chamber and especially for the splendid way in which that organization is handling the details of the $10,000 open golf championship tournament to be conducted here January 7, 8, 9 and 10.

"Not only the professional golfers, but every lover of the game, and Los Angeles people generally appreciate the spirit in which the junior chamber is acting in regard to the great event," said Hunter. "This is the largest purse ever offered in the history of golf, and the hundreds of articles being printed in the eastern papers and magazines have awakened the interest of golf lovers all over the country. We may expect to entertain thousands of guests in January as a result of this fine advertising."

Suicide's Will Cuts Off Wife After Divorce

Stating that he had disinherited his wife, Mrs. Cecile B. Springer, because she had brought divorce proceedings against him and left him, the will of Frank B. Springer, filed for probate yesterday, bequeathed his entire estate to Etta Sturges Blessing, described in the document as a friend. A petition accompanying the will estimated the estate at $50,000.

Springer, according to Attorney Edgar L. Martin, who filed the will, committed suicide October 11, last, by slashing his wrist, taking poison and jumpng into the ocean.

Divorce records show that Mrs. Springer was granted a divorce on May 28, last, by Judge Gates, and a property settlement is on file in which she waived all claim against him.

ALUMNI TO FOLLOW GAME

The University of Chicago Alumni Association of Southern California will receive complete reports of the Chicago-Illinois game over a private wire this afternoon at the University Club. A luncheon will be served at noon. Alumni of Chicago and Illinois and their friends are invited.

NEW STAR HERE

HAZEL MILLER ARRIVES TO PLAY MAJESTIC

By Grace Kingsley

A new leading lady at the Majestic is always a matter of deep interest to the matinee girls and boys, and I can assure them that they are going to find Hazel Miller charming. She has just arrived from New York, but is hardly to be given a breathing spell before beginning rehearsals opposite Edward Everett Horton in "Cock of the Roost," Rida Johnson Young's new comedy which is to open at the Majestic on Sunday afternoon, the 15th inst. "To the Ladies" will remain one more week.

HAZEL MILLER

Hazel Miller was engaged for the Majestic by Michael Corper on his recent trip to New York where he went in search of suitable comedy vehicles for Horton. On seeing her there in the leading feminine role opposite Lionel Atwell in a play, Corper at once engaged her for his house. Miss Miller has appeared in New York under the management of the Shuberts, Comstock and Gest and David Belasco.

She has just recently spent two years in Europe, where she admits to having been vastly entertained by the attractions of Monte Carlo, Auteuil, Longchamps and Deauville.

No, she isn't married, but when asked about the story printed in the East as to the ardent attentions while she was abroad, of a young millionaire of Buenos Aires, she blushed and admitted that there was such a person, but just begged us not to mention his name; so, with what we consider admirable self-control, we are keeping our word.

Miss Miller has large dark brown eyes, bobbed brown hair and a lovely, rich voice. Incidentally, she is a great friend of Mary Newcomb, former leading lady of the Majestic, now a Broadway star.

She thinks American stage productions are the equal of any in Europe with the exception of the English stage.

"But we must take off our hats to European actors," she declared. "It only needed the Moscow Art Theater to show us how far our stage has departed from the old standards of acting, which demanded the submergence of individual personality in the role assumed by the actor, instead of exaltation of type practiced more and more on the American stage."

JANET GAYNOR SIGNS FOR BIG FOX SPECIAL

Even though William Fox has been spending a lot of time and money of late on the purchase of plays and novels for his 1926 production program, he isn't overlooking any bets when it comes to signing up promising new screen talent.

JANET GAYNOR

According to an announcement emanating from the Fox studio yesterday, that organization has signed Janet Gaynor for the sympathetic feminine role in "The Johnstown Flood," one of the largest picture on next year's so largest pictures on next year's schedule. Miss Gaynor has been in the films less than a year, and during the last few months has been in stock at Universal, where she played leads in a series of western comedies.

Her big chance came a few days ago, when she was given a screen test by Irving Cummings, who is to direct "The Johnstown Flood." I don't know whether it was supposed to have any subtle connection with the flood episode, but Cummings insisted that Miss Gaynor weep copiously before the cameras. The tears were forthcoming to a highly satisfactory degree—for the director—with the result that the diminutive actress was signed for the part without further ado.

Production of "The Johnstown Flood" is scheduled to begin next week. The company will leave for Santa Cruz for some of the location scenes, and will later journey to Sonora.

George O'Brien is cast for the male lead, with Florence Gilbert playing opposite. The supporting players include Anders Randolf, Paul Nicholson, Walter Perry, Paul Panzer, Max Davidson, Georgie Harris and Sid Jordan. The story is the work of Edfrid Bingham and Robert Lord.

Neely Edwards Star Soon

Neely Edwards yesterday signed a contract to essay a featured role in a five-reel comedy to be produced by Joe Rock, and before the day was over had entered into negotiations with a prominent producer regarding a three-year contract to be starred in comedy-dramas. From a reliable source it was learned that this funster had agreed to all the terms, excepting the selection of stories, which he desires to supervise.

NEELY EDWARDS

Snowy Baker Writes

An interesting letter from Snowy Baker reaches us from the far-off Antipodes. It has to do with the activities of Pauline Frederick, who went to Australia many months ago to appear in "Spring Cleaning" and other plays, and with the players of her company.

"Pauline Frederick is at present in New Zealand," writes Mr. Baker, "completing an eight months' successful tour of Australia and Maoriland. We are playing 'Spring Cleaning.' There are four more weeks to run in the several big towns of these islands. The popular star, accompanied by part of the American cast and by Mrs. Baker and myself, will sail from Wellington, N. Z., on the 10th inst., aboard the S.S. Tahiti, reaching San Francisco the 27th inst.

"June Elvidge, Charles Coleman and George Barraud, who came to Australia from Los Angeles as part of the original cast, are remaining in Australia, having been signed by J. C. Williamson, Ltd., for work in other plays."

Denison Clift, Playwright

Denison Clift, author and director, has turned playwright and reports having sold a play called "The New Earth" to A. H. Woods, New York producer, who will stage the drama next fall.

DENISON CLIFT

It was while visiting Verdun three years ago that Cliff got the inspiration for the drama, and the great scene of the play is a ruined Gothic cathedral near La Harpe, in France.

Air Service Men to Hold Frolic at Loew's State

With twenty-five acts from downtown theaters and Hollywood studios, plans are being formed here by Clover Field Air Service officers for staging a midnight frolic and revue in Loew's State Theater as a sequel to the Armistice Day Sky Carnival to be given November 11 at the aviation field.

Proceeds from the midnight event, as well as from the air carnival, will be devoted to the United States Army relief fund, according to Lieutenant Horace S. Kenyon, Jr., commanding officer of the flying post.

Fred Niblo will act as master of ceremonies, it is said. The program now is in process of being formed. Lieutenant Floyd A. Wilson has been placed in direct charge of the theater event.

All of the acts will bestow their services gratis, it is announced, and the playhouse is to be furnished through courtesy of West Coast theaters' company. Wartime atmosphere and military flavor will be the dominant note throughout the midnight frolic, according to Wilson.

Appearing in New Morosco Comedy

Charlotte Treadway,
Leading lady of "Strange Bedfellows," opening tomorrow matinee at the Morosco.

New Goldwyn Discovery Here for Leading Role

Chalk up another discovery to the credit of Samuel Goldwyn. This time it is Betty Jewel, who has just arrived from New York to play the ingenue lead in that producer's "Partners Again—with Potash and Perlmutter" in course of production by Henry King.

BETTY JEWEL

Although "shooting" has been under way some three weeks, no leading lady of the proper type had been found. Frantically the director and his staff were searching for the right girl, while Samuel Goldwyn, in New York, was also seeking a leading lady for this latest Potash and Perlmutter production from the Montague Glass stage success.

The other evening, while viewing a new production, Mr. Goldwyn saw Miss Jewel's work. He immediately, although it was midnight, called his agent and next morning at 9 o'clock Miss Jewel had signed the contract and was speeding toward the Twentieth Century en route to Hollywood.

Fox Star Signs New Contract With Producer

As the result of her success in "Havoc," "Wages for Wives" and other current productions, Fox Films has renewed the contract of Margaret Livingston, according to an announcement by Sol M. Wurtzel, superintendent of the Fox Studios. An optional clause in Miss Livingston's present agreement was taken up by Fox two months before the expiration of the contract.

Miss Livingston is now working in the Fox screen version of John Golden's stage hit, "The First Year," directed by Frank Borzage. In two weeks she will start the feature role in "A Trip to Chinatown," the flirtatious widow of Charles A. Hoyt's creation, said to be the best part ever written for a woman on the stage.

PENNSYLVANIANS FOR DANCE

Tonight the famous Waring's Pennsylvanians make their initial bow in Los Angeles as a dance orchestra when they play at El Patio ballroom, Vermont and Third street. The Pennsylvanians have been the featured stage attraction at the Metropolitan and Million Dollar theaters during the past few weeks, and have become very popular. The opportunity of dancing to their music tonight at El Patio is the only one that the dance lovers of this city will have before they leave on an extended tour of the East.

"Spanking Breezes" is the name of the latest Mack Sennett short subject featuring Alice Day. Many of the scenes in this comedy were made aboard Sennett's private yacht. The dainty Alice proved herself an able seaman.

Edna Mae Cooper has returned from San Juan Capistrano where she went for a few days' rest and is back again at the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios where she is playing the part of Maggie, the servant girl, in "Sally, Irene and Mary," which is being directed by Edmond Goulding.

MUSICAL

SCRIABIN "POEME" PROVES UNUSUAL

By Edwin Schallert

The first playing here of Scriabin's "Le Poeme de l'Extase" and the appearance of Felix Salmond, 'cellist, as soloist, shared attention as features of the second concert of the Philharmonic Orchestra yesterday afternoon.

"Le Poeme de l'Extase" met with appreciation because of its novelty, although opinion seemed somewhat divided as regarded the enjoyment derived from the work.

In any case, it was apparent that the majority of the large audience at Philharmonic Auditorium, felt that the presentation of this Scriabin creation for the orchestra was distinctly an achievement.

Admittedly, Scriabin has perhaps not actually attained realization in the composition. There is perhaps in it more of urge than of overwhelming inspiration.

"Le Poeme" is nevertheless a fervid and in many respects a masterful musical production, especially in its instrumentation. The composer exhibits the fine frenzy of the orchestral poet in his treatment of the idea. The far-flung vigor is something quite tremendous.

every sense—demands an augmented modern orchestra and calls for the most practically from each individual player in the huge ensemble.

The interpretation by Walter Henry Rothwell was one in which the musical rather than the spiritual or artistic elements were emphasized. The composition had a magnificence and massiveness of tonal effect, but it was deficient to some extent in the higher and more stimulating emotional sweep. One felt that some of the details might have been sacrificed for a more energetic effect, though it may be that only more familiarity with the "Le Poeme" can bring this fulfillment.

In any event, it was a satisfaction to hear this truly remarkable synchronization of sound.

Mr. Salmond has both charm and feeling in his 'cello playing, as well as poetic understanding. That he was not perfectly at ease was somewhat apparent, but his enthusiasm had an ingratiating quality.

His tone is very clear and clean, though not large and brilliant as is that of Pablo Casals, who still remains the primary favorite here as a 'cellist. It is a little too much to ask, of course, that Salmond should duplicate his success.

The mood of the second movement in the Dvorak Concerto particularly was lovely. The quiet smoothness of Mr. Salmond's sustained tones, the rather haunting sentiment with which he imbued his interpretation, and the generally excellent musicianship that he displayed brought him a marked tribute of approval.

Unfortunately neither the opening nor closing movements of the Concerto allowed him to obtain the best effect of climax. The final orchestra passages in both instances obtrude themselves rather too prominently, after the soloist has completed his part. Rothwell's accompaniment, while it might be termed on the whole acceptable, was not, perhaps, one of his more striking endeavors in this direction.

Brahms's "Tragic Overture" was the opening selection, and though academically inclined, was well received. The concert will be repeated tonight.

Studio AND Stage

Olive Ann Alcorn, who makes her Orpheum bow next week, has long hair—very long. Many times she has been asked to bob it, but she never would. And now the bob is becoming a bit passe, and she is glad she clung to her long and lovely tresses. "And a lot of other girls wish the same" she declares.

Eric B. Mayne, noted delineator of aristocratic roles on the screen, as well as a writer of considerable reputation, has been engaged for a role in "The Mocking Bird," Tod Browning's new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer story of London's Limehouse district, in which Lon Chaney is seen in a dual role. Mayne will play a British aristocrat who is enmeshed in the underworld plot that forms the central mystery of the story.

Reports from Chicago indicate that "Her Sister from Paris," the Constance Talmadge picture directed by Sidney Franklin, has broken all of the Windy City box office records. This marks a double bull's-eye hit for Franklin in one family, as "Smilin' Through," the Norma Talmadge opus of his direction, formerly held the Chicago box office record.

Inspired by the success which his recent effort, "Proud Heart," met in its initial showing in New York, Isadore Bernstein has started on his second vehicle and has tentatively titled it "Our Children." Formerly general manager of Universal studio, Bernstein forsook the picture realm for approximately two years to regain his health and only recently returned to Carl Laemmle's fold as an author.

Hallam Cooley is having a vacation between pictures of the "Helen and Warren" series at Fox. That is quite usual, but the rest of the story isn't. For Hal, instead of golfing at Del Monte or fishing at Catalina—at both of which sports he is expert—is spending the days taking prospective investors to Brentwood and selling them lots—at which he is also expert. Among his prospects this week were Lloyd Hughes, George Fitzmaurice and David Butler.

Joe Rock, well-known comedy producers, now in New York, sends home word that the demand for short subjects in general and two-part comedies in particular, is greater this season than ever before in the history of pictures. The little fun films, he avers, are no longer considered fillers by exhibitors but are accorded a prominent place on the programs of the better class theaters throughout the East. Rock will return to Hollywood next month following a series of conferences with F.B.O. officials, distributors of his product.
